PARK IMPROVEMENTS IN BACK BAY.

The Park Department are removing several old willow trees along the parkway between Richardson Bridge and outer Boylston street, Back Bay, in connection with the widening of the roadway at this point and the insertion of a central grass plot which is to divide the roadway for passage of traffic in either direction.

The improvement is to cost about $55,000, upon plans drawn by A. A. Shurtleff, the Park Department's landscape architect, and is deemed imperative by reason of the increasing number of accidents in this section, as well as for the reason that it is desirable from the point of view of uniformity of design in the layout of this part of the parkway.

The trees being taken down are infested with moths and bores. They will be replaced by European lindens, to be planted along the walk of the Fens proper, to the east of the road that is to be improved. They will be planted well back toward Muddy river, so as not to obstruct the vision of motorists on this curve, as the willows now sometimes do. The grass plot will be 20 feet in width.

engineers are under way for increasing depth of said main channel to 40 feet; waterfront (i. e., lineal pier space) 40 miles, 6 miles fronting on 30 feet depth at low water.

Commonwealth Pier No. 5, South Boston 1,200 feet long, 400 feet wide, accommodating five 600-foot ships at one time, 40 feet depth at mean low water on both sides, with three 2-story fire-proof buildings of steel and concrete construction, containing 900,000 square feet of floor space, total cost of this enterprise to State, $4,500,000. There are 32 foreign steamship lines with regular sailings to and from Boston and 18 coastwise lines (5 to Pacific ports). In 1915 a revision of the harbor lines was made and the project undertaken whereby 600 acres of flats between Governor's Island and Jeffries Pt., will be filled in and used for extensive commercial developments under State control. About 175 acres of flats have recently been filled in and added to the land area of East Boston and 160 acres to that of South Boston.

In April, 1918, the Government decided to establish its Army Supply Base on a portion of the Commonwealth lands in South Boston. About 57.6 acres were purchased from the State, the price being $1,317,510, soon followed by the construction of two pier sheds, each 920 feet long, a wharf shed and other buildings, including one of the largest storehouses in the world, built of reinforced concrete, eight stories high, 1,638 feet long, 126 feet wide and with floor space of over 1,650,000 square feet. The total outlay for the plant was $26,000,000.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL IN EAST BOSTON.

Coun. DONOVAN offered the following:

Ordered, That chapter 259 of the Acts of 1926, entitled "An Act Authorizing the City of Boston to Borrow Money for the Purpose of Constructing a Pumping Station and Outlet for Sewage Disposal in East Boston," be and the same hereby is accepted.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I believe in asking the Council to accept this act I should briefly explain what is meant by it. We have rather a unique situation over in East Boston, due to the fact that the filling in of the flats of East Boston have closed up the outlet of our sewer system there, with the result that the water has for some time backed up into the houses. That is a thing that has been going on for the thirty years that I have been familiar with the district. We have also found out during this last year that several sewers have been emptying right out on to our bathing beach, the report of the Health Department of the city proving that there is more contamination and pollution of the waters in that district than in any other section of the City of Boston. The first week in January I filed this bill in the Legislature, asking permission to borrow $650,000 outside of the debt limit of the city for this purpose. The House passed it, the Senate passed it, and the Governor signed it last Friday at 3 o'clock. The Finance Commission of the City of Boston has investigated the matter and has come to the conclusion that it is a thing that has got to be done, that the city will have to order this improvement, if not this year certainly eventually, undoubtedly next year, and this year seems to be the opportune time to put through this great improvement for East Boston. So, in asking the Council to pass the order, I have briefly outlined what it calls for.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

CONDITION OF SUFFOLK COUNTY COURTHOUSE.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on County Accounts be instructed to investigate the overcrowded conditions of the Suffolk County Courthouse, and that they be authorized to hold public hearings and report to the City Council their conclusions as to what relief should be suggested as relates to the overcrowding of the present Suffolk County Courthouse in Pemberton square.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SIDEWALK ON SUMNER STREET.

Coun. LYNCH offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Sumner street (both sides), from Columbia road to Stoughton streets, Wards 7 and 18, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RESURFACING WAVERLY AND PERRIN STREETS.

Coun. BUSH offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving, Waverly street and Perrin street, Ward 12.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

HIGH PRESSURE SYSTEM, ELM HILL SECTION.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit to the City Council an estimate of the cost of the installation of a high pressure water system in the Elm Hill section of Roxbury.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BRANCH LIBRARY, FRANKLIN PARK.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Library Trustees to establish a branch library in the Refectory Building at Franklin Park.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. McMAHON the Council voted at 2.18 p. m. to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

The members reassembled in the Council Chamber at 4.20 p. m. and were called to order by President KEENE.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. DOWLING, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Reports on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, that leave be granted, viz.:

Cecile A. Mara, Jordan Hall, May 22.

Mildred M. V. Nichols, St. Francis de Sales Hall, May 9.

Marion Hennessy, Jordan Hall, May 26.

Reports accepted; licenses granted on the usual conditions.

2. Report on order (referred today) instructing the Committee on County Accounts to investigate the overcrowded conditions of Suffolk County Courthouse, authorizing them to hold public hearings and report to the City Council their conclusions—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on list of constables submitted by the Mayor, as printed in Document 49 (referred April 12),—that the same be approved, subject to whatever objection may be raised.

The report was accepted, and the question came on confirmation of the appointments.

On motion of Coun. DOWD, it was voted that the name of John H. Brady be laid upon the table.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, in view of the fact that one of the gentlemen whose names appear here is now being tried in one of the courts for violation of the federal laws, I move that his name be laid upon the table.—Hugh Wyllie.

It was voted that the name of Hugh Wyllie be laid upon the table.

On motion of Coun. GREEN, it was voted that the name of John J. Buckley be laid upon the table.

On motion of Coun. HEFFERNAN, it was voted that the name of Jeremiah A. Twomey be laid upon the table.

The question came on confirmation of the other names, omitting those above laid on the table. Committee to receive, sort and count votes, Coun. Heffernan and Guild. Whole number of votes, 20; yeas 19, nays 1, and the appointments were confirmed.

COMMITTEE ON PORT OF BOSTON.

Coun. ARNOLD, for the Committee on Rules, submitted a report on the order (referred April 12) amending the rules of the City Council so as to provide for a committee on the Port of Boston, to consist of five members of the Council—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

JITNEY LICENSES.

Coun. WRAGG, for the Special Committee on Jitney Licenses, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of Franklin L. Hart (referred April 5) for license to operate four motor vehicles from Park square through Charles street to West Boston Bridge (on route between Boston and Albany)—that a license be granted.

Report accepted; license granted on the usual conditions.

2. Report on petition of the Oakdale Community Garage and Bus Line (referred March 1) for license to operate four motor vehicles in the City of Boston, from Dedham to Hyde Park line on River street; River street to Cleary square, corner of River street and Hyde Park avenue, Hyde Park, and returning over same route, stopping at all intersecting streets—that the license be granted.

The question came on accepting the report and granting the license.

Coun. WRAGG—Mr. President, in view of the usual publicity given to this petition and the manner in which the remonstrants and the local press in my district have placed upon me the burden of deciding, through my committee, whether or not this license should be granted, I feel that, in order to make my position clear to my constituents, it is necessary for me to say a few words to support my action as councilor representing the district involved. As you may all know, there were three hearings held by the Jitney License Committee on this petition—two in City Hall, and a third one, a public hearing, held in the Municipal Building, Hyde Park, on the evening of April 9. Every conceivable consideration was given to the Pierce bus line to present to us good and sufficient reasons why this petition should not be granted, at the three hearings just referred to. We were under no obligation to extend the courtesy of a public hearing in order to justify our belief that the petition should be granted, and from the evidence presented at the public hearing in the Municipal Building we are still further convinced that we have made absolutely no mistake in asking this Council to ratify our action. The public hearing held in the Municipal Building on the evening of April 9 was not a representative hearing of the citizens of that district. It was what you might call a packed meeting in the interests of the Pierce Bus Lines, primarily, brought about through handbill advertising and by free bus service, with several of the Pierce Line buses picking up anyone they might find on the street corners or other places of gathering for a free ride to the Municipal Building to cheer for the Pierce Bus Lines. The official report, as recorded by the official reporter, Mr. Edward Harnden, will verify this statement, where the meeting was interrupted by cheers, cat calls and other demonstrations that were almost impossible to control from the chair, and it was almost impossible to obtain order when anything favorable to the petitioner was mentioned. Without going into this matter in detail, but simply as a matter of record, the petitioner presented a petition bearing 1,102 names. The Pierce Bus Lines presented a petition bearing 1,684 names. Both petitions, in order that we might be fair, were checked from the police lists, as of April 1, 1925, which was the only list available that we could check the residents from, and on the 1,102 names presented by the petitioner, 754, or 68.4 per cent, certified as living at the addresses given on the petition. Contrast that with the petition of 1,684 names by the Pierce Bus Lines—only 819, or 48.6 per cent, certified from this list. Thirty-four persons on the Pierce list signed their names more than once, and there were names on the petition of people from Jamaica Plain, Roxbury, Roslindale, Woburn, South Boston, Dorchester, Cambridge and Milton, who signed this petition, which has right at the head, "We, the undersigned residents of Hyde Park." Many of the signatures were of high school pupils, not of age. Several of the pages on the Pierce petition were written in the same handwriting, which would almost seem to indicate that someone had taken a directory of some sort and copied the names down, and did not show to the committee's satisfaction that it was a fair desire of the persons to sign the petition. Some of the speakers were accused of being financially or otherwise interested in the Pierce Bus Lines at the hearing, and this was not denied in the rebuttal by counsel for the Pierce Bus Line. The advertisement in the April 8 issue, page 8, of the Hyde Park Gazette-Times, appearing over the name of Fred W. Pierce, was in itself misleading, going even so far as to state that he was a resident of Hyde Park and paid taxes on his buses to the City of Boston. Upon cross examination at the hearing he stated that he was a resident of Walpole and is now a resident of Walpole, and pays only real estate taxes in the City of Boston. The granting of this petition to the Oakdale Community Garage and Bus Line does not take away the right of Mr. Pierce to operate, as he is at the present time, although the committee possesses sufficient evidence to revoke his license for not complying with the city ordinance regulating the operation of jitney buses. We have no desire to revoke his license, but I do believe, for the best interests of the citizens of my district, and especially of business people who want through service from Dedham to Hyde Park, in order that they might enjoy some of the business that is now going to other sections of Boston, that this petition should be granted. I do not believe that there is any member of this Council who knows this district or the needs of the district any better than I do, and, as it was said by Attorney Hennessey for the Pierce Bus Lines that he stood ready and willing to abide by the decision of this committee and that certain courtesies should be extended to the member of the locality under consideration, I am asking the members of the Council to extend to me their courtesy and vote that the petition ought to be granted.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, with all due deference to the argument advanced by the chairman of the Committee on Jitneys, I have in mind the hearing upon this same matter that occurred two years ago, with the controversy between Chamberlain and Pierce, and I cannot now help having the same thought I had then, that there is another possible solution to this problem. I would now suggest to the committee that they take the matter up with the Elevated, because if the Elevated will go in there it will eliminate the entire argument. People in Readville, residents of Boston, traveling the same distance, in coming into Boston have to pay 15 cents—a nickel to Pierce and 10 cents to the Elevated. I am therefore going to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Jitneys if it would not be feasible to try to force—I don't know that the use of the word "force" is a proper one, but to ask—the Elevated to go in there, thereby doing away with the entire argument that has arisen. That will then do away with the injustice to many who live and own property in Boston, who pay taxes to the City of Boston, as compared with others, and will eliminate this difficult situation that has been brewing and going on for the last four years.

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, I sat in at the Jitney hearings here and went out to the hearing in Hyde Park. The people there would like to have the Elevated, but they cannot get the Elevated to go any farther than Cleary square. The Elevated refuses to go beyond Cleary square and, as the chairman of the committee has already told you, the people of Hyde Park would probably be pretty well satisfied under the circumstances to have this bus line running from Cleary square to Dedham. I had in mind the thought that the last speaker has brought up, having the Elevated run lines out there to meet the situation. So I made it my business to inquire of the Elevated end of it and found that they are satisfied to continue running where they are now. From what I can find out, they will not run farther than Cleary square, because that is only a short distance from the Dedham line, and they cannot go beyond the line. The people there will be very well satisfied with the buses. The only objection that they have to the buses there now is that they are not getting the service they should. If Chamberlain puts his buses in, they will have two lines and will get good service. I hope the body this afternoon will pass favorably upon Chamberlain's bus petition.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, if the matter has already been taken up with the Elevated and they will not take any such action as I suggest, I am perfectly willing to withdraw my argument.

Coun. WRAGG—Mr. President, I might say a word in connection with that, too. At the last time when Mr. Dana was in the hall, I asked him if he would consider running a bus line from Cleary square to the Dedham line. He threw both hands in the air and said that he wouldn't have anything to do with it. It would not be giving the people what they want, anyway, and the Elevated could not go beyond the Dedham line. The people want through service.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, the granting of this petition apparently means the duplication of service over a particular route. I cannot see anything that is not pernicious in such a thing. It means a loss to Mr. Pierce and ultimately means a loss to the residents of Hyde Park and the district to be served, unless this Jitney committee is prepared to say that they will recommend the revocation of Mr. Pierce's license, so that there will not be this duplication of service and economic loss. Therefore I think Mr. Chamberlain's petition should be denied.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, speaking as a member of that committee, I don't think the situation that exists out there now is clear to the councilor on my right, who has just spoken. We have made, I think, a minute and careful study of the situation in Hyde Park. The present petitioner has a line in Dedham, and this petition, if granted, permits that line to come from Dedham into Hyde Park. Under the present system Chamberlain carries passengers to the Dedham line and then they must take the buses of Pierce to get to Cleary square. If this petition is granted, Chamberlain will be permitted to go to Cleary square and take passengers from Hyde Park through into Dedham, and vice versa. Your committee has given as careful study to this petition as was possible. We have had both Pierce and Chamberlain at hearings in the hall, and we have gone out to Hyde Park. Personally, I am convinced that this is absolutely a local matter, resting entirely with the councilor from that district, and I think it is our duty, as members of the Council, as well as I consider it to be the duty of the Jitney Committee, to be swayed by the arguments presented by the councilor from Ward 18 (Coun. Wragg) in whose district, and in whose district alone, this entire situation is to be dealt with. I think that the councilor has, with the Jitney Committee, given careful consideration to this petition. Mr. Pierce is not affected at all. This simply grants to the people of Hyde Park, under this petition, what they feel that they need, and I feel that they, through their councilor, are best able to judge what they want. We should, in deference to the councilor from that district as he has stated to us, vote that this petition be granted.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I cannot entirely understand Mr. Ruby's argument, wherein he says that Mr. Pierce will not be affected at all. If he were not to be affected at all, it is utterly inconceivable to me that he should go to a meeting in Hyde Park and protest, as I understand that he did. It is economic strangulation of one company by permitting another to come in and serve the public in this way that I object to. I think, unless the Jitney Committee has the backbone to stand up and say that the Pierce license should be revoked, it ought not to grant another license to another person operating over the same route.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, while not a member of the Jitney Committee, I had the pleasure of attending the public meeting in Hyde Park. With all due deference to the councilor from that district, I believe that we have to pass on matters pertaining to Jitneys as members of this body. Now, I would like to ask the member from Hyde Park a question—and he need not answer it if he does not care to do so—if he does not believe that public opinion ought to prevail in a matter of this sort? I should say that there were 1,500 people in the hall out there in Hyde Park that night, and that they were practically unanimously in favor of this petition. When the raising of hands was called for there was only one who was opposed. I would like to have our official stenographer verify that.

Coun. WRAGG—Mr. President, I shall be glad to answer the question. Certainly there were 1,500 people in the hall, but, as I said in my talk, it was a packed hearing for Pierce. It was not a representative meeting, and I think that will be borne out by the entire committee. It is borne out by others who were present at the meeting that night. If you would talk with the people out there generally, on the street corners or anywhere else, you can readily find out that it was a packed meeting for that night. Naturally, you can get a hall filled under those circumstances, if you try to.

President KEENE—Has Coun. Wragg answered the question satisfactorily to you?

Coun. DOWD—Perfectly, Mr. President.

The report was accepted, and the permit granted, Coun. DOWD stating that he desired to be recorded as voting "No."

LEASE TO OLD DORCHESTER POST NO. 65.

Coun. WILSON offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, and in form satisfactory to the Law Department, to execute a lease to Old Dorchester Post No. 65 of the American Legion, Department of Massachusetts, of one room, one entry and anteroom in the building situated on the southeasterly corner of Richmond street and Washington street in that part of Boston, formerly called Dorchester, for a term not exceeding five years, beginning May 1, 1926, at a rental of one dollar per year.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I may say that this is practically a duplication of the order originally presented by Coun. Gilbody June 22, 1925, for the letting of a building that has been vacant for some twelve years, on the corner of Washington and Richmond streets, Dorchester, to the American Legion Post.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, may I ask Coun. Wilson, through the Chair, whether he considers that this is a violation of section 8 of the city charter? (Laughter.)

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, Coun. Wilson does not care at the present time whether it is or is not a violation. (Laughter.)

The rule was suspended, and the order passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

CITY'S GOLF COURSE NOW DRAWING MANY ENTHUSIASTS TO FRANKLIN PARK.

PARK DEPARTMENT HAS INAUGURATED MANY IMPROVEMENTS UNDER ADVICE OF EXPERTS, WITH HAZARDS ENOUGH TO SATISFY ALL—COURSE OLDEST PUBLIC ONE IN COUNTRY.

BOSTON'S PUBLIC GOLF COURSE, OLDEST IN COUNTRY, ATTRACTING THOUSANDS OF LOVERS OF SPORT THESE SPRING DAYS.

Many improvements have been made on Boston's municipal golf course at Franklin Park by the Park Department and already this season several thousand golfers have been accommodated.

The course has come to its present shape by gradual development over a long term of years. A few years ago there were so many traps and hazards that the course was slowed up and some of them had to be eliminated to accommodate the increasingly large number of players. There are now enough natural hazards to satisfy most of the golfers of long experience.

Four of the greens in particular are worthy of the greatest praise—the seventh, of 545 yards, the drive being along a natural valley and the green being around the bend near the tennis courts; the eighth, a dog's leg, situated among clumps of trees on top of the hill; the water drive, with its vistas of greenery and sky, and the fifteenth, equally attractive.

The Park Department took the most expert advice on changes made this year. The first change is the relocation of the seventh green bringing it fifty yards nearer the street to eliminate any chances of injury from slicing; the eighth green has been enlarged and trapped on all sides to prevent the loss of the ball by drives into the woods; the ninth green has also been enlarged, making a beautiful pitch shot, and moved out from the trees so that it will be possible to maintain the grass with greater firmness; the fourteenth green, another dog's leg, has been carefully trapped on the edge of the pond to prevent balls from being driven into the pond or being carried into the water by slicing.

Moreover, the Park Department intends to change the contour of the twelfth green, by raising it so that when the ball is driven beyond it will not roll to the edge of the pond, and there are a number of other important changes in the mind of Deputy Commissioner Long, who is an enthusiastic golfer.

BUILDING RECORD FOR BOSTON ECLIPSED BY SHOWING OF APRIL.

COMMISSIONER LOUIS K. ROURKE HAS ISSUED PERMITS FOR $9,500,000 OF CONSTRUCTION WORK FOR MONTH.

Louis K. Rourke, Commissioner of the Building Department, states that he has issued permits calling for construction or reconstruction at a total cost of $9,500,000.

Mr. Rourke states all previous records for building permits in the City of Boston were thus eclipsed during the month of April.

The nearest approach to the total for April of this year was in April of 1922, when post-war building operations were at their height. The total of permits issued that month was $8,500,000. In April, 1924 and 1925, the permits were about $6,000,000 each and in April, 1923, $5,000,000.

The records show that the $9,500,000 April total represents a larger volume of garage construction than of new dwellings. The sum of $2,157,000 was involved in the construction of 132 public and private garages for which permits were issued. Against this is the total of $1,434,000 involved in the erection of various types of new dwellings—198 single, double and three-apartment buildings costing $1,188,000, six apartment houses costing $131,000 and two rooming houses costing $115,000.

In office building construction items, that of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, at Columbus avenue and Stuart street, costing $1,600,000, was the largest. Permits were issued for the erection of thirty-six mercantile buildings, to cost $761,000. Permits were issued in April for two private schools to cost $265,000, and for one church edifice, costing $175,000.

Most of these structures will be built within a year, and all, save the church property, will come under city taxation by April, 1927.

BOSTON'S 104TH ANNIVERSARY.

Mayor Nichols issued the following proclamation in honor of the incorporation of the City of Boston, upon the 1st instant:

"Today will represent the 104th anniversary of the organization of Boston as a city.

"I respectfully urge the observation of this anniversary by the flying of the national colors on all public and private buildings, that we may come to a more complete realization of our public duties and a broader recognition of the worth of character in our citizenship."

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

THE COMEAU PENSION BILL.

The Committee on Pensions of the Massachusetts Legislature has reported a measure providing that the City of Boston pay a pension of $100 per month to the widow of Police Officer Frank J. Comeau at the next annual session, following a hearing upon the proposed legislation. This action was taken because there is under consideration a general bill providing that the widow or dependents of any officer killed in line of duty would receive a pension equal to his salary, so that the family can go on living as though his death had not occurred.

During the hearing on the measure it was pointed out that the widow in question has more than enough to carry her through the coming year, and that the whole matter either would be settled by the general bill now pending or else could be taken up next year. The general attitude seems to be opposed to the principle of special pension bills, but popular sentiment undoubtedly would favor general legislation.

The measure providing for a pension for Mrs. Comeau was filed by Senator John W. McCormack of Boston. During the hearing Wilfred J. Doyle, assistant city clerk of the City of Boston, explained that the City Council has already voted to Mrs. Comeau the statutory pension of $600 per year, and that a resolution giving her $2,500 in a lump sum payment, also provided by statute, will soon be passed.

John H. Merrick, secretary to Police Commissioner Wilson of Boston, said that other contributions in the Comeau case have totaled $6,800, and that of this amount $3,700 was subscribed by the police officers themselves.

The Commissioner, according to Mr. Merrick, is in favor of a general plan whereby the widow of any officer killed in line of duty would receive a pension equal to the salary of the official, so that the family could live in the same manner as it did before his death. Such a measure is now pending before the Legislative Committee on Rules, having been filed by Representative Bernard Casey, of Boston.

Attention was called to the fact, however, that the Comeau case would not come under the provisions of this general act since the murder of the officer occurred before the passage of this act. Members of the committee pointed out, however, that this could be taken care of at the next session, providing the general bill passes at this session.

Senator Clarence P. Kidder, chairman of the Pensions Committee, suggested that this bill be reported to the next annual session, to allow for the passage of the general bill, suggesting that a new measure be filed next year to make the provisions of the general bill cover the Comeau case. This suggestion met with favor from both Mr. Merrick and Mr. Doyle. At an executive meeting immediately following the hearing the committee voted to follow the suggestions of Senator Kidder.

URGES TOLL BRIDGE UNDER CONTROL OF PRIVATE CAPITAL FOR EAST BOSTON.

GEN. EDWARD L. LOGAN AND OTHER PROMINENT CITIZENS PRESENT IDEAS AT HEARING—METHOD BEING USED IN OTHER SECTIONS TO REDUCE EXPENSES OF SUCH STRUCTURES.

Hon. Edward L. Logan of South Boston appeared before the Ways and Means Committee of the Massachusetts Senate, upon the 5th instant, and urged favorable consideration upon the bill authorizing the construction of an East Boston bridge or tunnel by private capital, and authorizing the constructing company to charge tolls for the using of the additional transportation facilities.

He declared that the policy of toll bridges and toll highways is again coming into national popularity as a means of reducing governmental expenses for constructing bridges and highways.

Judge Logan gave the estimated cost of a bridge as $15,000,000 and that of a vehicular tunnel as approximately $7,500,000. He said that the question of better transportation for East Boston and the direct route to the North Shore has been agitated for some years, but that the City of Boston is either unable or unwilling to undertake such a large proposal. The suggestion that private capital build the means for additional transportation and charge tolls to pay for the improvement is a new one for the Commonwealth, said Judge Logan, but this is a method now being used in many parts of the country, and indicated that the toll bridges will become more and more utilized as a means of reducing highway expenses.

Speaking of the existing facilities, he said that the City of Boston is losing a large sum of money annually in maintaining the East Boston ferries, and that under the ferry system rapid transit for motor traffic to the East Boston business section and to the North Shore is impossible. Quoting figures which had been given him, but for the accuracy of which he could not vouch, Judge Logan said that the income from the ferries was about $80,000 annually, while the expense of maintaining the service cost the City of Boston from $500,000 to $1,000,000 annually.

He also characterized the act as a contract between the company and the state, by which certain demands are made from each of the contracting parties. Under the contract agreement the state agrees to authorize the construction of the bridge or tunnel, to allow the constructing company to collect tolls for the use of the improved transportation facilities and reserving its rights to buy from the company the entire fixed assets of the company at the end of certain intervals stated in the bill. The constructing company agrees to complete the tunnel or bridge within three years of acceptance of the general plans of the project, and to pay the construction and maintenance costs of the project.

The measure provides that the fixed assets of the company shall be exempt from taxation by either state or city officials until July 1, 1940, providing that this can be granted legally. Rates of toll are to be fixed by the State Department of Public Utilities. The locations of the ends of the bridges cannot be definitely settled except by the approval of the Mayor of the City of Boston. A clause is also included in the measure providing that the City of Boston shall be exempted from any claim for damages that might be assessed against it for the taking of property to enable the company to carry out the provisions of the proposed law. Supervision of the construction of the project is to be controlled by the Transit Department of the City of Boston, and a provision is included so that the company shall pay the cost of supervision maintained by the Transit Department.

Perhaps the most interesting proposal is a clause permitting the bridge company to purchase or lease from the Boston Elevated Company the Atlantic and Commercial elevated structures and use them as Boston approaches to the proposed bridge as an elevated traffic highway, diverting traffic either to the North or South Station, and providing ramps so that traffic may descend to the side streets along the route.

The provision that the Commonwealth or any of its political subdivisions may purchase or acquire the fixed assets of the company provides for a written notice to be given to the company one year in advance of the purchase and provides the following times for buying the structure:

1.—At the end of ten years from the formal opening of the bridge or tunnel for traffic, at the original cost of such fixed assets, without any deduction whatever for accrued depreciation, obsolescence or amortization of funded debt. Original cost shall include organization expense, engineering expense, interest and taxes during construction, discount on securities and other costs of money and all other charges provided for in this act or which, according to established accounting practice, may be added to the property account of the company.

2.—At the end of twenty years from such formal opening, at said original cost less twenty per cent thereof for depreciation and obsolescence and amortization of funded debt.

3.—At the end of thirty years from such formal opening, at said original cost less forty per cent thereof for depreciation and obsolescence and amortization of funded debt.

4.—At the end of forty years from such formal opening, at said original cost less sixty per cent thereof for depreciation and obsolescence and amortization of funded debt.

5.—At the end of fifty years, without any payment whatever.

The company shall file with the Department of Public Utilities within sixty days after the date of the opening of the bridge or tunnel for public use a certified statement specifying the formal date of opening, and unless within sixty days from such filing the Department of Public Utilities shall determine that another date was in fact the formal date, then the date so filed shall be the formal date for the purposes of this section, and any such determination by said department shall be final and conclusive.

A. C. Ratschky, vice chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Board, expressed his approval of the general plan.

Commissioner William F. Williams of the Department of Public Works, felt that the bill should be cleared so that certain powers given to the Public Utilities Commission would come under his department, to avoid conflict of authority. He also insisted there should be public hearings on location and decision between bridge and tunnel.

Representatives William H. Hearn, Timothy F. Donovan, Robert Dinsmore and Thomas J. Powers of East Boston were recorded in favor.

Alexander Whiteside and Charles H. Gifford, both incorporators, explained various points raised by Commissioner Williams and members of the committee.

Paul J. Berthelson, one of the petitioners, placed the following on record for the bill: Atlantic Works of East Boston; City Fuel Company; Suffolk Coal Company; P. S. Huckins Company; Maritime Coaling Company; the White State Line; Leyland Line and Cunard Line.

Senator C. C. Warren of Arlington advised the committee yesterday that private capital would have to take over the work, as it would be impossible for state or city funds to be obtained. He stated the cost of a bridge would be $15,000,000 and that a tunnel between the two points, instead of a bridge, would cost $7,500,000.

James E. Maguire, editor and publisher of the East Boston Free Press, strenuously opposed the construction of a toll bridge or tunnel.

"Proponents have told you that the people of East Boston are not opposed to paying a toll," said Mr. Maguire, "and this has been told you in face of the fact that a riot was created because of a tunnel toll, which was only a penny." If enacted the bill would cause trouble session after session of the Legislature, Mr. Maguire predicted.

Mr. Maguire suggested that the bill be so drawn so that the incorporators be required to put up $500,000 in cash or securities for the protection of private property taken under eminent domain and for public protection against negligence in construction.

He also requested that the position of Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols be ascertained and that the opinion of Mayor Nichols be asked as to the constitutionality of the tax-exemption clause. According to Mr. Maguire the people of East Boston, the banking and retail interests, are opposed to the bill.

Mrs. Amelia Massa, a resident of East Boston, and Miss Lelia W. Miller, secretary of the Social Service Council of East Boston Women, opposed a toll charge.

APRIL LABOR REPORT.

Business at the Public Employment Office 23 Pearl street, according to the records, fell a little behind both the preceding month and the month of April, last year. This, no doubt, was caused by the lateness of the season, as during the early part of the month the weather was cold and variable, but during the last few days of the month grew warmer, causing a decided increase in the volume of business transacted.

During the month, 1,529 persons were called for by employers, a decrease of 32, or 2 per cent from March, also a decrease of 218, or 12 per cent from April last year. The number of positions reported filled was 1,247, a decrease of 142, or 10 per cent from March, also a decrease of 170, or 12 per cent from April last year.

During the month, 1,075 service men (679 soldiers, 396 sailors) visited the office in search of employment. Of this number, 111 (82 soldiers, 29 sailors) visited the office for the first time and were registered. Cards of introduction to employers were given to 269 (182 soldiers, 87 sailors). Of these, 166 (107 soldiers, 59 sailors) secured positions.

The attendance of applicants for employment was 23,522, a decrease of 1,603, or 6 per cent from March, also a decrease of 1,314, or 5 per cent from last year.

In the men's skilled department, work was quiet during the early part of the month but showed a decided improvement during the last few days, especially in the shipbuilding industry, where mechanics with marine experience in every department were in demand. Included, was a heavy demand for boilermakers.

From the metal trades a number of calls were received for machine operators, tool makers, molders, foundry chippers, tinsmiths and sheet metal workers. The steam trades were quiet and the few calls for engineers and firemen were easily filled. The demand from the building trades was fairly good, with calls for carpenters, painters, plumbers and electricians and became heavier during the latter part of the month. The printing industry was more active and there was a scarcity of applicants for employment, with several opportunities open for compositors. The general trades were quiet with calls for paint sprayers, chauffeurs, packers, shippers and factory workers.

There was a fairly good demand for able-bodied laborers during the latter part of the month in the men's unskilled department and the demand for culinary workers for hotels and restaurants also showed a decided improvement. Because of lack of applicants for farm work, the orders received were difficult to fill.

Demand for boys was good with a big supply of applicants, but the wages offered were not attractive enough for many of the applicants who were over sixteen years of age.

In the women's department there was a decided improvement in all the trades, especially in power stitchers and paper box makers. The demand for factory workers was principally confined to young girls sixteen to eighteen years of age. The older and more experienced help found it hard to secure permanent positions. There was a heavy demand for housework girls, with little or no supply to choose from. The steady demand for day workers, scrub and wash women was easily filled.

The number of people called for by employers was 1,529 as compared with 1,747 in 1925; 1,533 in 1924; 2,154 in 1923; 1,363 in 1922 and 1,407 in 1921.

The number of positions reported filled was 1,247 as compared with 1,417 in 1925; 1,345 in 1924; 1,539 in 1923; 1,016 in 1922 and 1,033 in 1921.

FRANKLIN PARK GOLF COURSE.

It was on November 7, 1892, that golf was started in Franklin Park, by the granting of permission to George Wright to play for one year under police supervision. Similar permission was granted again in 1893. In the following year permission was refused for the park, but granted for Franklin Field.

On October 26, 1896, the first public golf course in America was started in Franklin Park. This was during the administration of Mayor Josiah Quincy. William Campbell, a famous Scotch professional at the time, and George Wright, were the pioneers in stimulating the interest of the Boston public in the great Scotch game, with the nine-hole course which was established under the direction of Mr. Campbell. The city would not undertake to maintain the course with municipal funds, but Mr. Campbell had such confidence in the response of the public that he agreed to do it by charging a fee of 15 cents a round or 25 cents for two rounds.

The course proved such an attraction that four years later the city took it over and made it free to all. An additional course of six holes was made for beginners, and even with this additional provision the demands of the public could not be satisfied. It was not until 1919, however, that the course was enlarged to eighteen holes, a total of 125 acres being given up to it. The original nine-hole course and six-hole course were embodied in the splendid links of today.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Upon April 30 the Mayor approved a contract with the Atlantic Works for repairs on the Steamer "George A. Hibbard." A communication from William S. Kinney of the Institutions Department was as follows:

Boston, April 30, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—Bids were asked for by this department for necessary repairs to the steamer "George A. Hibbard." The Atlantic Works have bid $1,176 and agreed to perform the work in eight working days; the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation have bid $1,100 and require ten working days in which to complete the work.

As it is necessary to hire an outside boat to perform the necessary work at $60 per day, the bid of the Atlantic Works is the most acceptable and in fact the lowest.

As the total amount exceeds the sum of $1,000, and therefore is beyond my discretionary power, I respectfully request your authorization to my awarding the contract to the Atlantic Works.

As this work is of an emergency nature, it has been impossible to afford the necessary time to advertise in the City Record, but the bids have been received from the two largest shipbuilding concerns in Boston who have customarily done the work in the past.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM S. KINNEY
Commissioner.

The Boston passengers were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spring Blake, Benjamin W. Fredericks, Miss Wilma Johnson, H. Kaufman, Mrs. Sarah Lundquist and her daughter Miss Anna C. Lundquist, Fritz Osther and Ivar L. Sjostrom.

During the vessel's stay here she was thrown open to the public for two hours and several hundred invited guests availed themselves of the opportunity to look over the new craft.

FORMER CITY EMPLOYEES HONORED BY ASSOCIATES.

The members of the Schoolhouse Department assembled at the Colonial Club, Dorchester, upon the evening of the 5th instant, to honor their two former associates, Edward P. Phaneuf and James T. Doherty, who recently resigned to enter the building field. Both were connected with the department fifteen years, Mr. Phaneuf as chief clerk of works and Mr. Doherty as assistant civil engineer.

The committee, under the direction of its chairman Bernard V. Cullen, and Thomas F. Haley, toastmaster, arranged a most attractive evening's entertainment.

Francis E. Slattery, chairman of the Schoolhouse Commission, spoke at length on co-operation with the employees and the commission. He presented, in behalf of the department members, a complete mahogany office equipment to the two guests.

Commissioner Charles P. Norton attested to the good fellowship that existed in the department and presented silver cups to the winners of the department bowling league, which just closed its fifth season.

The recipients were Daniel J. McCarthy, high individual average; William J. Herlihy, high single string; Joseph F. Green, high three-string; William J. Shea, Edward J. Phaneuf, Thomas Kimmeth and James T. Doherty, the clerk of work Team 1, winners of the team prize, and to Charles F. Sexton, a consolation prize.

Vocal selections were contributed by Jeremiah Shea, Martin Cummings, Alexander McFarland and a quartet; readings by Martin Herman and Charles F. Sexton, and a sketch by Daniel H. Sullivan and Peter F. Curley. Bowling matches finished the attractions. Music was by the Bowling League orchestra, consisting of twenty pieces.

Hugh Nawn, Inc., have been granted an extension of the completion date of the contract for furnishing five part concrete boxes to the Water Service until May 21, 1926, owing to the fact that work on this contract was ordered suspended by the Water Service during the winter.

E. L. Le Baron Foundry Company have been granted an extension of the contract, dated December 23, for furnishing D castings (frames and covers) to the Water Service from March 15 to May 15, 1926, for the reason that while the bids were opened on this contract under date of December 1, 1925, the contract was not finally approved until December 23, 1925, and this has delayed the completion of the contract.

MR. O'BRIEN APPOINTED DIRECTOR.

William J. O'Brien of South Boston has been appointed director of the South Boston Aquarium.

Mr. O'Brien was born in South Boston and attended the local schools. For some years after leaving school he worked as assistant receiving clerk and later as receiving clerk. In January, 1918, he went overseas with the 301st Motor Transport Repair Unit and served in France for eighteen months.

In 1922 he came to the Aquarium as a fish attendant. He had had considerable previous experience in handling fish, because of his work with Walter H. Chute, director of the Aquarium. Mr. Chute, for years before he became director, had a famous collection of balanced aquaria, and Mr. O'Brien had assisted him in caring for it before either of them became connected with the South Boston Aquarium.

When Mr. Chute resigned his Boston position in September, 1925, to become associate director of the Shedd Aquarium in Chicago, Mr. O'Brien became acting director of the South Boston Aquarium.

LOCAL AIR MEET APPEARS ASSURED.

A committee of officers was formed to investigate the financing and staging of the meet. Capt. Christopher W. Ford was made chairman. With him were elected Lieut. George Lusk, president of the association, Lieut. Crawford Hollidge, Lieut. Robert L. O'Brien, Lieut. Daniel Rochford, Lieut. Charles Clark, and Capt. R. F. Raymond.

FEARS FOR CONTAMINATION OF ENTIRE WATER SYSTEM EXPRESSED AT HEARING.

JOHN R. FREEMAN, NOTED EXPERT, SAYS MODIFIED GOW PLAN WOULD CONSTITUTE TOO GREAT RISK FOR CITIZENS.

John R. Freeman, noted water supply engineer representing the City of Boston, at the continued hearing before the Ways and Means Committee of the Massachusetts Senate, at a hearing upon the 4th instant, declared that water drawn from a reservoir at Barre Falls, as proposed in the bill adopting the modified Gow plan for increasing the water supply of the Metropolitan district and the city of Worcester, would probably contaminate the supply of the Wachusett Reservoir, and would constitute too great a risk when there are other sources of pure water available.

Mr. Freeman opposed the so-called Booth plan, providing for the uses of the North Ware river by the construction of a dam at Barre Falls.

The bill under consideration is based on the Booth plan.

Mr. Freeman was asked if he had an alternative to building a reservoir at Barre Falls. He said that at the request of Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols, who was particularly anxious that a compromise plan satisfactory to both Worcester and the metropolitan district be evolved, he recommended that the reservoir be constructed at Longmeadow brook, four miles further up river than Barre Falls. At this site, he said, the water would not be impounded over any amount of swamp land. Such a reservoir would furnish 30,000,000 gallons of water daily; would satisfy the needs of Worcester for fifty years; would flow by gravity to that city, and would cost $8,000,000, compared to $14,000,000 for the Barre Falls Reservoir.

Mr. Freeman differs most decidedly with Allen Hazen of New York, engineer for the special water supply investigating commission of which Charles R. Gow was chairman, on the question of the purity of the water.

In reply to questions by Representative Henry L. Shattuck of the House Ways and Means Committee, which is sitting with the committee of the upper branch at the hearings, Mr. Freeman said that more than eight hundred acres, or about 25 per cent of the entire reservoir area at Barre Falls, is swamp land. Some of the land is very swampy, reaching to a depth of twenty-five feet of mud, peat or muck, and a good part of it reaching to fifteen feet. Even if sanded, he said, this area would probably contaminate the waters of the Wachusett Reservoir for a period of about ten years.

Ultimately, said Mr. Freeman, the metropolitan district would have to go to the Swift river for its water. This site was the best in Massachusetts, he said. He recommended, however, that construction had better go along slowly, and that the growth of population and of demand be watched so that the construction be not too far ahead of demand.

Mr. Freeman pointed out that interest charges on construction to the Swift river sources under the joint board plan would be less than on the Gow plan to the North Ware sources if delays in construction from Coldbrook to the Swift river were taken into account. The Gow report, according to Mr. Freeman, stated that the total interest charges to 1947 on construction to Swift river would be $34,880,000, and that to the Ware river $26,740,000, a saving in favor of the Ware river construction of $8,140,000. Mr. Freeman said that allowing for delays in construction the interest charges on the Swift river project would be $25,280,000, leaving a balance in favor of that project of $1,300,000.

This testimony was strengthened by a statement of Senator Abbott B. Rice of Newton, of the committee, who incidentally has supported this plan thus far, who said he had received a letter from a Worcester physician on the subject. The physician wrote that contrary to the opinion that has been given on Beacon Hill, the people of the city have not been consulted on the water question and that the whole program has been handled by a group of politicians. He wrote, further, that the upper Ware river water at the prison camp, which it is proposed be taken, is so poor that the cattle at the camp will not drink it—yet the people of Worcester are to be expected to use it.

Earlier in the hearing, B. Loring Young, former speaker of the House, and Frank A. Barber, engineer, both representing the town of Framingham, and Henry S. Dennison, of the Dennison Manufacturing Company, appeared before the committee, urging that in the event of a bill being proposed for the filtration of the South Sudbury the interests of Framingham be protected.

Mr. Young said that it would be a serious health menace if the flow of the South Sudbury between the dam and the town line were reduced to 1,500,000 gallons daily. He said that a minimum of 6,000,000 gallons must flow daily to protect the health of Framingham.

Speaking of the cost to Framingham of its water which it takes from the metropolitan system, Mr. Young said that if the town had not been deprived of its sole natural water supply and been forced into the district, it would cost the town less than $20 per million gallons instead of $38, which does not include the cost of pumping. Framingham pays $78 per million gallons of water, whereas Boston pays only $56, he said.

Mr. Dennison said that there was no advantage for a town to serve as a source of water for a great city. Instead of a favoring rate for Framingham, the case is just the opposite. Such a situation resulted, he continued, because of a "wholly iniquitous" law put over the farming community of Framingham by "capable men in Boston." By that law, said Mr. Denison, Framingham let go for nothing valuable rights for which it has received no proper compensation.

George A. Gaskill, of Worcester, representing Rutland, said that under the bill before the committee, Rutland would lose 5,000 acres of land, and a number of miles of road. "The bill is silent as to any method for compensating the town of Rutland for this perpetual damage of more than $10,000 of taxable property," said Mr. Gaskill. He said that he was not opposed to the bill, but asked that compensatory provisions be included in the law.

X. H. Goodnough, chief engineer for the State Department of Public Health, and author of the so-called "Goodnough" plan, which calls for the use of the Swift river, said that by taking the water at Coldbrook the discoloration of water would be avoided. The water would flow into Wachusett Reservoir as clear as crystal, he claimed. He pointed out that the same conditions obtain in the water supply in the southeastern part of the state, where the Middleboro ponds are used.

The Barre Falls Reservoir, Mr. Goodnough said, which is proposed in the Gow plan, would flow over a large swamp area, which has thirty feet of mud in places. During the summer the water is low and gets very foul. It would have a bad effect if turned into Wachusett, he said. He claimed the Gow commission in its report admitted this.

If the North Ware supply is taken, Mr. Goodnough said, in answer to questions, the whole supply would have to be filtered, once the water is turned into Wachusett. This would cost nearly $11,000,000.

As to the Millers river, which is a part of the Swift supply project and which had been attacked by Mr. Gow as badly discolored, Mr. Goodnough said the color is better than the color of the Ware river water. There are several ways by which Worcester can augment its supply, Mr. Goodnough said, other than by the Gow plan, and all would be cheaper. Water could be pumped from Wachusett cheaper than Worcester can get it from the proposed Barre Falls Reservoir.

"We are at the parting of the ways," said Mr. Goodnough in conclusion. "If we take the North Ware it means filtration and later the taking of the Assabet and Ipswich rivers. It means a blight on the industries. If we go to the Swift river now it means getting better water and in a territory where the population is decreasing so that the least harm would be done the district. Most of the local supplies will be given up in ten years and they will take the water from the metropolitan system. There would be no need to go to the Swift river at first; a good supply would be available from the Coldbrook intake."

Dr. George H. Bigelow, State Commissioner of Public Health, in a brief statement, said that the health officials are concerned about getting water that is not discolored or disagreeable in taste. If the water is less palatable than the present water, he said, it would reduce the use of it, which would be detrimental to the public health, and there might be a return to the use of old wells, which would be bad.

J. Waldo Smith, a water supply construction engineer and consulting engineer for the joint board in 1922, endorsed the Goodnough plan as the best. He said that minor plans should be discarded and one broad, general plan adopted. That is possible under the Goodnough plan, he said. He said that there is no need of building another reservoir with the Wachusett ready, which was built with the idea in mind of developing the Swift river. Asked if he had examined into the Gow plan, he said he had not to any great extent.

INCINERATION OF GARBAGE PROPOSED.

PROMINENT WOMEN LEADERS URGE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS SULLIVAN TO TRY PLAN.

Mrs. Robert Treat Paine, 2d, president of the Women's Municipal League and Mrs. Ronald T. Lyman, Mrs. Percy G. Bolster and Miss Dorothy Worrall have conferred with James H. Sullivan, Commissioner of Public Works, relative to incinerating plants for the disposal of refuse and garbage.

Commissioner Sullivan stated to the delegation that within a year or so the city undoubtedly would install a plant in West Roxbury or Dorchester as a test.

Commissioner Sullivan agreed with his visitors that incineration would prove a less objectionable process than the present system by which garbage is disposed of by contract and taken to a rendering plant at Spectacle Island, but informed them that the expense of a complete substitution would be prohibitive. Moreover, the $10,000,000 garbage removal contract has six years to run and could not be broken except at tremendous cost.

The growth of the outlying districts has been so rapid that additional removal facilities must soon be provided. If a single plant proved successful, the service might be extended in a few years. From observation in New York and Philadelphia recently, Commissioner Sullivan thinks that a plant large enough for either West Roxbury or Dorchester could be built for $250,000.

BOSTON SCHOOL CHILDREN LEAD IN "OLD IRONSIDES" CONTRIBUTIONS.

Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, U. S. N., commandant of the Boston Navy Yard and chairman of the national committee of the Save Old Ironsides Fund announces that the public and parochial school children of Boston have contributed a total of $5,600 and Boston and Massachusetts leads all states and cities in the amount of money.

To date the Massachusetts total has reached $33,992.01. It is also estimated that New York's amount will exceed $35,000, receipts reaching $14,500 at present, and $20,000 more of known collections yet to be turned in. First place in the campaign to preserve the Constitution will be between these two states.

ACCEPTANCE OF WALDORF STREET.

The Board of Street Commissioners have voted that Waldorf street, in the Ashmont section, extending from Mellen street to Ashmont street, be accepted as a public highway and given a permanent surface.

The Public Works Department has been authorized to execute the work at an estimated cost of $6,500, about half the cost to be borne by abutters.

Other such thoroughfares will be designated from time to time this summer, to be laid out and paid for out of the $1,000,000 which the Nichols administration has set aside for the purpose.

CIVIL ENGINEERS, MAY 17-22, 1926.

These examinations are for the service of the state, all cities, and such towns as are classified under civil service.

WARNING: Many men fail in the civil engineering examination because they apply for grades for which they are not qualified. It is advisable, therefore, if there is any doubt about the quantity or quality of your experience, to take both the grade for which you think you are qualified and the next lower grade. If you should be found ineligible for the higher grade, you will still have an opportunity to be placed on the next lower grade.

Grade A.—Engineering assistants, drafting assistants, and rodmen, who perform under instruction and supervision elementary or apprentice work in the field or office.

It is prima facie evidence that a position in Class 27 is not in Grade A if the salary is less than $900 a year or more than $1,440 a year.

Qualifications.—Applicants must have completed a high school course of not less than three years or must have had not less than one year of practical experience in field engineering or office work.

Subjects and Weights.—Rodmen: Experience, 4; mathematics, 6; penmanship, 1; tracing, 3; questions on the duties of the position, 6; total, 20. Assistant draftsmen: Experience, 4; mathematics, 6; penmanship, 1; drawing, 9; total, 20.

Grade B.—Senior engineering assistants, instrumentmen, and draftsmen (a) who assume responsibility for the execution of definite instructions in a minor division or section of engineering activity; or (b) who direct, under supervision, the operation of minor engineering projects.

It is prima facie evidence that a position in Class 27 is not in Grade B if the salary is more than $1,980 a year.

Qualifications.—If appointed by promotion, not less than one year of service in Grade A. If appointed otherwise than by promotion from Grade A, at least two years of practical experience in engineering work of Grade A character and standard; or such training in civil engineering as is evidenced by a professional degree granted on the completion of a standard course of instruction at an institution or college of recognized standing; or the successful completion of not less than two years' study in such institution, plus one year's practical experience in engineering work.

Subjects and Weights.—Instrumentmen: Experience, 16; penmanship, 2; plotting, 6; questions on duties, 8; mathematics, 8; total, 40. Draftsmen: Experience, 16; drawing, 10; mathematics, 6; duties, 4; plotting, 4; total, 40.

Grade C.—Assistant engineers, assistant civil engineers, and designing engineers: (a) who assume responsibility for the direction of surveys, the preparation and examination of, or advice upon, plans, designs and specifications for a minor section of a large engineering or a major section of a small engineering project; or (b) who supervise or inspect the construction or the operation of work on such a project; or (c) who make investigations of, and reports upon, such engineering projects as a basis for a report by an engineering superior.

It is prima facie evidence that a position in Class 27 is not in Grade C if the salary is more than $2,580 a year.

Qualifications.—If appointed by promotion within a department or major division thereof, not less than two years of service in Grade B, or, if appointed otherwise than by promotion from Grade B, within a department or major division thereof, at least five years of practical experience in engineering work, at least one half of which shall have been appropriate to the particular branch of engineering work covered by the position, provided that a degree granted on the completion of a standard course of instruction by an engineering school of recognized standing shall be accepted as the equivalent of three years' practical experience.

Subjects and Weights.—Experience, 10; design, 2; mathematics, 2; questions on materials and methods of construction, 3; engineering theory, 3; total, 20.

Grade D.—Senior assistant engineers, senior assistant civil engineers, and senior designing engineers: (a) who supervise and assume complete responsibility for the work of a main division of an engineering organization, involving the direction of surveys and design and construction; or (b) who maintain and operate the major section of a large engineering project; or (c) who make independent investigations of and reports upon engineering projects as a basis for executive, administrative, or judicial action; or (d) who take charge of a large engineering department in the absence of the chief engineer; or (e) who give advice on large or complicated engineering projects, which may involve the preparation of plans.

It is prima facie evidence that a position in Class 27 is not in Grade D if the salary is more than $3,600 a year.

Qualifications.—If appointed by promotion, within a department or major division thereof, not less than three years of service in Grade C. If appointed otherwise than by promotion within a department or major division thereof, at least eight years of practical experience in engineering work, at least one half of which shall have been appropriate to the particular branch covered by the position, and two years of which shall have been in an executive capacity; provided that a degree granted on the completion of a standard course of instruction by an engineering school of recognized standing shall be accepted as the equivalent of four years of practical experience.

FIRE INVESTIGATION MADE.

The Boston Fire Department, Fire Prevention Bureau and state police have started an investigation of the fire in the apartment house, 571 Columbus avenue, upon the 2d instant.

Fire Department records show that there have been two fires in the building on a single day—February 9 last—and that these two followed a blaze of the day before. The February 9 fires were caused, the records state, by chimney soot and by grease.

In 1920 there were fires in the building on January 22, April 29 and October 18; also on June 7 and June 20, 1921; June 25, 1923, and September 14, 1924.

It is reported there have been eleven fires upon these premises during the past six years.

State Fire Marshal George C. Neal has assigned Inspector Frank P. Hardiman to the case, and if his report warrants it, will make a personal investigation.

Fire Chief Daniel F. Sennott has had several talks with people since the fire, and as a result the Boston Fire and Police Departments have started an investigation.

District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien visited the scene Sunday, but said that he will await the receipt of a complete report from Medical Examiner Timothy Leary.

REPORT OF TRIAL BOARD.

A communication was received from the Trial Board, under date of Apr. 20, 1926, to whom was referred at the meeting of Apr. 5, 1926, a communication from the Schoolhouse Custodian reporting that he had suspended Frederick P. Johnson, custodian, Noble School-house and Annex, for violation of paragraph 3 of section 3 of the regulations for custodians and matrons, reporting that a hearing was held on Apr. 7, 1926, which was attended by the custodian concerned, the Schoolhouse Custodian, and the principal of the school.

The Trial Board finds that the charges of the Schoolhouse Custodian are sustained on the statements made by the principal of the school, the Schoolhouse Custodian, and the custodian.

The Trial Board does not minimize the seriousness of the custodian's offense, but because of the extenuating circumstances, involving family conditions, and because the custodian has given assurance of intention to avoid all cause for complaint in the future, the Trial Board recommends that the custodian be given an opportunity to re-establish himself.

FINDING—That the custodian is guilty of the charges preferred against him in violating paragraph 3 of section 3 of the regulations for custodians and matrons.

RECOMMENDATION—(a) That the custodian be severely censured by the School Committee for the violation of section 3; (b) that he be notified that a second offense will cause the Trial Board to recommend to the School Committee his immediate dismissal; (c) that the Schoolhouse Custodian be requested to transfer the custodian at once to a building in another section of the city; and (d) that he be denied promotion for a period of one year.

The Trial Board respectfully recommends that the Schoolhouse Custodian be instructed by the School Committee to report to the School Committee hereafter any and all cases of custodians who in his judgment show evidence of intoxication while on school premises, whether first offense or otherwise. It seems to the Trial Board that drastic action by the School Committee is now necessary on all cases of reported violation of section 3 of the regulations for custodians and matrons.

The communication was placed on file, and

On motion, the closing paragraph was appended to provide that the Schoolhouse Custodian shall report any and all cases of custodians who show evidence of intoxication while on school premises—or elsewhere.

The recommendations, with the foregoing amendment, were adopted.

BOSTON STREETS ARE BEING FITTED OUT WITH DRESS OF NEW AND ATTRACTIVE SIGNS.

WORK BEGUN ON CAMBRIDGE STREET BY PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT MEETING WITH HEARTY APPROVAL OF ALL CITIZENS.

Boston streets are rapidly being given a new dress of street signs by the Public Works Department, and the plan is meeting with approval on the part of citizens as well as visitors. They are much larger than the usual street sign, and have white letters on a blue background.

The new signs are copied from those in vogue in New York. The intersection of streets has two plates with the face of each containing the name of the street the pedestrian is on in large type, and the adjacent thoroughfare in smaller letters above it.

Work was begun on Cambridge street where the signs have proved entirely satisfactory, both to motorist and pedestrian. The color scheme makes it much easier to distinguish the different names, and the printing of intersecting streets on one face makes it simpler for the autoist to find his way about through Boston.

It is the plan of Public Works Commissioner James H. Sullivan to spend about $20,000 in placing signs on all city streets, this sum having been provided in the budget. The work will be by progressive stages in point of time, it being the plan of Commissioner Sullivan to choose street locations, where possible, where he can make use of telephone and electric poles, thus not digging up streets or cluttering them with extra poles.

PARK DEPARTMENT AND MUSIC COMMITTEE PLAN CONCERT PROGRAM.

THIRTY-FIVE BAND PERFORMANCES ARRANGED FOR ENJOYMENT OF CITIZENS DURING SUMMER.

Thirty-five band concerts will be given under the auspices of the Park Department during the summer and twenty-six are under consideration for the program. The concerts will be given in the open air every Sunday, beginning July 4 and ending October 1.

There will be nine concerts at Boston Common, five at Jamaica Pond, five at Franklin Park, five at Marine Park, five at Wood Island Park, two at McConnell Park, Savin Hill; two at Hyde Park and two at Madison Park, Roxbury.

The Mayor's Committee, which is planning the concert season, comprising Courtenay Guild, chairman; Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. Morgan Butler, Mrs. Francis Goulston, Mrs. Agnes H. Willey, William H. Leahy and Archibald Davison, has arranged a tentative program for the expenditure of the $11,000 allotted in accordance with custom. The committee has not decided on the bands. It feels that an extensive program should be planned for the season of 1927 and to consider plans will hold frequent meetings during the remainder of the year.

The question of night concerts has been considered. It is probable that these will be given on the Common, as well as concerts at noon. It is possible that orchestral music will be decided upon at the Parkman Bandstand where the amplifying apparatus is powerful enough to insure success for this kind of music.

CITY SECURES SITE FOR NEW CENTRAL FIRE STATION.

STREET COMMISSIONERS TAKE PROPERTY OF BARNARD MEMORIAL IN SOUTH END, PAYING $73,200.

The Board of Street Commissioners have effected a settlement with the society known as the Benevolent Fraternity of Unitarian Churches for payment to it of $73,200 as final damages to it for taking by the city of the two and one-half-story brick structure and 8,150 square feet of land of the establishment of the old Barnard Memorial, South End, on the site of which it is planned to put up the $250,000 structure for housing fire apparatus, formerly quartered in Mason street.

This $73,200 is slightly above the $69,600 value the assessors placed upon this property. No taxes have ever been paid upon it, exemption being secured under the principle of relieving such church and educational properties from all taxation.

BOSTON PAYS MEED OF HOMAGE TO FOUNDERS OF HOME AND STATE — THE MOTHERS.

MOTHER'S DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED WITH EXERCISES IN WHICH CITY AND STATE SHARE — GOLD STAR MOTHERS DECORATED.

Boston citizens, under the direction of state and city officials, paid impressive tribute to the gold star mothers of the city on May 9, during elaborate exercises that began as scheduled, at the Parkman Bandstand on the Common and adjourned later to the Gardner Auditorium at the State House, when rain threatened to spoil or postpone the ceremonies. The exercises as planned and carried out were arranged on the part of the city by Capt. Edward F. O'Dowd, who was marshal of the day. He was assisted by officials of the Volunteers of America and the American Legion. State Commander Good, of the Legion, presided.

Bouquets of roses were presented Mrs. Fannie T. Hazen, 86, youngest Civil War nurse, representing the G. A. R., and to Mrs. Dana C. Sanborn, representing the World War gold star mothers, and a bouquet of lilies of the valley to Mrs. Mary Danforth, representing the Spanish War gold star mothers.

Perched on a chair on the speaker's platform was Marjorie Nichols, four-year-old official hostess for her father, Mayor Nichols. Her smiling countenance attracted attention and she was given an ovation. She spent most of the time talking to Alvan T. Fuller, Jr.

Francis J. Good, state commander of the American Legion, presided. In introducing Governor Fuller, the first speaker, he spoke highly of the governor's devotion to his mother. Governor Fuller said in part:

"Mother's Day is a day when all barriers, real or fancied, of race, religion and different interests melt away and we kneel before the common shrine of motherhood. As we contemplate Mother's Day the deep wells of our affection and emotion are sounded to their very depths and we turn to her who gave us life and realize that no sacrifice can cancel the debt we owe.

"Never in our history have the demands on motherhood been so compelling as today. Authorities dealing with crime tell us that the great bulk of crimes of violence are committed by young men between fifteen and twenty-one years of age. If this tendency is to be checked we must look to the home influence.

"Mothers know that the 'wages of sin is death' and we look to the mothers of the land to combat this modern evil influence by a good home influence, so that we may break the shackles of this sinister development of ignorance and false impulse."

President Charles G. Keene of the Boston City Council, who represented the city in the absence of Mayor Nichols, spoke briefly, eulogizing Mrs. Edith M. Nichols, late wife of the Mayor, as a shining example of mother love and its good results.

Col. Percy Guthrie, representing the Canadian mothers and veterans, declared that motherhood was being glorified fied all over the world, without regard for color, language, ideals or culture, the one force being love of mother.

"There is a distinction between women as women," Colonel Guthrie said, "but there is no distinction made when mother is concerned. Though sweethearts may be fickle, wives leave for greater social opportunity, and daughters go with their mates, the mother always stands by. Juries may find you guilty, but whisper that you are innocent to your mother and she will fight everything and everybody for you."

He urged the mothers present to send their boys to training camps.

Maj.-Gen. Preston Brown, commandant of the First Corps Area, and Rear-Admiral Philip R. Andrews, commandant of the First Naval District, brought the greetings of the Army and Navy. Both favored the sending of youths to training camps as an aid to preventing war.

Solos, "Ave Maria" and "The Songs My Mother Taught Me," were given by Madame Ester Ferrabini. Her husband, Agide Jacchia, led an orchestra of fifteen symphony orchestra players, which accompanied her. Community singing of patriotic songs was led by Louis Schalk of the Boston Rotary Club.

The exercises were preceded by a concert by the Gate of Heaven Church Band of South Boston. The Caledonian Club Bagpipe Band, with Miss Gladys Graham directing, played. The Rev. Joseph D. Canarie gave the invocation.

Other musical organizations present were the Fort Banks Artillery Band, the Italian Legion Band and the American Legion Band. Practically every patriotic and military organization in the city, representing veterans of different wars of the country, participated in the observances.

ORDERS OF ADDITION.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor has approved the issuance of the following orders of addition:

The issuance of an order of addition, in the sum of $2,006.40, to the contract of Alco Contracting Company for erection and completion of the Washington Irving School addition.

This amount is required to provide a hot water boiler of sufficient size to take care of the needs of the present addition. Specifications called for hot water pipes in new building to be connected to mains in old building; but it is found that the boiler in the old building is not large enough to supply hot water required for the two buildings. It is therefore proposed to install a boiler of 300 gallons capacity, in connection with a separate heater, which will provide sufficient hot water for these two buildings and also for the third unit of this school, which the Board expects to build in the near future.

The issuance of an order of addition, in the sum of $2,827.77, to the contract of McDonald & Imhof for erection and completion of the addition to the Jamaica Plain High School.

This amount is required to take care of changes due to substitution of slate partitions for wood partitions in toilets, to comply with the latest standards and ordered by a former chairman of the Board.

The issuance of an order of addition, in the sum of $17,472, to the contract of Thomas O'Connor & Co. for erection and completion of Roxbury High School for Girls.

This amount is required to cover two items of work as follows:

For changing rooms Nos. 209, 210 and 211, on the second floor of the building, for freehand drawing rooms. These changes were requested by the School Committee, and are deemed necessary to permit of giving proper instruction.

For the addition of extra showers and for furnishing and installing slate work in the assembly hall and in toilet rooms on the first, second and third floors, which slate work was not shown on the original contract drawings, and is necessary for proper ventilation and for boxing of exposed pipe work.

POLICE FORCE EXAMINATION.

The Massachusetts Civil Service Commission announce that another examination for candidates who desire appointment to the Boston Police force will be held upon May 22.

Any male resident of the Commonwealth is eligible to take the examination, providing that he meets the following requirements: That he be between the age limits of twenty-five and thirty-five years, five feet and eight inches tall, and weigh at least 135 pounds. There are 250 places open and the available list is small. Successful candidates will be appointed in groups of fifty over a period extending until November 26. This is part of the proposed extension of the Boston Police force by adding the 300 more patrolmen recently approved by Mayor Nichols. Fifty new policemen were appointed recently.

AREA OF BOSTON TO WARD LINES.

Total, 30,598 acres (i. e., 47.81 square miles), 2,944 acres being filled land, 1,143 acres water area and 1,436 acres flats. land area only, 28,019 acres (i. e., 43.78 square miles). Included in the latter are 160 acres of filled flats recently added to the land area of South Boston and 175 acres to that of East Boston.

Original Boston contained about 780 acres of land. Of the twelve leading American cities, eight are larger in land area than Boston, viz., Los Angeles (364 sq. miles), New York (318), Chicago (199.4), Philadelphia (129), Baltimore (91.9), Detroit (80), Cleveland (56.6), and St. Louis (61.25). The only city in Massachusetts with larger land area is Taunton (50 sq. mi.).

If Boston should expand by annexations as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and others have expanded, its total area, in case of including the 39 cities and towns within the 15-mile radius, would exceed the largest, viz., Los Angeles, the present land area of "Greater Boston" being 409.3 square miles.

CENTRAL FIRE STATION.

John M. Gray will shortly be designated to draw plans for the new fire station, which is to front on Broadway (formerly Pleasant street), near Washington street and back up into Warrenton street. Gray was the architect picked by Mr. Curley to redraw plans for the proposed erection on the subway site, now abandoned. As for the construction contract, it is hoped to be able to effect an agreement with Contractor Matthew Cummings to go through with the task of building the plant.

The Mayor is hopeful of getting work started at an early date.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Nicola Gentile has been granted an extension of time until June 1, 1926, for the completion of the contract for Field House at William H. Garvey Playground, Neponset, signed October 13, 1925.

NEEDS $2,000,000 FOR PARK AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT PURPOSES.

WILLIAM P. LONG, DEPUTY COMMISSIONER, MEETS WITH COUNCIL COMMITTEE FOR DISCUSSION OF PLANS.

The City Council Committee on Parks and Playgrounds requested the attendance of William P. Long, Deputy Commissioner, Park Department, before its committee at the Council Rooms, City Hall, on Wednesday, May 12, at 1 p. m.

The purpose of the meeting was to find out what were the intentions of the Park Department relative to the improvements on the playgrounds. Mr. Long informed them that his Honor the Mayor was deeply interested in the playground problem and that his policy was to place all the existing sixty-seven playgrounds in the best possible condition and to supply the needs that are essential to a first-class playground, instead of purchasing additional land for additional playgrounds and leaving the present ones in their unfinished condition.

He also said it was felt that they were not used as much as they should be, and stated that the administration policy was to have the present ones used more extensively, and in order to do so, the Park Department was to start the work of completing the present playgrounds; also, that the Mayor was deeply interested in the young children and wished provisions made for them in all playgrounds in the nature of shelters, swings and teeter boards. The Park Commissioners were to build shelters on the following playgrounds at once: Sullivan square, Columbus Park, Ronan Park, Brookside Avenue Playground, Bolton Street Playground, Rogers Park and William Eustis Playground.

The object of the shelters is to keep the little ones in out of the sun and rain; also, to have supervised play which can be carried on under the shelters. Mr. Long said he had been instructed to prepare a progressive program of the needed improvements and to submit a concise report on same; that every playground in the City of Boston was to be supplied with all the necessary improvements so that they would be all listed as first-class playgrounds before the present administration closed.

Being requested for an estimate on what it would cost to supply all the needed improvements, including fences, bleachers, buildings, tennis courts, baseball diamonds, etc., Mr. Long estimated roughly an expenditure of about two million dollars. The committee was very much pleased with the program as outlined and expressed satisfaction with same.

Councilor Green of Charlestown asked for an expressed opinion on whether or not the playgrounds in Charlestown were sufficient for the area, and the Park Commissioner informed him that he had two of the largest playgrounds in the city, one in Sullivan square and the Barry Playground. He felt that the Rutherford Avenue Playground should be enlarged, and Councilor Green agreed that such was a fact.

Councilor Ruby was interested in Franklin Field and understood that the nature of the ground was such that it was impossible for both skating and early baseball playing. The condition of the soil is a bog and even a horse cannot stand on same without going through the crust until the moisture has been absorbed. For this reason it is impossible to put a roller on the ground until about the middle of June.

The Park Commissioner informed the Council that all playgrounds would be rolled and oiled as speedily as possible, and the Council again expressed satisfaction with the Park Commissioner and thanked him for his interview.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement consisting of the laying out and construction of Courtland road, Dorchester district, as a highway, from Harvard street to Morton street, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Courtland road is hereby laid out, from Harvard street to Morton street, and ordered constructed.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Northwest by Harvard street, one hundred and fourteen and 12-100 feet; northeast by the northeasterly line of said Courtland road as hereby laid out, thirty-five and 69-100 feet on a curve of fifteen feet radius; north by the northerly line of said Courtland road as hereby laid out, by two measurements, four hundred fifty-four and 78-100 feet and one hundred twenty-five and 40-100 feet; east by Morton street, forty feet; south by the southerly line of said Courtland road as hereby laid out, by four measurements, one hundred and twenty-seven and 21-100 feet, three hundred two and 49-100 feet, one hundred and thirty-three and 72-100 feet and eighty-one and 2-100 feet; and southeasterly by the southeasterly line of said Courtland road as hereby laid out, thirty-five and 63-100 feet on a curve of forty-six and 76-100 feet radius.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of Courtland road, from Harvard street to Morton street, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city from the making of the aforesaid improvement; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Courtland road, Dorchester, Assessment Plan, April 1, 1926, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

BUS LINES DISAPPROVED FOR PRESENT AT LEAST.

The petition of the Oakdale Community Garage and Bus Line, P. A. Chamberlain, proprietor, for a license to operate buses from the Dedham boundary to Cleary square in Hyde Park has been returned to the City Council unapproved. A statement accompanying the return explained that there are two noncompeting bus lines running between Hyde Park and Dedham, each stopping at the municipal boundary. The P. A. Chamberlain line is wholly within Dedham. The F. W. Pierce line is wholly within Hyde Park. Each has tried to establish a through route, but Dedham has declined to admit Mr. Pierce, and Boston has declined to admit Mr. Chamberlain. Both Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Pierce handle through traffic, and through traffic is estimated at about one third of the whole.

The loss of through service would be serious to either line, and as two bus lines are now operating between Dedham and Hyde Park, it is not clear that the people of those two localities will be better served by crippling one line. It would be far better for Dedham and Boston to see if an agreement cannot be reached to give through service by both lines. The volume of business available for each would be the same as under the present system. Each would have a fair chance to compete for the whole.

Mr. Chamberlain has the right to bring his petition again at any time, and may do so without prejudice. Meanwhile opportunity will be given to consider how service may be improved by retaining both bus lines.

Also the petition of Franklin L. Hart for a license to operate motor vehicles between Park square, Boston, and Albany, New York, has been returned to the Council unapproved.

The petition if granted would establish a transportation line in competition with railroad lines, and is objectionable for the reasons set forth in a veto message of March 29, 1926.

POLICE RELIEF ASSOCIATION TO ENFORCE LAW.MEMBERS MUST CONFORM TO ESTABLISHED BANKING CONDITIONS ON LOANS.

Boston patrolmen who, as members of the Police Relief Association, have been enjoying special privileges on loans or mortgages on real property must hereafter conform to established banking conditions, according to a decision of the Board of Directors of the association.

With interest on loans figured at only 5 per cent on mortgage notes, many members have failed to make annual payments on the principal and these have been allowed to run year after year, finally resulting in a depletion of the fund set aside for this purpose.

Article 15, section 4 of the by-laws, relative to conditions under which mortgage loans are made, reads as follows: "On all loans of over $4,000 the sum of $200 must be paid annually. On all loans of $4,000 or less the sum of $100 must be paid annually."

Capt. John J. Rooney of the K Street South Boston Station, treasurer of the association, has asked members to comply with the section "in order that the association may be able to supply money to other members who are desirous of obtaining loans."

Upon May 11 the Mayor approved a contract with Castner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., except the Ferry Service, for furnishing semibituminous coal for the various harbor institutions. A communication from Frank L. Brier, of the Supply Department, was as follows:

BOSTON, April 29, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully recommend that the contract for delivering 6,500 tons of semibituminous coal to Long Island at a price of $6.50 per ton, 7,000 tons to Deer Island at a price of $5.85 per ton, and 5,500 tons into the pocket at the South Ferry at a price of $6.43 per ton, be awarded to Castner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., the lowest bidder.

The Ferry Service of the Public Works Department is contemplating doing considerable reconstruction work at the North Ferry during the coming year, and this will interfere somewhat with the use of the North Ferry, and any coal barges lying in there would practically close the North Ferry to service. In view of this, bids were secured for coal delivered aboard the bins of the boats. The Burton-Furber Coal Company and the Metropolitan Coal Company submitted bids which, when figured out to the cost per million B.T.U., were identical, namely, $0.1940. As all semibituminous coal contracts are awarded on the lowest cost per million B.T.U., and as the bids submitted by the Burton-Furber Coal Company, and the Metropolitan Coal Company are the same, I would ask permission to award that contract to the Burton-Furber Coal Company, as the Metropolitan Coal Company has already been awarded our contract for furnishing semibituminous coal to the police and fire boats and to the Public Buildings of the City of Boston, while the Burton-Furber Coal Company have not been favored with any contract from the city during 1926.

The alternate bid of the Maritime Coaling Company for delivery of coal to the Ferry Service at $6.22 per ton is not the lowest bid, as they make the provision that this is for coal dumped into the city trucks at the Maritime Coaling Company's plant; no provision being made for trucking the same.

I am attaching letters from the Division Engineer of the Ferry Service pertinent to this contract.

Trusting the above recommendation will meet with your approval, I am,

Respectfully yours,

FRANK L. BRIER,

Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

Bids, opened April 14, were as follows: Ninety-five Hundred Tons, Long Island.—Maritime Coaling Company, $6.87 per ton; Castner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., $6.50 per ton*; Fore River Coal Company, $7.06 per ton.*

Seven Thousand Tons, Deer Island.—Maritime Coaling Company, $6.19 per gross ton; Castner, Curran & Bullitt Company, Inc., $5.85 per gross ton*; Fore River Coal Company, $6.31 per gross ton.

Nine Thousand, Five Hundred Tons, Ferry Service.—Maritime Coaling Company, $6.67 per ton; Castner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., $6.43 per ton*; Fore River Coal Company, $6.96 per ton.

Alternate Bid, Ferry Service.—Maritime Coaling Company, dumped in city trucks at Maritime Plant, $6.22 per ton; Castner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., $6.30 per ton; Metropolitan Coal Company, $6.30 per ton; City Fuel Company, $6.75 per ton; Burton Furber Coal Company, $6.25 per ton.*

B.T.U.—Maritime Coaling Company, 14,400; Castner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., 14,400; Fore River Coal Company, 14,300; Metropolitan Coal Company, 14,500; City Fuel Company, 14,500; Burton-Furber Coal Company, 14,500.

Ash in Dry Coal.—Maritime Coaling Company, 6 per cent; Castner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., 5½ per cent; Fore River Coal Company, 6.99 per cent; Metropolitan Coal Company, 5 per cent; City Fuel Company, 5 per cent; Burton-Furber Coal Company, 6½ per cent.

Cost per Million B.T.U. in Cents.—Castner, Curran & Bullitt, Inc., $0.1959; Metropolitan Coal Company, $0.1940; City Fuel Company, $0.2078; Burton-Furber Coal Company, $0.1940.

*Contract awarded.

NO OUTDOOR TARGET PRACTICE.

NEW MEMBERS BEING ADDED TO FORCE KEEPING INSTRUCTORS BUSY.

Announcement is made that Boston police officers will not engage in outdoor target practice at Fort Standish, Boston Harbor, this summer as has been the custom for the past four years.

The appointment of the three hundred additional men who are being called in groups of fifty or more at a time, calls for the united efforts of the corps of instructors in six periods, from now until November 26, when the last of the appointees will complete their courses. This will not interfere with the winter Armory revolver practice, however, which is scheduled to start the first of next year.

The summer course has included rifle and shotgun practice with a competitive shoot, using the department machine guns. Each group has been drilled in riot formation at the conclusion of the day's work.

Capt. Louis E. Lutz, in charge of the training of recruits, is also in charge of the school conducted in the Milk street building. His assistants are Sergt. Thomas S. J. Kavanagh, Edward J. Seibolt and William H. Evans.

WILL ENFORCE AUTOMOBILE LAW.

Superintendent Michael H. Crowley of the Police Department has issued a general order warning owners of automobiles who have been in the habit of parking cars all night upon the streets in front of their homes. There has been a long-standing rule that parking in the streets is not permitted after 1 a. m. Superintendent of Police Crowley addressed all the captains and requested that the officers give it their strict attention.

All over the city automobiles have been left out all night while the owners were asleep and not doing any worrying about the cars downstairs. Unconsciously they let the policemen upon the routes do the worrying. Policemen have observed machines, with lights extinguished, parked on all side streets and also on main thoroughfares, from 10.30 at night until 6 and 7 a. m. It so happens that many such parked cars have been stolen, for the auto thief knows his game well, observes how long the machine has been parked, finds in the directory where the owner lives and other data and can drive away this car without the slightest fear of being apprehended then and there.

I am informed by the Superintendent of Public Buildings and the Building Commission that the continued operation of these elevators is unsafe and dangerous. I am attaching herewith communications from the Building Department relative to the condition of the elevators. Since, in the opinion of the Building Commissioner, the installation of new elevators is deemed urgent, I accordingly recommend adoption of the accompanying order providing for the appropriation of $50,000 for this purpose.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Building Department, April 9, 1926.
Mr. Charles J. Fox,
Budget Commissioner.

Dear Sir,—With reference to your letter of April 5, regarding the two hydraulic elevators in City Hall, you will note the attached report of our elevator supervisor, T. J. Farrell.

I consider the replacement of these elevators extremely urgent, and it should be done at once.

Very truly yours,
L. K. ROURKE,
Building Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Building Department, April 7, 1926.
Ref. Two horizontal hydraulic elevators, City Hall, School Street, Boston.

Mr. Louis K. Rourke,
Building Commissioner.

Dear Sir,—On October 27, 1925, we sent a letter to the Public Buildings Department declaring the above elevators unsafe. Over a period of several years we have asked that these elevators be replaced with electric elevators similar to those in the Annex, so this department could certify to their safety beyond question.

These two machines are ten to one hydraulics. The four cables are 300 feet long, and if the cables broke at the anchorage on the machines, and the car descended, the weight of the cables and their friction over the ten sheaves would not be overhauled fast enough to operate the safety devices.

In that event the car would strike the pit at a speed of 200 to 500 feet per minute with the passengers, which would cause serious injuries. The guide rails are made in short sections, about seven feet long, and fastened with wooden screws to the posts. This is old construction and unstable.

Over thirty of this type of elevators have been removed in office buildings in the last three years. These two elevators have been installed about thirty years.

Respectfully,
T. J. FARRELL,
Supervisor, Elevator Division.

Ordered, That the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) be and hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Buildings for Elevators, City Hall, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the City to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

REPAIRING OF WHARF AT RAINSFORD ISLAND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am informed by the authorities in charge of the Randsford outings that the wharf at Rainsford Island must be repaired if the excursions are to be held at this island during the current year. The division engineer of the Bridge Department estimates that approximately $2,500 will be required to make the necessary repairs. I accordingly recommend adoption of the accompanying order providing for the transfer from the Reserve Fund of this amount.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $2,500, to the appropriation for Rainsford Island, Care of, $2,500.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

APPROPRIATION FOR COST OF TAX TITLE DEEDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 8, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of a request from the City Collector that an additional appropriation of $800 be made available to cover the cost of preparing the tax title deeds resulting from the annual sale of real estate because of unpaid taxes. This year, the sale was held one month earlier than usual and as a result the writing of a larger number of deeds was required. Last year approximately 4,600 deeds were prepared after the tax sale, whereas, this year it was necessary to prepare approximately 8,400 deeds. Such a large increase was not anticipated when the budget estimates were prepared, hence the additional appropriation is now made necessary. I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order providing for the transfer of the necessary amount from the Reserve Fund.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $800, to the appropriation for Collecting Department, B-29, Stenographic, Copying and Indexing, $800.

APPROPRIATION FOR FIRE ALARM BOXES.

Coun. WARD offered an order—That the sum of one hundred and forty thousand dollars be and hereby is appropriated, to be expended by the Fire Commissioner for the purchase and installation of fool-proof fire alarm boxes, and to meet the said expenditure the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, bonds of the City for this purpose.

The order was declared referred to the Committee on Finance.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, since the original order introduced after the Scobey Hospital fire, at which a woman was burned to death owing to the failure of the person who opened the box to pull the alarm, we have had another fire. Last week a similar fatality occurred on Columbus avenue, but in this case two lives were sacrificed. This will continue until fool-proof boxes are installed. The person sending in an alarm is naturally excited and upon hearing the bell ring rushes back to assist the unfortunates, believing that the alarm has been sent in when no alarm has been given, due to failure to pull down the hook. It is our duty to protect the people and the question of cost should be a secondary consideration. I move for suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

Chairman DOWLING—The order has been referred to the Committee on Finance.

Coun. WARD moved a reconsideration of the reference; lost, and the order stood referred to the Committee on Finance.

ABOLITION OF MARKET DEPARTMENT.

Coun. GUILD offered the following:

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston that chapter 21 of the revised "Ordinances of 1925" be and the same hereby is repealed; and

Be it further ordained that chapter 16, section 2, of said revised "Ordinances of 1925" be amended by adding thereto the following words:

"Section 6. He shall lease to suitable persons all stalls and cellars which become vacant at not less than the rents established by vote of the City Council. All leases shall be approved by the Mayor and shall contain the following conditions:

1. The lessee shall comply with all ordinances, regulations and orders relating to Faneuil Hall, or the Faneuil Hall Market limits as defined in chapter 1 of these ordinances.

2. The lessee shall at his own expense keep the demised premises in good repair and condition.

3. The lessee shall not place nor permit to be placed or kept, any article in any passageway of the market district or within the demised premises and projecting into such passageway.

4. Neither the lessee nor any of his employees shall smoke or have in his or their possession lighted pipes, cigars or cigarettes within the market as defined by chapter 1 of these ordinances.

5. The lessee shall not assign his lease, nor without the approval in writing of the superintendent previously obtained, sublet any part of the premises demised to him, nor permit any other person to occupy the same, nor shall he without such approval carry on any business therein other than that for which the premises are leased.

6. The lessee shall not throw nor permit to be thrown into any part of the market limits any refuse of any sort, nor suffer the same to remain within the premises demised to him but shall keep and remove the same as the superintendent or his deputy shall direct.

WIDENING OF OAKLAND AND ASHLAND STREETS.

Coun. GUILD offered the following:

Ordered, That chapter 220 of the Acts of 1926 entitled "An Act authorizing the City of Boston to borrow money for the Widening and Extension of Oakland and Ashland streets," be and the same hereby is accepted.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

DISCRIMINATION AGAINST IRISH IMMIGRANTS.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Whereas, There is now pending before the Congress of the United States legislation which is discriminatory to the Irish race in that the quota of immigrants allowed to come to the United States in the proposed amendment to the immigration statute is so insultingly small as to place citizens of the Irish Free State in the undesirable class, and

Whereas, The contribution of American citizens of Irish origin to the liberties and institutions of the United States has been far greater in proportion than that of any other race, and

Whereas, Insidious propaganda is ever at work to minimize the part played in the up-building of the great American Commonwealth by every race save those mythically classed as Nordics, be it therefore

Resolved, that the Boston City Council go on record as condemning the proposed legislation now before the United States Congress which insults and brands as undesirable the members of the race from which sprang a large percentage of the citizens of our city, and which has played so large a part in the progress not only of this municipality, but of the State of Massachusetts, and of the nation itself.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

7. Report on appointments submitted by the Mayor April 26, of William E. McElvaine, James L. Brooks, Richard J. Powers and William S. Cooper, to be constables (referred today under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar)—that the same be approved.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I have not the slightest expectation that the Council will follow what I have to say, but because they have already indicated in the meeting of the Executive Committee what their opinion is on the question of the appointment of additional constables in the City of Boston, I cannot see myself how any useful purpose can possibly be served by appointing additional men at this time to be constables in the City of Boston. Some two weeks ago the Council had before it a long list of nearly 200 names of men to be appointed as constables, and at that time there was a rumor circulated to the effect that the number would be ultimately pared down. As yet I have seen no evidence whatever of paring down. I think it is highly probable that the four men whose names are before us now are most estimable men and are entirely fitted to serve as constables of the City of Boston, but that does not alter the fact that, in my opinion, there have already been enough estimable men appointed as constables to take care of the situation in all respects, and there is no need whatever of appointing any more constables of the City of Boston.

The report was accepted, and the question came on confirmation of the appointments. Committee, Coun. Englert and Dowd. Whole number of ballots, 15; yeas 13, nays 2, and the appointments were confirmed.

PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. McGRATH, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor with accompanying four orders (referred March 22) to release various sewer easements—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said orders passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

2. Report on order (referred March 22) relative to the purchase of land on Summer street extension, near Commonwealth Pier viaduct for parking purposes—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

Coun. GILBODY, for Coun. GREEN, submitted reports of the Committee on Finance, as follows:

1. Report on order (submitted by the Mayor and referred April 20) for a loan of $70,000 to be expended by the Trustees of the Boston City Hospital for Maternity Building, furnishing and equipping—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

2. Report on message of Mayor with accompanying orders (referred April 20) appropriating $1,312,500 for various City Hospital purposes—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said orders passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

REPORT ON CITY HOSPITAL EXAMINATION.

Coun. ARNOLD, for the Committee on Rules, submitted the following:

Your Committee on Rules, to which was referred the order of Councilor Ward—

Ordered, That a special committee of five members of the Boston City Council be named by the President, for the purpose of conducting a thorough examination of the administration of the Boston City Hospital, including the treatment accorded the patients, the efficiency of the employees both as to numbers and ability, and such other matters as might have a bearing upon improving the service of the institution to the citizens of Boston and that said special committee report back to the City Council.

report as follows:

On Friday, April 9, 1926, the committee sat in conference with the trustees and the assistant superintendent of the Boston City Hospital for more than an hour and a half and then made a thorough inspection of the plant and facilities, occupying almost two hours more. This was supplemented by subsequent visits of individual members of the committee.

The Board of Trustees is composed of five high-minded, public-spirited men, whose wide and long experience in administration, medicine, sanitation, hospital construction and operation particularly fit them to make up a well-balanced board of high distinction. They are all men of mature age, but they seem to be particularly imbued with the interests of the hospital and with ideas of progressiveness which would seem to give assurance that the hospital will not stand still, but will continue to maintain and even advance the position it now holds, we are convinced, in the lead of all such institutions in this country.

From questions put to the trustees, it was established to the satisfaction of the committee that the hospital and its personnel are in a healthy and sound condition, the plant well maintained and the attending physicians, nurses and attendants capable, and their discipline and morale good.

The hospital plant consists of forty large buildings, not including several sheds, garbage houses, etc., that is, the main hospital, south department, two relief stations, convalescent home and eventually, the west department, which will revert back to the institution.

The number of beds in the main hospital, including extra cots, cribs and bassinets, is 834; south department, 338; Haymarket Square Relief Station, 34; East Boston Relief Station, 12; Convalescent Home, 34, or a total of 1,252.

The staff is distributed as follows: Consulting staff, 16, visiting staff, all grades, 125; house officers, 76; resident physicians and surgeons, 12; executives, 7, or a total of 236.

The number of patients treated amounts to the illuminating total, in round numbers, of 110,000 a year, or a daily average of 1,050 ward patients and 750 out-patients; in other words, of almost 4,000 calls inside and outside for every twenty-four hours.

There is no question that larger quarters and better facilities are required in more directions, but these requirements are being met by a scientific and systematic building plan, worked out after due deliberations and adapted to the finances of the city.

In the course of the inspection, the committee visited the children's ward, alcoholic ward, out-patient department, and several of the general wards, as well as the kitchens, laundries, food laboratories, dining rooms for the help, pantries, refrigerators and other items of the physical plant.

The entire plant was found to be spotlessly clean, the bed linen frequently changed and cleaned, the food cleanly handled and appetizingly prepared. Meat, eggs butter and similar articles were properly cared for and inspected.

The personnel was found to be, as far as our inspection and questioning enabled us to ascertain, attentive, courteous and capable. Of course, in such a large plant, occasional instances of inattention to duty or lack of the proper care of the patients might be properly expected. No such instances were observed, however, or reported by any patient questioned. Some of the old wards have without question outperformed their usefulness in the sense that is understood of the modern ward of today. However, these wards must be continued until they are replaced, for the hospital's present capacity is strained to the utmost.

Commenting on particular charges that have been made, it is worthy of remark that the trustees quite frankly admitted that the evil of rats is one which they found particularly difficult to overcome. Doctor Wilson stated that all possible means are being used to combat this pest by poison, rat catchers, periodical clean-ups and blocking up methods of ingress. The fact that the hospital is close to the Albany street wharves makes it particularly liable to attack by swarms of rats whenever an unusually high tide overflows the wharves, and, of course, the old method of construction of some of the buildings makes them by no means as rat proof as are the new buildings.

The committee found the superintendent engaged in devising means for screening the steam tunnels with the hope that this might still further reduce the opportunities of the rat to enter the hospital. We are satisfied that everything humanly possible is being done in this connection by the hospital staff.

As to vermin the trustees and the superintendent, also, frankly admitted their difficulties. Every precaution possible is taken, the new patients bathed and their clothes deloused, but, as one of them stated, the vermin are not in the hospital, they must be brought in, and it is not always possible under circumstances where patients arrive at the point of death, requiring instant attention, to exercise the precautions that are required. Once in, the vermin find it easy in the old wards to subsist, and it is extremely difficult to entirely eradicate and exterminate them in their refuges behind old boards, wainscoting, etc. The fact that three men are employed constantly for this work and, in addition, the employment of firms to go over the entire hospital building, shows that the administration is alert to remedy the condition.

The problem is not difficult and in fact it does not exist in the modern wards and, in time, with the construction of new buildings this difficulty will be completely removed.

In regard to bed sores, your committee found that all cases are listed weekly by the matron's office and a copy given to the resident surgeon who follows the cases up from a surgical standpoint.

The problem of help is always a serious one in public institutions and here we find that there is usually a large overturn. All employees, with the exception of doctors and nurses, must be obtained from civil service or the municipal employment bureau. As the remuneration is not in any sense munificent, it is pleasing to know that a most commendable devotion to duty generally maintains.

The training school for nurses and the opportunity afforded recent graduates in medicine to obtain experience in their profession is a most valuable service which this institution renders to the public and a service which reaches a portion of the community not usually in its beneficiaries.

Space or time does not permit the statements of a long list of especially grateful patients that have come to the ears of the members of your committee, but it may well be said that many persons come from far distant points, even including foreign countries, to work and study in the Thorndike and pathological departments, and several of these men have been referred by the Rockefeller Foundation on account of the unusual opportunities offered at the Boston City Hospital.

In conclusion, it is our opinion that the Boston City Hospital is being administered by a group of men whose devotion and interest is whole-hearted and their ability unquestioned, that the plant is serving the community to the utmost limit of its capacity and is, in fact, many times overtaxed.

Any attempt to shake the confidence of that great army of the afflicted, who must depend upon such an institution for relief, is most unfortunate and entirely unwarranted and undeserved. The plans under way for the extension and development of the hospital are adequate and much to be desired, and when completed, the Boston City Hospital will be in a position to serve this community in the future as it has served it in the past, in a manner second to no other similar institution in America or the world.

SETH F. ARNOLD,
THOMAS H. GREEN,
THOMAS W. MCMAHON,
JOSEPH McGRATH,
HENRY PARKMAN, JR.

Coun. ARNOLD—This, Mr. President, is signed by the full membership of the committee.

The report was accepted.

On motion of Coun. McGRATH, the report was ordered printed as a city document.

President KEENE in the chair.

TENNIS ON JOHN WINTHROP PLAYGROUND.

Coun. McGRATH offered an order—That the Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make the John Winthrop Playground available for playing tennis from 6 to 8 o'clock p. m. on week days and on Sundays up until 3 o'clock p. m. Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

The following matter was on the table:

5. John H. Brady.
6. John J. Buckley.
7. Jeremiah A. Twomey.
8. Hugh Wylie.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I move that we take No. 8 on the calendar from the table (the appointment of Hugh Wylie). In this connection, let me say that it was placed on the table two weeks ago at my request, because I felt at the time that the appointment of Mr. Hugh Wylie as constable should not be at that time confirmed, he being in court. Since that time he has been completely exonerated and I would like to do him justice, having his name placed before the Council for confirmation.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I would also move that No. 7 be taken from the table (appointment of Jeremiah A. Twomey as constable). I objected to this appointment being confirmed at our previous meeting, but I will say that now, so far as I am concerned, I have no further objection to the Council acting upon the appointment.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I would also like to amend the original motion by taking No. 5 from the table (appointment of John H. Brady as constable). I was the councilor who desired the name laid on the table, because of some information that was brought to me, which I have found on personal investigation was not so.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I would like to further amend the amendment by taking from the table the name of John J. Buckley, No. 6 (appointment of John J. Buckley as constable). I am making this motion in the absence of Coun. Greene, who would do it if he were here.

The Council voted to take Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 8, as above set forth, from the table. The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Arnold and Parkman. Whole number of ballots, 15; yeas 15, nays 0, and the appointments were confirmed.

APPROPRIATION FOR NEW BRIGHTON COURTHOUSE.

Coun. HEFFERNAN offered the following: That his Honor the Mayor be requested to provide an appropriation for furnishing and for electrical fixtures for the new Brighton Courthouse.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, under the last administration the construction of a courthouse in the Brighton district was started. We have today a half building nearly completed and unless funds are provided we are simply going to have that half building without any fittings or fixtures. Brighton seems to be getting half buildings from the city in recent years. I think on the same street there are two half completed structures, buildings that were never finished. This half building will be ready for occupancy about June 1, but there are no fixtures, there is no furniture of any kind for the building, and I would ask the Council to pass this order under suspension of the rule, in the hope that we may get some furniture and fixtures, so that the building may be used and not be turned over by the architect in a half completed condition.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I would be glad to defer to the councilor from Brighton, but I don't approve of this Council taking action without some knowledge of the situation in regard to which it is acting. Therefore, without an opportunity to obtain some more information in the matter—for instance, as to whether furnishings and fixtures were originally contemplated in the original appropriation or loan order—I think we should not act. Let us not be too hasty in these matters.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, for the information of the councilor I would say that originally, in March of 1924, there was a loan order of $225,000 for this courthouse. Afterwards there was a transfer of $35,000 more, making a total of $260,000. Of that amount, $28,087.50 was paid by the City of Boston for the land. The general contract called for $212,401, the architect's fee $12,744.06, and miscellaneous expenditures, $1,200, making a total of $254,440.69. The balance now on hand is $5,559.31. I understand that that amount will in no way complete the fixtures or the furniture of the building, and this is merely a request that the Mayor provide a sufficient appropriation in addition to that amount now on hand so that something may be done in the way of providing furniture and fixtures, not leaving the building in the state in which it is. We are getting only a half building. One side of the building has a blank wall, looking like the back of a garage, the city apparently being in such poor condition that it cannot put up the other half. But we are merely asking that we at least have lights and chairs so that we may be able to use the half we have.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor a question. I did not quite get the figures. How large was the original proposed cost of the building, and who is responsible for not having the building properly completed,—if you can answer?

Coun. HEFFERNAN—That is a question that I cannot very well answer, because it strikes me, regardless of who the Mayor of the City of Boston may be, in every administration it seems to be the policy to start buildings and never complete them. Boston is full of half completed buildings. It seems to be the idea to get a building started and then let it finish itself. To complete this building will cost $200,000 more, and the city ought to provide the money, but we are not asking in this order for the $200,000 additional now. This is merely to provide lights and furniture so that we may use the half we have. On the same street are two other buildings which were started in the same way under previous administrations, and have never been completed, and Boston is full of half completed buildings started under various administrations.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, if there is any doubt in the minds of any member of the Council in regard to the condition out there, I would ask any member who has that doubt to go out to Chestnut Hill avenue and see the architectural monstrosity standing there as a tribute to the intelligence of people who start buildings for the city and do not complete them. Any member who goes out there will have his eyes opened. As Coun. Heffernan has said, apparently there is no serious thought in the minds of those starting these buildings to give the district what it needs. The original appropriation for the Brighton courthouse, I understand, came in during the last year of Mayor Curley's appropriation. I am offering no criticism in that particular. I think there was an honest and sincere effort somewhere, in some remote corner of his administration, to give the Brighton district a courthouse, to which it was entitled, and in which the court's business of that district could be transacted. Two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars was provided for that purpose, architects were called in, land was purchased and that sort of thing, and the architects, knowing that they had only $225,000 to work with, drew certain plans and sketches, and proceeded. It was found that the city did not come within $125,000 or $150,000 of sufficient money to carry the building through under the plans and, as a result, they merely went as far as the $225,000 would carry them, carrying out to that extent and that proportion the plan for the building. The courthouse as it now stands, as has been said, a half building, is nearly completed, but no more resembles the original sketch than a stillborn child resembles an Atlantic City bathing beauty. It is the toughest looking building in this city. The original plans were fine, calling for everything that the court required. But, as has been said, they were not and could not be carried out, and for the building as it stands there is no provision for furniture or for light. And, referring to this paper that has been quoted by Coun. Heffernan, giving the figures on the building, there is a note at the bottom of that paper, taken from the specifications, which says: "The lighting fixtures throughout and the setting of same are not a part of this contract." It is evident that there is merely a duplication of the same folly or blunder that happened in connection with the Police Headquarters building. You will recall that additional money had to be provided there for lights and equipment necessary in that building. Of course, presumably, some day this courthouse will be completed, but in the meantime the building, even so far as it has gone, cannot be used without lights and furniture. It is supposed to be ready for occupancy about June 1, but, if I am correctly informed, Judge Connolly made a statement the other day that he would not move the court into the building, it was in such bad shape. Personally, I don't blame him. Certainly something must be done in the way of supplying furniture and lighting fixtures. You must have some lights and some furniture so that the judges and the lawyers who may have to appear there on drunk cases may have a chance to sit down. I hope the order will pass.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor from Brighton who spoke first on the matter if it will do any harm to have this order laid over to the next meeting? Certainly other sections of the city are interested in matters of this kind. I come, for example, from a section that pays nearly fifty cents on every dollar of taxes of the City of Boston, a district which also has its needs in the way of public buildings or playgrounds, and if we are going to continually run into such additional expenditures for police headquarters, courthouses and other buildings, because of insufficient appropriations, I don't see where the other sections of the city are going to come in. When such mistakes as these are made, when they start in on buildings without having sufficient appropriations to carry them through, where is the Finance Commission which we hear so much about when it comes to meddling in small matters? They will watch somebody taking a cuspidor, when somebody else is going through the window with $200,000! I don't think we ought to suspend the rules today for the passage of this order. There should be a proper investigation and we should find out why the building was not completed within the appropriation that was made, why they proceeded with the appropriation of a certain amount of money when they knew it would not be sufficient. I don't think when they are handling matters of this sort they ought to appropriate the people's money in any such manner, but there should be a proper appropriation to start with before a building is commenced. I don't think we should suspend the rules at this time. I think the people who are responsible to the citizens of this city, we as representatives ought to have a proper explanation. We continually hear criticism of members of the City Council; we are continually subjected to abuse by the press, the Finance Commission and others, do not have any opportunity to defend ourselves but must listen to innuendoes and criticism, and still, in important matters of this kind we see this sort of thing done, and we are supposed to simply go ahead, not taking it seriously, and act without due consideration. I don't think we ought to suspend the rules. I think the matter should be referred to a committee and that we should find out something about it, why this sort of thing has happened. I don't believe in suspending building operations, but I do believe in proper administration of the city's affairs; and I don't believe the Mayor should have an opportunity to veto bills affecting other sections of the city that are badly in need of improvements because there has been dereliction in such matters as this. I hope the gentleman from Brighton will consent to having this matter laid over to another meeting of the Council, so that the Committee on Finance may have a chance to investigate the thing and make a proper report to the Council.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. Chairman, for the information of the councilor for the West End, let me say that this order does not call for the expenditure of money. It is merely a request that the Mayor submit a proper appropriation. I believe that $7,500 is all the money that will be necessary for the immediate object in hand. If the thing can go right to the Mayor, and he can submit an appropriation to us, you will then have an opportunity to vote on the appropriation when it comes in and to raise any objection you wish. It is not a question of voting away any rights we may have today, but is merely a request that his Honor the Mayor send in to us a proper appropriation so that this necessary work may be accomplished. Here you have the building constructed, as far as it has gone, with the workmen about to go out. There is, of course, a certain carrying charge on any building. Here an appropriation of $225,000 was made, with some additional amounts that were given, and you are going to allow that to remain idle for months, unless you provide something in the way of fixtures and furniture. They will have to go in, any way, if the building is to be used. The situation is, of course, the same as in the case of the police headquarters, that unless some such provision is made the building cannot be used. Certainly court cannot be held there unless provision is made for furniture and lighting. I say that this order, which merely requests the Mayor to send in an appropriation for this purpose, should be acted on now, and that when the Mayor sends in his appropriation order, if the councilor desires to object to it or to investigate, he can do as he sees fit.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, if there is such urgency in this matter, why hasn't the Superintendent of Public Buildings requested it?

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I will say for the information of the gentleman that I understand that the Superintendent of Public Buildings has not only requested this, but has also requested that the city complete the building.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I don't want to get into this discussion again, but I would like to amplify the answer of Coun. Heffernan. I would like to say that we talked this matter over with the Superintendent of Public Buildings during the recess. It is, however, a matter as far over his head as it is over the head of another official whom I will not name on this floor. Mr. Englert, the Superintendent of Public Buildings, does not know very much about the situation there. I have been to his office three times, in company with the councilor on my right (Coun. Heffernan) trying to get action on the matter. Judge Connolly is very much interested in having action taken, naturally, and wants, as all the people of my district, to see the courthouse completed. This is right on the borderline between the two wards, so that it is a matter that concerns both Coun. Heffernan and myself. We are both interested, and the people of the whole district are interested. They want to see the building put into shape where it can be used. Two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars has already been put into it, with some additional amounts that have been transferred, but it cannot be used without being fitted up. As Coun. Heffernan says, if any councilor wants to object when an appropriation order of $7,500 or $5,000 is sent in, for lights and furnishings, he can do so when the order comes in here from the Mayor. We are merely asking the Mayor to try to provide the money in some way, so that the building can be put in condition where it may be used.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

The City of Boston takes pride in the fact that it looks carefully after the religious life of those for whom it has to care. This is especially true at Deer Island, where the chapel has undergone repairs and repainting. This chapel has also recently been fitted with a new altar.

Here each Sunday morning from 400 to 500 persons attend services conducted by the Rev. Father Joseph F. Leahy, S. J., of St. Mary's Church, North End, Boston, while in the afternoon another service is held, conducted by the Rev. George E. Stokes. The entire place has been newly painted and the floors cleaned. For those of Jewish faith Dr. Moses Sedar conducts services. All the renovating work was done by inmates of the Island.

In addition to this there is another hall used during the week for entertainments and movie exhibitions for the entertainment of those who are at the Island.

ELECTION COMMISSIONERS TAKE ACTIVE MEASURES TO PURIFY JURY LISTS.

HOLDS PERSONAL INTERVIEWS WITH THOSE ON POLICE LISTS WHOSE RECORDS MIGHT DISQUALIFY THEM.

The Board of Election Commissioners are making a most searching effort to purify the jury list. For the first time the Board has called to the department all persons on the police list whose records seem objectionable and has found sufficient cause to eliminate at least one hundred persons.

As a result of personal interviews the Election Commissioners have had with 400 men whose names had been among those drawn for jury duty this year, fully 100 of the men have been adjudged unfit for jury duty because of deficiencies of general character or because of physical disabilities.

This is the first time the commission has gone to such lengths to insure better quality juries, and this system will be permanently in effect. The practice hitherto has been to depend upon the police to investigate the character of those men whose names had been drawn for jury service.

The Election Department has, in past years, scanned the card records of each person whose name was drawn, which records were gathered by police. Where the card record was not up to standard, the commissioner forthwith rejected the individual without an interview.

The 1926 jury list, from which the venires will be drawn, beginning July 1, will number about 8,200 men. Each man whose name gets into the list has been investigated, but when the name afterward is drawn in a venire a new check-up will be made upon each individual to make sure there has been no court record established by that individual, and that no other disqualification has occurred.

The commissioners feel that they can accept without question the names of 6,600 of the 7,000 men whose records were regularly investigated by the police. But among the 400 summoned in for personal interview the cards showed that many were unemployed and that others suffered physical ailments, such, for instance, as deafness.

Chairman M. W. Burlen and Commissioners James F. Eagan, Frank Seiberlich and Thomas E. Goggin, with Deputy Commissioner Thomas F. Mansfield, have been interviewing eighty men nightly at their City Hall offices.

The names of some 1,200 men will be the 1926 list, inasmuch as this number of the old list were not called for duty.

The amended law is that, henceforth, no man's name shall remain on the jury list for more than three years, if he is not called to serve. Each man whose name is so removed from the jury list shall have exemption from jury duty for a three-year period, after which he may be called again to service.

Francis, Representative John P. Buckley, Representative William P. Prendergast, Representative John J. McCarthy, Councilman Thomas H. Green, William G. O'Hare, John F. O'Brien, Dr. Joseph M. IMPROVEMENT OF AIRPORT.

The House Ways and Means Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature have voted to report a bill authorizing the City of Boston to expend $10,000 for additional grading work at the East Boston Airport. The committee had before it a bill providing that this appropriation be made by the Commonwealth, but decided that if further work of this nature is to be undertaken it should be by the City of Boston rather than the Commonwealth.

BOARD OF ASSESSORS CALL UPON 80,000 CITIZENS FOR PAYMENT OF PERSONAL TAXES.

NOTICES SENT OUT AND RESPONSE HAS BEEN NOTEWORTHY — THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS THUS TO BE GAINED BY CITY.

The Board of Assessors are to take vigorous means to increase the collections of taxes upon personal property because so many citizens who are legally and morally bound to pay the City of Boston a tax upon their personal property, as distinct from real estate holdings, have so long evaded this obligation, and because of the obvious necessity of increasing so far as possible, other forms of revenue so that the new tax rate in August may be kept within reasonable bounds.

The Board of Assessors have sent to 80,000 men and women residents in Boston the department's blank form, inviting them to fill in such taxable items in personals as they own, and to file this document at City Hall. Some 40,000 of the forms have already been filed.

The Assessing Department's field workers will now proceed to verify these returns. In cases where no return is made on taxable personal property the assessors, if they are aware of the existence of such taxable property, will send out a tax bill based on the assessor's estimate of the value of such property. In instances where persons so billed enter a protest, a sum equal to 50 per cent of the bill will be added thereto before any consideration is given the appeal for abatement.

Automobiles are said to be the commonest items of personal property to come under city taxation. Other items are all cash on hand in excess of $10,000, watches, precious stones, pianos, household furniture of value in excess of $1,000, silverware, yachts, paintings and tapestries.

The assessors are fully aware that many families with luxurious home furnishings never make returns on them. For instance, it is known that the bank vaults of Boston contain family silver plate owned by leading Boston families to the aggregate value of many hundreds of thousands of dollars. This plate is taken from vault to home for special occasions, such as weddings, and then returned. But the city has always been unable to get the Legislature to enact a law that would empower it to force banks to inform the assessors how much private plate is held in vaults and the identity of the owners.

The State has taken over the right to tax corporations and large business concerns, leaving the city only the power to tax machinery used by corporations and companies, but refunding to the city its proportionate share of this corporation taxation. For such machinery as is taxable, the corporations will be expected to make returns to the city on the same blank which is used for personal items.

BOSTON AMERICAN LEAGUE,
BASEBALL COMPANY, 24 JERSEY STREET,

BOSTON, May 10, 1926.

COL. THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Acting Fire Commissioner, Boston.

MY DEAR COMMISSIONER,—I presume, like all others who are before the public, the fire chief and the firemen have to stand for a lot of unjust criticism.

I want to say, however, that in the fire at Fenway Park on Saturday we are more than pleased at the way it was handled. In fact, after looking it over I do not know how they ever saved the roof of the grandstand, and I would like to have you say to the men that I appreciate the way they handled this fire.

Very truly yours,

BOSTON AMERICAN LEAGUE BASEBALL Co.,
BOB QUINN,
President.

By order of Acting Fire Commissioner
Thomas F. Sullivan.

DANIEL F. SENNOTT,
Chief of Department.

THE BOSTON TRICENTENARY.

The Boston Tercentenary Committee of one hundred has been dissolved and reappointed to a new committee which has been named the Boston Three Hundredth Anniversary Committee.

Concerning the change the following statement has been made by the Mayor:

"The chairman and several officers and members of the Executive Committee of the Boston Tercentenary Committee have resigned. These resignations I have been reluctant to accept and have concluded not to do so. Whether the celebration is to be great or small I deem it advantageous to have represented in the anniversary movement the distinguished men and women who have been identified with it.

"The machinery of organization thus far set up, however, appears to be so elaborate in character as to warrant proceeding upon the assumption that a very large amount of money will be necessary, whereas the proposed scope of the work to be done is quite indefinite inasmuch as suggestions have been made for an expenditure as high as $20,000,000 and as low as $100,000.

"I do not believe that further steps should be taken in organizing until after a thorough review of all suggestions presented up to this time and the formulation of a specific plan as to the kind of celebration we are to have and the ways and means of supporting it.

"Therefore I have dissolved the Boston Tercentenary Committee and have appointed all who were members of it to serve on a new committee to be known as the Boston Three Hundredth Anniversary Committee. I take pleasure in notifying you of your appointment upon this committee."

The following members of the Boston Three Hundredth Anniversary Committee will act as an executive body to conduct the review above referred to and make such recommendations as may seem appropriate for directing the activities of so important an event: Chairman A. C. Ratchesky, Henry V. Cunningham, Mrs. James M. Curley, Mrs. Curtis Guild, James B. Noyes, Richard S. Teeling and Wellington Wells.

CLAIMS DISAPPROVED.

The Law Department has disapproved eighteen claims against the city, aggregating $2,439.55, and they are classified as follows:

Against the Fire Department, one, amounting to $150; against the Health Department, one, amounting to $13.85; against the Police Department, one, amounting to $400; against the Public Works Department, fourteen, amounting to $1,775.70; against the Schoolhouse Department, one, amounting to $100.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

Walter Curley & Son have been allowed to amend the contract for the moving of two portables in the various districts, by striking out the words and figures, "April 1, 1926," on page 12, and substituting therefor the words and figures, "June 1, 1926," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said section 3, on page 12 shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about March 26, 1926, and is to be completed on or before June 1, 1926."

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 18 the Mayor approved a contract with the Dewell Company for preparing the assessed poll list. A communication from Edward F. Kelly of the Assessing Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 18, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—We desire your permission to make a contract with the Dewell Company, without advertising, in the preparation of the assessed poll list for the year 1926, typing of the poll tax book and collector's manuscript and the writing of the poll tax bills and coupons.

This work will necessitate preparing two copies of the police lists, showing the name, residence, ward and serial number of each male person over twenty years of age. In order to give a consecutively numbered list it will be necessary for them to eliminate all females, businesses, vacant dwellings, stores, garages, etc., upwards of 270,000 items; and then number the remaining male residents consecutively, beginning with No. 1 for each ward, approximately 250,000 items.

From this list we desire them to write the poll tax bills and coupons giving name, street and number, ward number and serial number and the same information on coupon. The limited time between the earliest delivery of the completed lists and the dates when the bills must be issued renders the operation within the department liable to seriously interfere with the work of property assessments.

The Dewell Company have done this and other work for this department at various times; are a reliable concern, and are familiar with our books. In order to hasten the payment of the poll tax bills, it is necessary to speedily complete this work. The Dewell Company will complete the poll tax bills in ten working days.

I have been advised by the chief clerk that, upon investigation, other concerns, namely, the Underwood Typewriter Company and the Remington Typewriter Company, who considered doing this work, have refused to undertake it as they are unable to comply with the requirements of the contract, and we are unable to find any other concern competent to do the work, who are willing to do it at a less cost.

The Dewell Company will further agree to deliver the lists complete, not later than June 15, and the poll tax bills within ten working days from that date. In view of all the circumstances, the fact of the early date, and that they have agreed to do it at a less cost than anyone else competent to do the work, we desire your permission to make the contract, without advertising, at a total cost of $9,000.

Respectfully,

EDWARD KELLY,
Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service).

Upon May 20 the Mayor approved a contract with the Tratten DiCicco, Inc., for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from J. H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 19, 1926.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the Tratten DiCicco, Inc., 1116 Commonwealth avenue, Allston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon May 14 the Mayor approved a contract with the C. & R. Construction Company for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from J. H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to the C. & R. Construction Company, 75 Bradeen street, West Roxbury, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,

BOSTON, April 20, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Under date of April 6, 1926, publicly advertised bids were made on approximately seven tons of powdered arsenate of lead, to be delivered to the Park Department. Quotations were received from three bidders, but only one of these, namely, Riches, Piver & Co., submitted their bid on our regular printed forms.

The Dow Chemical Company and the General Chemical Company submitted their bids on letter forms instead of our proposal blanks. The bid submitted by the General Chemical Company at $265 per ton was based on supplying arsenate of lead in four-pound packages, while the Park Department specifies that the material should be in twenty-pound containers.

In view of these irregularities, I would request that all bids be rejected and that the contract be awarded to the Dow Chemical Company, the second lowest bidder, at a price of $275 per ton, without advertising.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK L. BRIER,
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

Bids, opened April 6 were as follows: Riches, Piver & Co., $280 per ton; discount, ten days, 2 per cent; the Dow Chemical Company, $275 per ton; discount, ten days, 1 per cent; bid on their letter form; letter at auditor's not signed; General Chemical Company, Orchard brand, $265 per ton; discount, fifteen days, 2 per cent; bid on their letter form; in cases of twelve four-pound bags each.

Upon May 17 the Mayor approved a contract with the Boston Buick, Inc., for one Buick Master Six for the Fire Department. A communication from Frank L. Brier of the Supply Department was as follows:

BOSTON, May 14, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Permission is requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to the Boston Buick, Inc., to deliver to the Fire Department the following: One Buick Master Six 26-45 touring car, with self-starter, spare tire carrier and demountable rims complete, delivered, $1,402; less allowance on one 1922 Buick touring car, $100; net amount of contract, $1,302.

As this concern is the manufacturer, no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK L. BRIER,
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

FINANCE COMMISSION DISCUSSES GARBAGE CONTRACT.

The Finance Commission has addressed the following letter to the Mayor:

Boston, May 16, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

SIR,—The Finance Commission calls your attention to two contracts, each estimated at $4,000, one given in the month of February to Coleman Brothers Company, Inc., for collecting and removing ashes, store dirt, house dirt, refuse and garbage in the North End and West End and Beacon Hill district, and one to Michael H. Loonie for removing ashes and rubbish from the alleys and streets of the South End district. The work of collection of ashes and rubbish in these districts is regularly done by the city force with city teams and trucks. The work under the two contracts was to supplement the work of the city force in the emergency which arose on account of the great storms in February when, because of the delay caused by the storms, the work became too great for the city force.

These two contracts were awarded without public advertisement and your Honor's consent to them was obtained on the ground of emergency. The Finance Commission finds that though there may have been an emergency as to collecting refuse, there was no emergency which required the letting of these two contracts. It finds also that though the two contracts were for similar work, one was on a cost-plus basis and in the other no cost basis was fixed, and that the contractors were allowed to charge at different rates. It further finds that both the contracts were wasteful, that the Coleman contract was illegal, and the validity of the Loonie contract is doubtful.

THE COLEMAN CONTRACT.

In the North End and West End and Beacon Hill district which the Coleman contract covered, there was an existing contract with the B. E. Grant Company to furnish supplemental teams and auto trucks at the following prices: Double teams with driver, $7.10 per day; single teams with driver, $6.10 per day; auto trucks (270 cubic feet minimum capacity with chauffeur), $23 per day.

No one requested the Grant Company to furnish these supplemental vehicles at the comparatively moderate price of his contract. The Commissioner of Public Works testified before the Finance Commission that he thought the Grant Company had already furnished trucks to the extent of the quota required in its contract. In fact it had not. The work was given to the Coleman Brothers Company under a contract, as finally executed, with no price limit. The contractor could set its own price.

It was allowed to charge $28 for trucks, as against Grant's contract price of $23. In addition, the contractor was allowed to charge a 15 per cent profit for all foremen, timekeepers and laborers, at per diem prices substantially greater than the prices of the Grant Company for similar work. After the Coleman Brothers Company had begun work, the Grant Company, according to the testimony of Mr. Grant, protested to the Commissioner of Public Works and was allowed to send its trucks into the district. The Coleman Company stopped work.* The following table shows a comparison of the prices of Coleman and Grant, based on an eight hour day:

Coleman Brothers Company, Inc.—Auto trucks, $28 per day; foremen, $8 plus 15 per cent, $9.20 per day; laborers, $5.20 plus 15 per cent, $5.98 per day; timekeepers, $8 plus 15 per cent, $9.20 per day.

B. E. Grant Company.—Auto trucks, $23 per day; foremen, $7 plus 15 per cent, $8.05 per day; laborers, $4.50 plus 15 per cent, $5.18 per day; timekeepers, $5 plus 15 per cent, $5.75 per day.

Although this was a contract for over $1,000 and could be awarded only with your Honor's approval, the record shows that the work of the contractor was completed before your permission was obtained. The bills rendered show that the contractor performed the work between February 18 and March 1, both dates inclusive. Documents on file show that your written permission was dated March 2, and the contract executed on March 13. It is a well known rule of law that the approval of the Mayor must precede the award of the contract. (Bowditch v. Boston, 168 Mass. 239.)

THE LOONIE CONTRACT.

In the South End district there was also an existing contract for furnishing supplemental teams and trucks. The existing contract was held by the M. H. Loonie Company, of which Michael H. Loonie is president and treasurer. The new contract was let to Michael H. Loonie as an individual. Michael H. Loonie under the new contract used the trucks which, as president and treasurer of the M. H. Loonie Company, he should have furnished under the existing contract. When the M. H. Loonie Company furnished the trucks under its contract it charged for them $23 a day. When Michael H. Loonie furnished these trucks under his own contract he charged for them $28 a day, plus an additional profit of 15 per cent, making $32.20 in all. To fulfil his contract Michael H. Loonie hired additional trucks from other contractors. By some process not clear to the commission they all billed their trucks at $28 a day. The trucks varied in capacity from three tons to five tons. It has been impossible to get satisfactory evidence of the use of subcontractors' trucks. They kept practically no records and nearly all payments were made in cash. One subcontractor at first testified that he could not remember on what streets he drove his truck, and at a later hearing stated that he did not drive it at all, but that some one else drove it.

The commission has received much testimony on the cost per day of trucks. In no case has the cost of a five-ton truck been estimated at more than $25 and one authority estimated the cost at about $17 per day. The previous administration established the price at $23 per day. This was printed in the contract form. While no price was mentioned in the Coleman contract, the Michael H. Loonie contract on a cost plus 15 per cent basis established no method of estimating the cost. Thus, at the first opportunity for letting such contracts after the close of the last administration, the department did away with the established contract price. Mr. Loonie himself testified that his company's trucks were furnished to the city for snow removal in February at $23 a day and that the company did not lose anything on this work. In answer to a question he said: "The city is a pretty reliable corporation to work for. It is better to have them (the trucks) working than to have them idle, because you make some profit at $23, a little; you would never get rich on it."

Assuming that Mr. Loonie paid $28 on such trucks as he hired, he was entitled under his contract to charge 15 per cent on such payments but, inasmuch as he testified that at $23 a day his company was making a profit on its trucks, the total charge on such trucks as he or the company which he represents furnished should not be over 15 per cent on $23 less the profit that was made at $23.

The reason given by the Commissioner of Public Works for not calling on the M. H. Loonie Company to furnish the required trucks under the existing contract was the same as that given in connection with the Coleman contract, that he thought this company had furnished its annual quota of approximately 300 truck days. A study of the records by the engineer of the commission shows that this was not a fact. Even if the quota had been exhausted, no justification was thereby furnished for entering into this wasteful cost-plus contract, in which even the capacity of the trucks to be furnished was not specified and anything from a Mack truck to a Ford would have come within the terms of the agreement. This contract was originally estimated to amount to approximately $4,000, but up to April 13 it had already cost the city $12,755.53.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That, in view of the fact that the M. H. Loonie Company was under contract to furnish the required trucks, the Law Department be requested to determine whether the contract of M. H. Loonie personally to render the same service was valid.
2. That the actual cost of the trucks to Michael H. Loonie be determined and that he be allowed no more than his profit of 15 per cent on this cost.
3. That the market price for trucks of various sizes be established.
4. That no more such contracts be let without fixing the unit prices to be paid for the work to be performed.
5. That when contracts are let for supplying supplemental trucks in various districts of the city, they be made for such adequate numbers that no excuse may hereafter arise for letting emergency contracts to cover the same districts.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
CHARLES L. CARR, Chairman.

MAYOR REFERS MATTER TO LAW DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor's comment was as follows: The important feature in the Finance Commission statement, relating to the collection of refuse and garbage, is that it touched upon the contract of Michael

H. Loonie which was originally estimated to cost $4,000 but up to April 13 cost $12,755.53. When the bill was rendered for the last-named sum the Mayor held it up, as he deemed it a proper matter for the Finance Commission to look into. They have looked into it as they should and their recommendations will be referred as they desire to the Corporation Counsel for a determination as to the validity of the charge.

OTHER CITIES PROVIDING NEW FEATURES AS MODERN SCHOOL IDEAS.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT AUGUSTINE L. RAFTER MAKES REPORT ON VISIT TO VARIOUS MUNICIPALITIES FOR STUDY.

The following is the report of Augustine L. Rafter, assistant superintendent, upon the subject of his recent visit to school systems in Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y., Detroit, Mich., and Cleveland, Ohio, over a period extending from April 20 to 29, 1926. This was presented to the School Committee at its meeting held on Monday, May 17, 1926, and placed on file.

Boston, May 12, 1926.

To the School Committee of the City of Boston.

Following is a brief report of some observations made during a visit to the cities of Rochester, Buffalo, Detroit and Cleveland, over a period extending from April 20 to April 29, 1926.

The school sites in all the cities visited differ materially from those in Boston and its vicinity. Cleveland, for instance, does not build an elementary school on a site smaller than three and one half acres; six are recommended by the superintendent. Six and eight acres are common in Rochester and Buffalo. In Detroit the Roosevelt Intermediate and High School and the Teachers College are in the center of a forty-acre tract, the greater portion of which will in time be covered by school buildings.

Each of the four cities believes in buying and holding land. Sometimes a tract is subdivided, a portion held for and covered by a school building. The remainder of the original area, restricted for building lots, thus insuring a desirable immediate neighborhood, is sold and almost invariably at a profit. Considering the size of the site, the best interests of the pupils would demand a school building of moderate height, but, as a matter of fact, three and four story buildings seem to predominate.

The modern school buildings inspected for high, intermediate and upper elementary grades, contain swimming pools which are 75 feet long and 30 feet wide, with a depth of 3½ feet at the shallower end and gradually deepening to 6½ feet at the other. A pool may be entered from either end of the room, the boys on one end, the girls on the other. Entrance is permitted only through a shower-bath room thus insuring a shower before one is admitted to the pool. The water in the pool is scientifically treated and tested every day or two and its purity assured. Swimming and life saving are taught successfully. A boy having taken a shower, approaches a wicket through which an attendant passes him a wire basket which holds a towel, his bathing trunks and perhaps sneakers. One hundred of these baskets are loaded onto a specially built truck. The line to the showers is continuous, no blocking and in three minutes the pool is full.

On emerging from the pool the reverse process is maintained. The clothing is laundered, repaired if in need of it, and replaced in individual baskets. The same procedure is followed on the girls' side but in addition thereto there is installed a row of hair drying devices. The heated air in the dryer is controlled by a pedal, on which the girl steps, and a flood of air soon dries her hair. The release of the pedal automatically shuts off the heated air. No time is lost. The pool is occupied every minute of the school day.

Heavy battleship linoleum floors abound throughout the modern school building; they cover the corridors, rooms, auditoriums and gymnasiums. They are "easy of tread," hygienic, and, when properly laid, practically indestructible. (See Exhibit A.) A fitting complement to linoleum floors is movable furniture. Linoleum floors and movable furniture are strongly recommended. A combined desk and chair, all in one, appeared to be very satisfactory (Columbia Seating Company). This combination may be noiselessly moved in any direction, grouped in any fashion to accommodate a large or small group, and is especially useful when the room houses more than one teacher. For the first two grades adjustable chairs and tables are used.

The walls and ceilings in new buildings are not tinted until the school has been in use at least a year. It is claimed that much better effects are obtained by this delay. The staircases are not open as in the east but contain a solid balustrade, thus making the matter of sweeping simpler in that the sweepings are confined to the treads themselves and may not be pushed into the space beyond the balustrade.

In some instances a combination gymnasium and auditorium was seen but it did not appear to be entirely satisfactory. There was seen, however, a clever device in the matter of a chair truck mounted on two ball-bearing wheels, with a castor at either end. (See Exhibit B.) This truck carries ninety collapsible chairs. It is wheeled around the stage to a room in the rear of the stage. (See Exhibit C.) The auditorium may be cleared of eight hundred chairs in twenty minutes and the chairs replaced in the same time.

A long, narrow gymnasium is sometimes made into two by use of wooden accordion curtains hung from overhead, divided in the middle and collapsing into a boxed recess on either side. They are heavy, a bit difficult of operation, but effective in making two gymnasiums out of one.

In many schools dressing rooms are entirely done away with. Steel lockers (Durabilt steel, Aurora, Ill.) are built into and flush with the walls of the corridors thus forming a steel dado perhaps six feet high. Each locker accommodates two pupils. A combination lock (Dudley Lock Company, Chicago, Ill.), each differing from any other in the building, obviates the use of keys. These lockers are ventilated above into the shaft space although no fans are used for complete ventilation.

On the walls of the corridors are cork display panels 3½ feet by 6 feet. There are also in the long corridors glass-doored display cabinets lighted from above by hooded lamps. Again, there are bulletin boards similarly lighted. The lighting is especially desirable.

The master's office is more generally sub-divided than in the east, there being a small room for the stenographer, another for the nurse, and sometimes a third for the so-called psychological clinic. Pigeon holes for mail and for circulars are found in every office.

Auditoriums are very large, with a sunken orchestra pit, with ramp or stepped concrete floor. Stairways lead from the main floor to the balcony, the solid balustrades of which are decidedly ornamental as well as utilitarian. These stairs are especially desirable.

Cafeteria is large, accommodating from 250 in an elementary school to 1,100 in a high school. In Cleveland the cafeteria is imposed on the auditorium; adequate, natural lighting is thus afforded. There are adjacent kitchen and serving rooms.

Waste paper, instead of being carried from each floor to the basement is dumped into a waste paper chute and conveyed to a concrete bin in the basement—a desirable improvement.

A swinging blackboard (Trascher teacher's swinging blackboard, K-M Supply Company, Kansas City, Mo.), 42 inches wide and 36 inches high, flanked by cork display boards, is found in many rooms. There are four leaves and eight surfaces to a board. This obviates the dark, depressing blackboard across the front of the room. There is no light reflection. It is convenient for the teacher and affords more blackboard space than if the blackboard ran across the entire end of the room. This is strongly recommended.

Respectfully submitted,

A. L. RAFTER,
Assistant Superintendent

MISS ELISABETH M. HERLIHY REPORTS ON RESULTS OF CONFERENCE FOR CITY PLANNING, WHERE SHE REPRESENTED BOSTON.

BOSTON, May 12, 1926.

HONORABLE MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR, In accordance with the provisions of chapter 274 of the Acts of 1914 as amended by chapter 54 of the Acts of 1921, I submit herewith report on the proceedings of the Eighteenth National Conference on City Planning and Regional Conference of the South-eastern States which was held in St. Petersburg, Fla., on March 29, 30 and 31 and in West Palm Beach on April 1, 1926, which conference I attended with the approval of your Honor as the representative of the Boston City Planning Board. An itemized account of expenses incurred in connection therewith as required by section 2 of the above Statute has been filed with the City Auditor.

There were registered at the conference 194 delegates, representing twenty-seven different states. While I appreciate that numbers may be of little value as an element of strength they may at least be accepted in the present instance as a manifestation of active interest on the part of the various communities in the subject under discussion.

The growth of the City Planning movement in general is reflected in the fact that in 1909 there was but one official City Planning Commission in the country. Today there are three hundred. In fact, in the report submitted by the secretary of the conference the statement was made that city planning work was being carried on at the present time in every state in the United States with the exception of two, Idaho and New Mexico. It is quite possible that since this report was made these two states also have seen the light. But from the information then available both were "in the dark" so far as city planning activities were concerned. It was further stated by the conference secretary that to all intents and purposes Massachusetts in its various cities and towns was leading in comprehensive city planning activity, with California probably following in second place.

Zoning is even more recent and more phenomenal in its growth. Until 1916 (ten years ago) it was almost unknown in this country. Now 450 cities are administering zoning ordinances. Grouped according to population this means that of the sixty-eight largest cities having a population of more than 100,000, forty-seven have adopted zoning plans, and that similar action has been taken by 150 of the 287 cities and towns having more than 25,000 population; or a total of more than half the urban population of the United States.

This stupendous growth becomes less remarkable when we recall that it is a work which has for its object the single purpose of protecting home owners and other land owners in the use of their property, that its regulation under the police power must be reasonable and impartial and that its whole structure is based upon the health, safety, morals and general welfare of the community.

So far as the various papers presented at the conference were concerned, they were too numerous in number and too varied in scope to permit of any summarization which would be at the same time brief and satisfactory.

The president of the conference, Mr. John Nolen of Cambridge, Mass., presided at many of the sessions and in his presidential address made a strong and timely plea for more deliberate action, combined with knowledge and skill and understanding in the planning and building of new cities and towns. He declared the problem to be different from the replanning of existing cities in that it need not be approached so conservatively but that the new towns should express new standards and new ideals, and be an attempt to meet in new ways the modern conditions of life and the peculiar opportunities that these conditions and resources offer.

City planning subjects, as outlined by Mr. Edward M. Bassett, counsel for the Zoning Committee of the City of New York, are streets, parks, public reservations, sites for public buildings, harbor lines, locations for transportation facilities and zoning regulations. To quote from Mr. Bassett, "When these are stamped by law on the land, there you have the city plan."

Conspicuous among the problems encountered in connection with these subjects were mentioned:

Misplaced private streets which later become public streets.

Buildings in the bed of mapped streets. Careless changes in the street plan when it is adopted.

Postponement of playgrounds until the land is built over.

Appeal boards, enabling acts and private restrictions in their relation to a zoning plan.

It was Mr. Bassett's conviction that "today we do not so much lack competent city planners to shape the city plan as we lack state laws to help them make a comprehensive city plan, and after they have made it to prevent others from smashing it. . . . Some say that we have too many laws. It is true that we have too many bad laws. It is not true that the state has passed too many good laws to assist in the organization of modern cities."

The place of the railroad in the city plan was discussed by Harland Bartholomew, city planning engineer of St. Louis, Mo., who declared the problem of building and operating an efficient system of railroads to be intimately tied in with the problem of building and operating the whole municipal structure, including streets, transit lines, recreation spaces and the general zoning scheme. Mr. Bartholomew also sounded a very definite warning against the erection of too many tall buildings in a growing community on the ground that the scale of the volume of the buildings must be related to the width of the streets upon which they front. The right average for the height of buildings in a business district he estimated at six stories. In this connection, he declared that in the downtown district of New York, below Cortland street, including the Wall street district, the average is but seven and one half stories; in Chicago, that the average does not exceed six stories, and in St. Louis, four and one half stories.

Discussing further the problem of the parked vehicle as a handicap to moving traffic, and the location and width of major streets as distinct from minor streets, Mr. Bartholomew stated that the city which studies its street problem as a whole will find that in a good system major streets will occupy 20 per cent of the total mileage.

From California came both philosophy and fact in the person of Mr. G. Gordon Whitnall, director of the Los Angeles City Planning Commission. The keynote to many a perplexing situation may be found in his introductory statement that opportunities not taken advantage of become problems, and that community problems become technical problems solvable only through the support of the entire public. He compared conditions in Florida with those in California, pleading on the ground of experience for foresight in the laying out of new subdivisions, for proper zoning regulations, and for the provision of adequate traffic and transportation facilities. It was his opinion, borne out by concrete illustrations, that the city that fails to plan expertly and to zone accurately during periods of rapid development will incur damages to itself that later millions of dollars will be required to undo.

Mrs. Robert M. Seymour of Miami, author of the first state plan for Florida, and at present general director of the Comprehensive Planting Plan Committee for the National Highway Association gave an account of the work being done to beautify the Dixie Highway, making it one of the monumental thoroughfares of the world.

Veering from the theoretical aspects of city planning, as emphasized by Mrs. Seymour and Mr. Whitnall, Mr. Robert Whitten, city planning consultant of New York City, gave a practical talk on combined zoning and planning control of unsubdivided areas. While admitting that hard and fast rules would be undesirable Mr. Whitten advocated a master plan regulating in a general way the location of streets and parks, industrial zones and water supply.

The planning of resort communities, a subject of particular interest to Floridians at this time, was discussed by Mr. Frederick Law Olmsted, primarily of Brookline, Mass., but equally well known wherever the question of park development has arisen throughout the country.

Prof. Ernest Freund of the University of Chicago, participated in the proceedings of the conference, as did Prof. George B. Zug of Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., who addressed the delegates on "City Planning as a Subject for Undergraduate Courses in Colleges." Further emphasis was given to this phase of the meeting by the adoption at the West Palm Beach business session on April 1 of the following resolution:

"Realizing that the destiny of community life of the future is dependent in large measure on the training in good citizenship of the youth of today, we respectfully suggest the importance of city and regional planning as a subject for inclusion in the curricula of secondary schools and comprehensive courses of at least a semester for undergraduates in the colleges. Through this means many young men and women would be inspired and guided to an intelligent and active interest in civic affairs and community leadership. We believe also that the colleges and technical and professional schools could render service of great value to the cause of civic progress by offering special courses for students who may wish to qualify for city and regional planning activities as their life work."

Youth, its employment, recreation, health and spiritual guidance, was the keynote of a spirited and well-conceived address on "The Psychology of Broad Planning or What City Planning Means to the Community" delivered by Dr. Allen D. Albert, chairman of the Jacksonville, Fla., Plan Commission. The children of this generation are by far the finest in the history of the nation, Doctor Albert declared as he implored the delegates to plan in advance for their recreational and educational facilities. The youth of today, he maintained, have more moral decency, better physical health, a more consolidated education, a greater appreciation of music and art and the finer things of life, and are more inherently reverent than were the children of the past generation. If there is any fault to be found it is, in his opinion, with the past and not with them. Doctor Albert stressed the fact that the plans of a city should be laid out for the benefit of the working man and his family, on the ground that it was part of God's great plan that the world should be made up primarily of those who live by the sweat of their brow and that an effort to secure for them proper living and working conditions was the first duty of those engaged in city planning work.

The modern city, Doctor Albert declared, must be composite of employment, education, recreation, health and spiritual values.

To the zoning round tables which have been so popular a feature in connection with preceding conferences under the guidance of Mr. Edward M. Bassett was this year added a round table on "Functions of the City Planning Commission" led by Mr. Morris Knowles of Pittsburgh, Penn. The large attendance at every session, the active interest manifested and the eager participation in discussion are the best evidences of the value of these round tables for the more intimate discussion of city planning and zoning problems.

A few of the more recent events of far-reaching influence on city and regional plans are listed here as set forth in a 1925 survey published by Theodora Kimball Hubbard, honorary librarian of the American City Planning Institute, in the report of the Conference Secretary and in the reports of delegates from various sections of the country.

Approval by the people of New York of a constitutional amendment which makes available $300,000,000 for the elimination of grade crossings throughout the state.

More than half of an $87,000,000 bond issue authorized in 1923 is being spent in St. Louis to carry out recommendations of the city plan, including $5,000,000 for a civic center tract of forty-five acres.

Development of a complete system of parks and parkways for Westchester County, New York, at a cost of $35,000,000.

The Los Angeles City and County major street plan recorded last year reports $32,000,000 of street openings or widenings already ordered or under way.

Agreement by the United States Bureau of Roads, Highway Departments of the State of Illinois, and Cook County and the Chicago Plan Commission to coordinate all road development in the Chicago region in accordance with a single major highway plan. This involves nearly one thousand miles of highway improvement.

Three regional arteries are now being widened and the three principal streets of Detroit approved for widening in connection with Detroit's master plan for 120-foot major highways and 204-foot super highways at a cost of $4,000,000.

Street openings and widenings, re-routing of transit lines, relocation of railroad yards, railroad grade separations, zoning ordinance and new parks and playgrounds have been worked out in the city of Memphis in accordance with a comprehensive city plan which, according to a recent local editorial, has accomplished the economic and physical transformation of the city.

The adoption of a comprehensive plan for the city of Cincinnati which in all its phases anticipates the development of the city for fifty years.

The completion of the Delaware River Bridge from Philadelphia to Camden, N. J.; the early completion of the first vehicular tunnel from New Jersey to Manhattan Island; and the initial appropriation by the Legislatures of New York and New Jersey for a bridge having the longest span of any bridge in the world across the Hudson between New Jersey and Manhattan Island.

Against the tremendous cost of these improvements must be balanced the annual economic loss to the whole country from street and highway accidents, estimated by Secretary Hoover in his address before the second National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, at more than $600,000,000, while additional losses resulting from congestion and other causes incident to inadequate traffic facilities bring the estimated total loss in the United States due to all these causes to more than $2,000,000,000 per annum.

These figures serve to place the emphasis, therefore, on the side of necessity rather than on the remedial measures thus far proposed. If concern is felt it should be for the less obvious but none the less existent, the intangible liabilities so to speak, of our present transportation systems. Much is to be hoped for, however, not only from the work already under way in actual relief and in inspirational value but from the educational work which is being carried on in every direction through federal, state, regional, county and city authorities and private agencies to the end that public moneys shall be extended and expended wisely for the public good.

In conclusion, no account of the proceedings of the eighteenth annual meeting of the National City Planning Conference, starting as it did on the West coast of Florida and migrating to the East, would be complete if it failed to recognize and record the extremely cordial hospitality and the many courtesies extended to the delegates by public officials, by private organizations, by business interests, by individuals and by the press. The delegates may be forgotten, the addresses delivered and the discussions held will be inevitably lost sight of, in part, at least, in the course of time, but the atmosphere of welcome and good will which prevailed in each one of the communities visited will long endure. All the traditions of southern hospitality were fulfilled with a spontaneity which met with ready if inadequate response in the closing sessions when resolutions of appreciation were unanimously and enthusiastically adopted by the entire gathering.

Respectfully submitted,

E. M. HERLIHY,
Secretary.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Boston, May 17, 1926.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., Coun. DOWLING in the chair, in the absence of President Keene. Present, all the members, with the exception of President Keene.

LICENSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return without my approval
the petition of Franklin L. Hart for a license to operate motor vehicles between Park square, Boston, and Albany, N. Y.

The petition if granted would establish a transportation line in competition with railroad lines, and is objectionable for the reasons set forth in my veto message of March 29, 1926.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

VETO OF OAKDALE COMMUNITY
GARAGE LICENSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return without my approval
the petition of the Oakdale Community Garage and Bus Line, P. A. Chamberlain, proprietor, for a license to operate buses from the Dedham boundary to Cleary square in Hyde Park.

There are two noncompeting bus lines running between Hyde Park and Dedham, each stopping at the municipal boundary. The P. A. Chamberlain line is wholly within Dedham. The F. W. Pierce line is wholly within Hyde Park. Each has tried to establish a through route, but Dedham has declined to admit Mr. Pierce, and Boston has declined to admit Mr. Chamberlain. Both Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Pierce handle through traffic, and through traffic is estimated at about one third of the whole. The loss of through business would be serious to either line, and as two bus lines are now operating between Dedham and Hyde Park, it is not clear to me that the people of those two localities will be better served by crippling one line. It would be far better for Dedham and Boston to see if an agreement cannot be reached to give through service by both lines. The volume of business available for each would be the same as under the present system. Each would have a fair chance to compete for the whole.

If the law permitted, I would suspend action for the present upon the Chamberlain petition. I wish to place Mr. Chamberlain at no disadvantage, although by law I must act upon his petition not later than today. Of course he has the right to bring his petition again at any time, and may do so without prejudice.
Meanwhile opportunity will be given to consider how service may be improved by retaining both bus lines.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

Coun. WILSON.—Mr. President, do I understand that the City Council still wishes the Jitney Committee to function?

Chairman DOWLING.—The Chair has no means of knowing.

Coun. DOWD.—Mr. President, my colleague on the right, Coun. Wilson, has brought the matter of the functioning of the Jitney Committee to the attention of the City Council.
This is merely one more slap in the face that his Honor the Mayor has seen fit to administer to the City Council. While not a member of the Jitney Committee, and while voting against granting the permit to Mr. Chamberlain in the Council Chamber, I feel, however, that the Council, when they vote for any order or permit, jitney matters or otherwise, are entitled to have their action given careful consideration by his Honor the Mayor. For the past four months, since this administration has been functioning, almost every order passed by the City Council has been vetoed.
Unfortunately, the City Council has no power to act over vetoes by his Honor the Mayor.
At the same time we are entitled to some consideration. Certainly, after the Jitney Committee has seen fit to conduct a special meeting in Hyde Park to which the citizens of that section were invited, after they had seen fit to go out there and spend a whole evening and two afternoons studying the Hyde Park situation, I feel that their opinions, representing their understanding of the subject, should be given some consideration by his Honor the Mayor. It has been said that this is a five-and-ten administration with a "Nichols" Mayor and a "Keene" Council; but I think the time has come when we should ascertain our rights in municipal affairs and I, as one, am prepared, as a city councilor, if the other members will co-operate in the matter, to request the Mayor to attend one of our executive sessions and inform the Council whether or not he is going to give us any consideration during the next two years.

The message was placed on file.

COMMITTEE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 17, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The chairman and several officers and members of the Executive Committee of the Boston Tercentenary Committee have resigned. These resignations I have been reluctant to accept and have concluded not to do so. Whether the celebration is to be great or small, I deem it advantageous to have represented in the anniversary movement the distinguished men and women who have been identified with it.

The machinery of organization thus far set up, however, appears to be so elaborate in character as to warrant proceeding upon the assumption that a very large amount of money will be necessary, whereas the proposed scope of the work to be done is quite indefinite, inasmuch as suggestions have been made for an expenditure as high as twenty million dollars and as low as one hundred thousand dollars.

I do not believe that further steps should be taken in organizing until after a thorough review of all suggestions presented up to this time and the formulation of a specific plan as to the kind of celebration we are to have and the ways and means of supporting it.

Therefore, I have dissolved the Boston Tercentenary Committee and have appointed all who were named as members of it to serve on a new committee to be known as the Boston
Three Hundredth Anniversary Committee.

The following members of the Boston Three Hundredth Anniversary Committee will act as an executive body to conduct the review above referred to and make such recommendations as may seem appropriate for directing the activities of so important an event: Mr. A. C.
Ratschesky, chairman; Mr. Henry V. Cunningham; Mrs. James M. Curley, Mrs. Curtis
Guild, Mr. James B. Noyes, Mr. Richard S.
Teeling, and Mr. Wellington Wells.

In order to meet expenditures of this new committee, it will be necessary to provide the sum of $7,500, which I submit in the accompanying order and recommend its adoption.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars be and hereby is appropriated to be expended by the Boston Three Hundredth Anniversary Committee, under the direction of the Mayor, for work in connection with the three hundredth observance of the founding of Boston, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Mayor submitted the following appointments,

LOAN FOR FIRE STATION, MEETING HOUSE HILL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the Acting Fire Commissioner calling my attention to conditions to be found in the present quarters of Engine Company 17 and Ladder Company 7 at Meeting House Hill. The Budget Commissioner, at my direction, has made an investigation of this matter and I submit herewith a copy of his report. In view of the conditions as presented by these two officials, I am of the opinion that a new fire station should be erected on the site of the present quarters. I accordingly recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, April 23, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I respectfully call your Honor's attention to the condition of the houses occupied by Engine Company 17 and Ladder Company 7 on Parish street, Meeting House Hill. The ladder company is in a wooden structure and the engine company is in a second-class brick structure. Both of these buildings were erected by the town of Dorchester before its annexation to Boston in 1870. They were designed, of course, for horse-drawn apparatus and have now reached the stage where immediate attention must be given to the property. Motor apparatus is now housed in these stations in violation of the building laws and the housing conditions for the firemen are shocking.

Of the sixty-six structures within the limits of the city used by the Fire Department these two buildings are the worst from every standpoint.

There is ample land available for the construction of a modern fireproof structure, and I earnestly recommend that a loan appropriation of $100,000, within the debt incurring figure, be made available for the erection of a new double house at this location. If your Honor will visit this location I am convinced that you will agree with me that conditions demand prompt consideration.

Yours very truly,
T. F. SULLIVAN,
Acting Fire Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Budget Department, May 14, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In accordance with your suggestion, I have visited the quarters of Engine 17 and Ladder 7 on Parish street, Meeting House Hill, and I submit the following report:

The house occupied by the ladder company is a two-story wooden structure, and since motor apparatus and gasoline and oils are stored within its walls, it represents a very serious fire hazard. The house occupied by the engine company, while of second-class brick construction, is, nevertheless, just as much of a fire hazard and risk as the wooden structure occupied by the ladder company. Both buildings were designed for horse-drawn apparatus, hence, if they are to be retained in their present form extensive repairs will be necessary in order to properly accommodate the motor apparatus now housed within their walls. Because of the age of the buildings and the architectural arrangement of the sleeping quarters any expenditure for repairs on the buildings would be, in my opinion, a waste of money. It therefore would seem desirable from a financial point of view, to replace the two buildings with a modern fire station. I therefore suggest that the recommendation of the Acting Fire Commissioner be approved and a loan order providing the necessary money be submitted to the City Council.

Respectfully,
CHARLES J. FOX,
Budget Commissioner.

Ordered, That the sum of one hundred thousand dollars be and hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commissioner, for New Fire Station, Engine 17 and Ladder 7, Dorchester, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

BOSTON PROPERTY ASSESSMENTS.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

That the Board of Principal Assessors be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appear before the Council at the next meeting with records of assessments made upon properties in Boston other than the downtown business district.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, referring to this order which I have introduced, it has been called to my attention by several property owners and tenants in the Roxbury district that the Board of Assessors are beginning to make a raid on such places as East Boston, Roxbury, Charlestown, South Boston, and the poorer sections of the city. I feel that if a $6 increase in the tax rate is to go into effect, that is sufficient, and I see no reason why an advance in taxes should be made in the poorer sections of Boston. What will be the result if anything of the sort goes into effect? It will merely mean that the tenants will be subjected to another increase in rentals by the owners. If the Board of Assessors are proposing to increase taxes in those poorer sections, and if they are increasing taxes on the valuable property of the City of Boston as well as on the property in the poorer sections, I think we should know it. I believe we should have the Board of Assessors present at our next meeting with their assessment books, to inform the Council what they are doing in the city with reference to assessments.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

LIGHTS ON FOOT BRIDGE, NORFOLK STREET.

Coun. WRAGG offered the following:
That the Commissioners of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install electric lights on the foot bridge over the Midland Division, New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, between the Norfolk Street Playground and Delhi street, Ward 18.

SEWER ON COLORADO STREET.

Coun. WRAGG offered an order—That the Commissioners of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to extend the proposed sanitary sewer on Colorado street to a distance southwest of Currier street sufficient to include the premises at 196 Colorado street, Ward 18.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF COLORADO AND ITASCA STREETS.

Coun. WRAGG offered an order—That the Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit the costs of laying out as a public way Colorado street, from Mattapan street to Oakland street, and Itasca street, from Mattapan street to Oakland street, both in Ward 18.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON ELM HILL AVENUE.

Coun. BUSH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Elm Hill avenue, easterly side, between Seaver street and Sonoma street, Ward 12, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone and loam space, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PAVING OF HOLLANDER AND HARRISHOF STREETS.

Coun. BUSH offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have Hollander street and Harrishof street, Ward 12, repaved with smooth paving.

PLAYGROUND, MADISON PARK.

Coun. WARD offered the following:
That the Park Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish the City Council with an estimate of the cost of making over Madison Park, Ward 9, into a playground.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

FATHER BUCKLEY PLAYGROUND.

Coun. MAHONEY offered an order—That the Park Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to name the playground at the corner of Bolton and West Third streets, South Boston, Father Buckley Playground, in honor of Father Buckley, beloved priest of South Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF BOYLSTON STREET, WARD 11.

Coun. ENGLERT offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Boylston street, from Amory street to Washington street, Ward 11.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION CONCERNING FIRE APPARATUS.

Coun. DOWD offered the following orders:
That the Superintendent of Supplies be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council at its next meeting under what authority he purchased over two hundred thousand dollars worth of fire apparatus without competitive bids, and on what date the order for this apparatus was placed.
That the Superintendent of Supplies be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to furnish the City Council at its next meeting with the specifications of the fire apparatus recently purchased by the City of Boston from the American LaFrance Company, and with a list of the extras to be placed thereon, such as bumpers, starter, pneumatic or solid rubber tires.

That the Superintendent of Supplies be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council at its next meeting on what date fire apparatus purchased by the City of Boston from the American LaFrance Company was shipped from Elmira, N. Y., and on what date delivery was made to the City of Boston.

That the City Auditor be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council at its next meeting whether he has received any official bills from the American LaFrance Company for fire apparatus purchased since January 4, 1926, and the amounts.

That the Fire Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council at its next meeting of the date when the fire apparatus purchased by the City of Boston from the American LaFrance Company will be officially accepted by the City of Boston.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, in presenting these orders I have in mind the fact that some two weeks ago we had the pleasure of entertaining here Mr. Carr, chairman of the Finance Commission, and he was kind enough to inform us that he was investigating the purchases of fire apparatus made by the Superintendent of Supplies. But evidently the Finance Commission has lain down on the job, as is to be expected under this administration; so it is for us as individual councilors to do what we can to protect the taxpayers against any raid that is being made on the city treasurer. I am reminded of the fact that in 1924 and 1925 only about $200,000 was expended, in those last years of the previous administration for fire apparatus, and this year we have already expended about $220,000, despite the fact that the Board of National Underwriters states in its annual report that the conditions in Boston are rated as very fair by the fire companies throughout the country. I have placed in these orders the request that information be furnished to us at our next meeting. Upon every order that has been passed by the City Council since we have been in power not one department head has even taken the pains to give the Council a reply. They believe evidently that we are twenty-two dummies sitting here and that it is not necessary to reply to our orders. Therefore, I have requested that we receive a reply by next Monday. If we do not, I am going to request the department heads to appear in person.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

APPROVAL OF APPOINTMENTS.

Under unfinished business, Chairman DOWLING called up Nos. 1-4, inclusive, on the calendar, viz.:

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Chairman DOWLING, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Reports on petitions (referred today) recommending that permits be granted for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, as follows:

Report accepted; said order passed.

3. Report on the order (referred April 26) that chapter 260 of the Acts of 1926, entitled "An Act relative to the reconstruction by the City of Boston of River street in the Hyde Park and Mattapan districts and the rebuilding of a bridge over a railroad location," be and the same hereby is accepted—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

4. Report on preambles and resolution (referred May 10) that the Boston City Council go on record as condemning the proposed legislation now before the United States Congress which "insults and brands as undesirable the members of the race from which sprang a large percentage of the citizens of our city and which has played so large a part not only in the progress of this municipality but of the state of Massachusetts and of the nation itself"—that the same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the adoption of the resolution.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on this question. I would like to answer the councilor from the Back Bay, who stated in executive session that he would like some facts and figures relative to the insidious propaganda that I had referred to in my resolution. I had some facts and some data in regard to the matter, but since I was in executive session the facts and the data have mysteriously disappeared from my pocket. So I am handicapped in that respect. I will state, however, that for years insidious propaganda has been at work extolling the merits of the English race and its descendants, and belittling the achievements of all who are not connected by ties of blood with the Saxon invaders of England. In this can be felt the weight of the dead hand of Cecil John Rhodes, British imperialist, and enslaver to the yoke of Albion of the Dutch colonists of South Africa. Upon his death in 1902, Cecil John Rhodes left his immense fortune of six million pounds sterling for "the establishment, promotion, and development of a Secret Society, the aim and object whereof shall be the extension of British rule throughout the world, the perfecting of a system of emigration from the United Kingdom and of colonization by British subjects of all lands where the means of livelihood are attainable by knowledge, labor and enterprise, and especially of occupation by British settlers of the entire Continent of Africa, the Holy Land, the Valley of the Euphrates, the Islands of Cyprus and Candia, the whole of South America, the Islands of the Pacific not heretofore possessed by Great Britain, the whole of the Malay Archipelago, the seaboard of China and Japan, the ultimate recovery of the United States of America as an integral part of the British Empire, the inauguration of a system of colonial representation of the Empire, and finally the foundation of so great a power as hereafter to render wars impossible and promote the best interests of humanity." The Cecil Rhodes Foundation has subsidized and corrupted American educators, universities, newspapers, legislators, writers and magazines. It has sought to alienate young America by the introduction into the public schools of histories distorted and biased, and it is citizens of Boston who have exposed and stopped this venomous attack at the very heart of our institutions. I believe the Cecil Rhodes Foundation controls the magazine with the largest circulation in America, the "Saturday Evening Post," filled with articles on English life and accomplishments, whose fiction, even, deals with England and English characters, and whose recent savage attack on the wife of Andrew Jackson, a president of Irish race, brought nation-wide indignation and a withdrawal of the statements which appeared in this periodical. And now it seems that this "Secret Society," founded by Cecil Rhodes, has secured a foothold among the officials of the nation and in the halls of Congress, and in pursuance of one of its principles "the perfecting of a system of emigration from the United Kingdom and of colonization by British subjects of all lands where the means of livelihood are attainable by knowledge, labor and enterprise," has sought to have enacted in the law of the land this vicious, discriminatory, anti-American "national origins" amendment to the immigration statute, which favors immigrants owing allegiance to the British Crown over all others from all parts of the world. The Cecil Rhodes Foundation sends to Oxford University each year two students from each State of the Union for the purpose of education in this English college, and it appears to me that these men are trained and educated as diplomats and statesmen, with the eventual hope that they will serve as members of the United States Senate. I do not say that the representation of Massachusetts in the Senate or in Congress has yet been affected; I do not believe that there are yet members of the United States Senate who are graduates of Oxford or of Cambridge. But I do believe that this insidious quota law is an insult and a slap in the face to the Irish public of Boston. I ask for a roll call on this order.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I am glad the opportunity has presented itself for a roll call on this question. I do not believe any councilor in this body should at any time present a resolution of this nature or form unless he intends in good faith to accord to every councilor, when the matter comes before us either in executive session or in open Council Chamber, an opportunity to personally record our sentiments upon it. Any other action I do not believe is fair. We are sitting here as a group of colleagues making up the City Council of Boston, and I do not believe any individual councilor should so commercialize his own endeavor at the expense of his associates in any council where he may sit. I am not saying that in the form of criticism in any respect of the councilor on my right. Probably he has done things, being misinformed or not understanding the implications of the particular resolution that he offered. Surely, in a resolution of this kind, there must be a reaction, either in favor of or against, on the part of every Irish Democrat in the Council. I am not rising in defence of any action that I might have taken last Monday, because I am not an Irish Democrat. But I don't say this with any feeling against my colleague. I have been living in a district made up mostly of Irish and Italians for thirty years, and I have learned from such associations that it is my duty as a public official to forget whether I am Jewish, Irish or Italian, when I am fortunate enough to be elected as a public official of such a city as ours. This resolution was presented last Monday, and no opportunity was given to any councilor to record himself either in favor of or against it. No step was taken to memorialize Congress, the House of Representatives, or the Senate of Massachusetts. But the resolution has now come to a stage where, in my opinion, it is necessary for every man to be recorded either in favor of or against it, because of the attitude of the press with reference to the question. Personally, I do not believe there is an Irish Democrat in this body—I do not believe there is any other individual in this body—who has not at one time or another seen the rank injustice that has been done through a period of years by the Congress of the United States with reference to the immigration question, and no class of people in this country has suffered more from class discrimination in the matter of immigration than have my own people. So I surely want to be recorded in favor of any resolution that will give an opportunity to open the doors of this country to such as seek to enter it, coming from oppressed and persecuted countries. But it is not fair, as I have said, for any member of the Council to use any particular method to commercialize himself in the matter; and I want now, with your permission, Mr. President, to refer to a letter which I saw in today's press, with reference to a councilor, a letter which I think I have his approval in reading. It is headed "Ward 15 Explains," and it is addressed to the editor of a Boston paper. I am not going to quote the name of the newspaper. "In an editorial the other day (giving the name of the paper quoted) charged the members of the City Council with cowardice because none of them would protest against the piece of infamy exposed in the Immigration Act. Of course, I didn't expect the councilor of my district to protest, because he originated in Nova Scotia, therefore is well satisfied to let the stigma stand." And it is signed, "Mournful Ward 15." I hold no brief for "Mournful Ward 15," and I hold no brief for my good friend the councilor from that district, because he can answer for himself, but a thing of that sort should not be allowed to pass without an opportunity for answer by any councilor in this body. I am going to vote in favor of this resolution, as I would expect the Irish Democrats to stand by me were a resolution introduced affecting my people. But in closing, I want to say this: that I don't think the councilor on my right had the data in his possession which he claimed disappeared from his pocket while in executive session. If he lost that, he surely would have lost that wonderful statement he made in discoursing on the question a few minutes ago.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, at the last meeting of the Council I arrived at about four o'clock. I had no knowledge that this resolution had been introduced until I read it in one of the newspapers the following morning. Of course, I cannot understand how any member of the Council with Irish blood in his veins could have heard that resolution read without making a point of having it acted upon then, either for or against. If it had come up when I was present, I should certainly have insisted upon going on record on it. As I say, I cannot understand how any member of the Council with Irish blood in his veins could have allowed it to go unnoticed. And I don't understand how it could have been overlooked as it was by the press. But I have talked with representatives of the press, and they have told me that they were not present in the executive session of the Council. If I had been present, I certainly would have spoken for the resolution and voted in favor of it.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, the resolution as introduced by Coun. Ward at the last meeting is the same as the one we are voting upon today. To my mind, every member of the Council desires to vote intelligently on every order that is introduced. To my mind, the motion to lay that matter on the table at the last meeting, until the councilors should have an opportunity to look into it and discuss it in an intelligent manner, was perfectly proper. We have had a week to look into the matter, and today it comes before the Council for action. We all understand how every Irish Democrat in the Council feels, and we all understand how the boys of other extractions feel in regard to the so-called immigration bill. There is not a man in the chamber today, since the passage of the Johnson immigration bill, who has not suffered directly or indirectly, either through his relatives or through friends of his who are barred from coming to this country. I well recall that it was a man of Irish extraction who performed the greatest engineering feat in the world, General Goethals, in constructing the Panama canal. And so we can go all along the line, naming men of Jewish and Irish extraction, and every other nationality in the world who have all made their contribution to the upbuilding of this country. The question for us to decide today is, whether or not we are going to allow the Congress of the United States, after Great Britain has denied freedom to Ireland, on the plea that Ireland has a government of its own, to limit the immigration from that country. Under the old quota, where Ireland was regarded as a part of Great Britain, some 30,000 of Irish extraction were allowed to come over, but now the Congress of the United States, headed, I believe, by President Coolidge, says that the Free State of Ireland has a government of its own, and should be classed as such under the quota. That now means what? It means the Irish immigrants to this country will be cut down from 30,000 to 8,000. I feel that every councilor today is going on record as favoring this resolution. With the great Irish organizations throughout the country seeing the danger in this act, with that great body, the Knights of Columbus, seeing the menace and going on record in protest, I see no reason why the Irish Catholics in Boston cannot go on record as in favor of the action proposed in this resolution. I certainly trust that it will be passed, and that it will be passed unanimously.

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, I sat in that executive meeting last week after this resolution was introduced by Coun. Ward, and there wasn't a councilor there who had a chance to say anything upon it. I always feel, personally, that I would like to be informed on a matter that is brought before the body, and I am always willing to grant the same right to others. And so I thought it was perfectly proper that the matter should be placed on the table until the next meeting so that those not informed about it might have a chance to investigate. Since that meeting I have read what has been said in some of the papers. I can read the papers, and I guess all the councilors here can, and I have seen my name printed in one of the papers. I saw in the paper what has been read to you by the councilor on my left (Coun. Ruby) today, stating that the councilor from Ward 15 was from Nova Scotia or New Brunswick. I would just like to inform the members of the City Council that Councilor McMahon—because I suppose I am the one who was meant in that article—doesn't know what the ground looks like in Nova Scotia or New Brunswick.

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair will inform the councilor that there is something he has missed then!

Coun. McMAHON—Well, probably I have missed something. But I don't like any paper in the City of Boston taking a shot at McMahon, saying that he is something that he isn't. When they go out with the old hammer and tell about the boys from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Cape Cod or anywhere else, I would just like to say that they had better look the record up and they will find where I come from—and I think they will find that it is Ward 15.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor from Ward 14 if he did not second the motion of Coun. Ward at the last meeting, to lay on the table.

Coun. RUBY—If I remember correctly, Mr. President, Coun. Ward made the motion to lay on the table, and at his request I seconded the motion.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, I would like to ask the councilor from Roxbury, Coun. Ward, if he missed any of the papers that had anything to do with his resolution?

Coun. WARD—I will say, Mr. President, that I did. Whether I dropped them or not, I don't know. I don't say that they were maliciously taken by anybody. But I dropped some papers.

Coun. GREEN—Well, Mr. President, I will simply say that since January 4 I have known that City Hall was honeycombed with stool pigeons, honeycombed with paid agents from the District Attorney's office, and honeycombed with men who were looking to get something on this honorable body; but I never knew that we had a dishonest member of this honorable body, and I did not know, Mr. President, that we had a pickpocket among our members. Let me say, Mr. President, that I don't believe any of the Irish members of this honorable body wish to act unfairly in a matter of this sort or in any matter. I am an Irishman, and the son of an Irish immigrant. For forty years, or for almost forty years, there has happened to be some member of my family in the Boston City Council. In fact, I am the fourth member of my family to represent Charlestown in this honorable body. In my district in Charlestown, there are 40,000 people. Probably 90 per cent of that number are made up of sons and daughters of Irish immigrants, and I would hang my head in shame if I did not stand up in executive session at the meeting last Monday and second the motion of Coun. Ward. We left it to the little Jewish boy from Ward 14. His race has been always persecuted, like mine. I want to go on record here this afternoon, Mr. President. I am not playing for the support of the Irish societies, but I represent Charlestown; I represent an Irish community, and I want to go on record in favor of the resolutions introduced by Coun. Ward.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, inasmuch as this entire matter is one that is sacred and dear to the majority of the people of Boston today, I now move the main question, so that we may have a vote upon it.

The previous question was declared ordered. Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I doubt the vote.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I ask for a roll call in solving the doubt.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, it seems to me an injustice to stop any man from speaking on this question.

Chairman DOWLING—The previous question has been ordered, and the vote has been doubted. The Clerk will call the roll.

The main question was not ordered, yeas 6, nays 15:

Yeas—Coun. Bush, Dowd, Englert, Gilbody, Lynch, Mahoney—6.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Donovan, Dowling, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Green, Guild, Heffernan, McGrath, McMahon, Parkman, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—15.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I am not entirely certain, but I feel pretty certain that I was the one referred to as the councilor from the Back Bay. I happen not to come from the Back Bay, and I never did come from the Back Bay or any part of it. But I was the one who asked questions of the gentleman who introduced this resolution in the meeting of the Executive Committee. I stated at that time, and I state now, that I have no knowledge whatever regarding discrimination reference to which is embodied in this resolve. I have no knowledge as to whether or not the quota is insulting to any race, and aside from the opinion of one of the previous speakers, I have no knowledge whatever at the present time in regard to the insidious propaganda that has been referred to. That speaker, after explaining the loss of certain data previously in his possession, stated that it appeared to him that certain things were true. That, in my opinion, is simply an expression of his idea and is no proof of any sort to be relied upon, as showing that what he says is going on. It simply means asking us to take his word that what he says is going on is going on. I know not whether this is a deliberate attempt on the part of some people to inject a racial issue here. If there is to be such an issue injected, my regret is unfathomable. I don't know whether members here today are being forced into a position of voting on the basis of what they have read in the public press upon a resolution in regard to the merits of which or the facts set forth in which they are absolutely ignorant. I hope that is not the situation. I realize that the abilities of people of Irish extraction are considerable, particularly as orators. I would that I myself had some of that ability. But it does strike me that several of the councilors have entirely missed the issue which is before us fairly and squarely this afternoon. The issue before us is not whether we believe that certain acts of Congress work an injustice on people of the Irish race or of Irish extraction, but whether we as an organized body shall go on record as telling the Congress of the United States what to do. I believe that if this body as an organized body were to undertake to tell the Congress of the United States what it ought to do we would receive considerable contempt in the opinions and the minds of various Congressmen. In other words, I am very much afraid that whatever action this body takes in the matter is apt to be thrown out of the window, and the City Council of the City of Boston will receive only one more black eye, because nobody pays very much attention to them. I am very much against the City Council of the City of Boston taking steps which may by any possibility achieve that result. Without reference to my feelings as to how the Congress of the United States ought to act, it seems to me that the City Council of the City of Boston, as an organized body, ought not to put itself in a position where it will probably receive contemptuous treatment either at the hands of the Congress of the United States or at the hands of any other legislative body. If a memorial from this body receives contemptuous treatment at the hands of Congress, that means contempt for each individual member of this body, which we certainly do not covet and which none of us want. I think the whole issue this afternoon is, whether we shall follow a policy of memorializing other legislative bodies or not, and the question is not, whether we sympathize with the Irish race or any other race in its afflictions. The question is simply, whether we shall adhere to a perfectly sane, sensible policy of minding our own business.

Coun. DONOVAN—Mr. President, I regret exceedingly that last Monday I was unable to be present at the meeting where the Council had this matter before it, being a member of the Legislature. But I represent an Irish community and I myself am of Irish extraction, and if I were here last Monday I would have voted "yes" on the resolution, as I will vote today. It certainly is not an uncommon thing for the Legislature of this Commonwealth to memorialize Congress on questions of vital importance to the people of this state, and I can certainly see no harm in this body memorializing Congress on a question like this, of such vital interest to the Irish people of the City of Boston. I certainly hope that the resolution will be adopted.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, there is no doubt in my mind that the resolution will be adopted. I am not attempting and would not attempt to influence the action of any member of the body one way or the other. I do wish, however, to state my opinion on the question before us. I am entirely in accord with the sentiments expressed by Coun. Guild, that this body should not memorialize Congress. It had occurred to me, in view of the attitude of some of the members of the City Council, that if I could be shown a good and proper reason why the Council should act as indicated in this resolution, I would abrogate what I consider to be a proper rule and vote in favor of this particular memorial; and in the executive session I stated that if I could be shown some facts and figures upon which to vote intelligently in this Council I would be glad to fall in line, since this is a matter which seems to mean so much to certain members of the Council. Unfortunately, without speaking in derogation of any member of the Council here, apparently data which was available has been lost in transit between the inner chamber and this room. I am unable to follow the connection between the dead, cold hand of Cecil Rhodes and the present act of Congress. I am free to admit, although perhaps I should not do so, that I have not read the present Immigration Act, and I am not aware to what extent a reduction has been made. I don't believe two out of the twenty-two members here have read the Immigration Act. My own impression was that, due to public clamor in this country, the quota of the Irish race had been raised. I am, however, unaware whether that is so or not. As I have suggested to the councilor who introduced the resolution, I am inclined to believe that I would not oppose a resolution which merely raised the point that the City Council of Boston looked with disfavor upon any legislation by Congress which should substantially reduce the quota of the Irish people. I am not unrelated to the people of the Irish race. I do feel that, with the memorial in its present form, asking me and other members to vote in favor of a resolution upon the various sections of which I have no information, is another thing, and under the circumstances I shall be forced to vote "No."

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I will say in answer to one of the questions of the councilor from Dorchester that if such a law were in effect fifty years ago some of the members of this Council here today might be absent. In answer to the accusation of my friend from Dorchester, I would like to go back a week to the executive session of the City Council. We sat there in executive session. The councilor from Charlestown was with me, encouraging me on. There were only three or four of us that sat in executive session when the clerk called that resolution up, and the members who have stood on the floor of the Council today and opposed the resolution are the ones who were opposed to it when it was read. So the action taken was the only action that seemed feasible under the circumstances. Of course, I am not responsible for what the press undertakes to say. I simply want to place myself right before my constituents and before the gentlemen of the Council. I did not do this in order to commercialize it in any way. I was absolutely sincere in introducing the resolution, representing the people I do. Eighty per cent of the population of Boston favor a resolution of this type.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I desire to take issue with the councilor from Ward 19 (Coun. Guild) when he says the Irish race are particularly brilliant as orators. I want to inform him that they are gifted as orators on some occasions, but that the Irish race as a whole has done as much, if not more, towards the upbuilding of this country of ours than any race in the entire world. I do not feel, however, that the racial question has been interjected into this matter as such, because the Irish as a whole are broadminded and very liberal. I regret exceedingly hearing the councilor make the statement he has in regard to the effect of memorializing Congress—that it will be thrown out of the window, particularly when we have sat here after meeting in this Council Chamber and passed resolution and orders, and his Honor the Mayor of Boston has thrown them out the window. So, if we are going to stop memorializing we had better stop memorializing the Mayor of Boston until such time as we may bring him to realize that we are a body of red-blooded citizens, and that we have some rights here as representing the citizens of Boston. In reference to the immigration law, for two years I have had the pleasure of serving on the Committee on Americanization, and when the Johnson immigration bill was before Congress I had the pleasure of going to Washington with a body of Italian and Jewish citizens and protesting against the bill. At that time the Irish quota was taken from Great Britain. At the present time they say that Ireland is a free state and has a government of its own. The quota before gave 30,000 to Ireland; today it is 8,000. That fact, I believe, is sufficient reason for any councilor who is in doubt about the injustice of this bill to vote with Coun. Ward on his resolution.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I crave the indulgence of the body for a brief minute, as long as reference has been made directly to me. I heartily agree with Coun. Dowd in regard to what he has said in regard to memorializing. I think the mere memorializing of the Mayor of Boston might well stop and, as long as he recognizes that that is the issue before the body, "Shall we memorialize, or shall we not memorialize?" and that the issue is no longer "Is Ireland getting a square deal from the Congress of the United States or not?" I shall, of course, feel that I can vote only one way, and that is against the resolution.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I regret that this matter has taken the course it has. Last week, when the resolution was introduced in the Council, if I remember correctly, it was laid on the table, together with another resolution introduced by Coun. Green relative to memorializing Congress in the matter of light wines and beers. Since then, however, some of the press, apparently following racial lines, have seen fit, in order to try to sell their newspapers, to make it a racial issue. To my mind, there is nothing cheaper than for any man in public office or for any newspaper to depend on an appeal to racial or religious lines to sell their papers or to make political capital. Attacks have been made on certain members of this Council. I will say that I do not believe there is a man in the Council, whether he votes for or against the resolution, who has any feeling against the Irish people in this city. We all know, starting out with the first session, that we drew the line that we would not memorialize except in certain urgent cases where it was absolutely necessary, and I believe each member of the Council has a right to take the position that he thinks he should take upon the resolution, according to his feeling as to whether in his mind it is warranted. However, there are many who feel that the circumstances are such, that such an injustice is being done under the present law, that Congress should take some action to remedy the situation. I believe that Congress itself, and perhaps members from Massachusetts were not aware of what had occurred under the present interpretation of the law, until it was shown by John Bantry, when he first called it to the attention of the public here in the Boston Post about ten days ago. I believe there are enough people affected here so that we should take some action. But the Irish are not the only ones affected. We see other instances where the Immigration Act is working a hardship. I have in mind particularly Armenia, a race that has been almost wiped out; a race that has been absolutely wiped out of its own country by the Turks. There are also cases of people who have been in Paris for three years and who are supported by funds sent to them monthly by people in this country, and they cannot gain admission to this country because the quota there is so small. I think Congress should do something in this matter, dealing with the whole issue. I regret having the Irish question dragged into politics, because I am afraid that Ireland has been collected on quite enough politically, and I think the intelligent Irish people in this city realize that it is an issue that should be kept out of politics. Apparently the press, or some of the press, here, have seen fit to bring it into politics. I hope that the resolution will pass.

The resolution was adopted, yeas 15, nays 6.

HAND BALL COURT, WARD 3.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered an order—That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a hand ball court in the Cherry Street Playground, Ward 3.

VOLUNTARY CONTRIBUTIONS. ON PLAYGROUNDS.

Coun. RUBY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council recommends to the Park Department that its rules be changed to permit of voluntary contributions being made by any organization or individuals at any athletic game or event on the parks and playgrounds of the City of Boston.

The resolution was declared referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I move suspension of the rule, so that a vote may be taken upon the resolution at this time.

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. That resolution which has just been passed is something that interests some of the councilors here who are interested in playground matters. It has just come to my attention as chairman of the Parks and Playgrounds Committee that one of our playgrounds is going to be used for a circus. We have a lot of trouble getting the playground fixed up. They continually tell us that there is not enough money to roll the grounds and keep them in proper condition. But still our Park Department and our Mayor can let out one of our biggest playgrounds in the City of Boston for a circus, and there is no circus that ever came to Boston and used such grounds where you have not noticed afterwards the bad condition in which they were left. We seem to have arrived at a position in this city where they will not allow different organizations to collect on something that takes place in the playground, some sports that are interesting to our citizens, and still they turn around and let one of the playgrounds to a circus which comes to Boston, simply for a $100 bill. At this time, I would like to inform the councilors from the different wards that they had better get onto their jobs and get after the Parks and Playground Committee and get after the Mayor of Boston to see if they cannot get something for their playgrounds, if this sort of thing is to go on.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, for the benefit of the gentleman who has just taken his seat, and who has, I think, made reference to the Sullivan Square Playground, I will say that that is in my district. I have been elected as a representative from Charlestown, and anything that reflects on Charlestown will come back to me, and not to the councilor from Ward 15. Last year we had a circus in Charlestown, and through the benevolence of the management I was enabled to take 1,750 poor little children to it, largely the children of industrial workers in Charlestown, free of charge. That circus also brought thousands of dollars to the business men of my district. In fact, more than a month ago the business men of my district sent a petition which had been circulated through the district to me, requesting me to ask the Mayor and the Park Commission to bring the circus back to Sullivan square again. The people of Charlestown want the circus in Sullivan square; their councilor from Charlestown wants the circus in Sullivan square, and in the future I ask the councilor who has just taken his seat to take care of Ward 15 and never mind about Charlestown.

The resolution was passed under suspension of the rule.

ABANDONMENT OF BUILDING PROJECT, HIGH SCHOOL OF PRACTICAL ARTS

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the Board of Schoolhouse Commissioners is hereby notified that the land and building formerly belonging to the First Methodist Church, situated on Winthrop street, adjoining the High School of Practical Arts, containing approximately 13,626 square feet of land, taken by the Street Commissioners for school purposes, are no longer needed for school purposes or any other public purpose.

COMPREHENSIVE SURVEY, FUTURE LAND AND BUILDING PROGRAM.

A communication was received from the Board of Apportionment, under date of May 10, 1926, to whom was referred at the meeting of Feb. 1, 1926 (see p. 23), Mrs. Barron's statement and request regarding a comprehensive land and building program, submitting the following report:

Time would not permit the completion of the comprehensive survey as suggested by Mrs. Barron in time for presentation to the legislature now in session. The great importance and the pressing need of such a survey for the guidance of the School Committee in its future action seems obvious. The Board of Apportionment makes the following recommendations.

1. That the Schoolhouse Department be requested by the Superintendent to send him a list of all wooden buildings (exclusive of portables and rented accommodations) used for school purposes, with the number of rooms and the grades of occupancy.

2. That the Schoolhouse Department be requested by the Superintendent to send him a list of all brick buildings (exclusive of rented accommodations) used for school purposes, over fifty years of age, with the number of rooms and the grades of occupancy; together with a statement in connection with each building as to the probable number of years which the building may be appropriately used with entire safety. In connection with this list should be included a list of brick buildings less than fifty years of age which in the estimation of the Schoolhouse Department, should be vacated within the next ten years.

3. That the Schoolhouse Department be requested by the Superintendent to send him a list of vacant parcels of land belonging to the School Department, with a statement as to their area and possible use.

4. That a circular be sent to the principals, upon receipt of all this information, asking them to review the needs of their districts and send in their recommendations for a building program covering the needs of the next ten years, taking into account the abandonment of wooden buildings and the replacement in stated years of any brick buildings to be abandoned within ten years within their district limits—the latter information to be based on reports from the Schoolhouse Department.

5. That the Board of Apportionment then make a comprehensive study for the School Committee of the school needs of the city, covering the next ten years, based upon reports from the Schoolhouse Department and from the principals, and any other information it may obtain from any and all sources.

The report was accepted and recommendations adopted.

METHOD OF SELECTION FROM ELIGIBLE LISTS FOR PRINCIPALSHIP, ELEMENTARY AND INTERMEDIATE SCHOOLS.

On motion, the Board took up for consideration the following order submitted by Mr. O'Hare at the meeting of Oct. 19, 1925:

ORDERED, That the lists for principalship of elementary and intermediate schools shall remain as they have been established by the Board of Superintendents; in other words, there shall be a separate list for women and a separate list for men. The Superintendent, in making nominations for appointment from these lists, shall nominate the person with the highest number of points for the principalship of a mixed elementary or intermediate school. In the nomination for appointment as principal of an all-girls' school, the Superintendent shall submit the name of the woman who has the then highest rating on the women's list. In the nomination for appointment as principal of an all-boys' school, the Superintendent shall submit the name of the man who has the then highest rating on the men's list.

In connection with the foregoing, Mr. O'Hare stated that it is not his intention to play one group of individuals in the service against another; that his purpose in offering the order was to establish a policy whereby candidates as they approach the time for appointment as principal, shall have absolute knowledge in advance as to who is to get the next school. His proposition will make the method of appointment from the eligible lists absolute instead of relative, as they have been heretofore.

Believes that the time has come for the separation of sexes in the intermediate schools—for the establishment of intermediate schools for girls and intermediate schools for boys. With this arrangement, masters' assistants will have a better guarantee of opportunity for appointment than they have had under the arrangement which has been in effect. Under the established system, selection of a principal is not predetermined. Under the present rating scheme men who entered the service as graduates of normal school only, are practically precluded from appointment. With the separate lists the normal school graduate on the men's list is not only being check-mated by the men, but by the women as well. His is not a punitive measure, has no thought of punishing anyone. The plan has been carefully thought out and is solely for the purpose of giving candidates knowledge in advance as to whom the next position is to go to. Has no desire to injure the women; as is well known, has always favored the women in that he has stood and still stands for equal pay. If hardship to women will result from the plan suggested by him, then surely the next list will work to the advantage of the women who will have greater opportunity for appointment to eight-grade schools. Has no intention of criticizing the Superintendent; has the highest possible regard for him; is merely attempting to advance the interests of candidates for elementary school principalship.

Mrs. Barron made the following statement:

The plan for the merged list as outlined by Mr. O'Hare may be a splendid thing for the future, but to adopt it at this time would, in my opinion, be breaking faith with the women. I am strongly in favor of the merit list, but I am quite as strongly in favor of keeping faith with the women. I have examined the report of the Board of Superintendents on the subject and am convinced that the present list was made possible because of a joint agreement with the representatives of the two organizations. I find that the women made certain concessions which they probably would not have made had it not been that separate lists were assured. Personally I would not object to a change in the policy after the expiration of the period of validity of the current lists; or if the Board should see fit to abandon the current lists, I might consent to that; but to merge the lists at this time would be a breach of faith with the service—a breach of contract.

Mr. O'Hare: I do not want to oppose the Superintendent or to limit his powers; merely to give the predetermined information to the persons interested. As to breaking faith with the service—I would point out that the determination of credit for the A. B. and A. M. degrees, as compared with normal school graduation, was not brought about by the School Committee. It is not a prerequisite under the rules and regulations of the School Committee, but a decision of the Board of Superintendents.

Mr. Gray stated that he is not in favor of the passage of the order, as submitted by Mr. O'Hare, for the following reasons:

Under the rules the Superintendent, in his sole discretion, nominates a teacher for appointment, and the School Committee acting on that nomination, either approves or disapproves it. I believe this discretionary power which the Superintendent has, and always has had, supplies a needed flexibility and is of fundamental importance in the wise and effective administration of our schools.

The order under discussion tonight which provides in substance that for certain purposes the men's list and the women's list for principalship of elementary and intermediate schools shall be merged, contains the following provision:—"The Superintendent in making nominations for appointment from these lists, shall nominate the person with the highest number of points for the principalship of a mixed elementary or intermediate school." In other words, if this order is passed the Superintendent ceases to have any discretion in nominating for the principalship of those schools.

I do not believe any of those in favor of this order will deny that occasions are bound to arise where from the existing circumstances it might be far better for the particular mixed elementary or intermediate school, and hence for the school system, if a person other than the one with the highest number of points on a merged list was appointed to the position. If this order is passed there would be no alternative, for the order requires the Superintendent to nominate the person with the highest number of points. Believing as I do that it is of fundamental importance for the Superintendent to continue to have the discretionary power he has had in the past, I vote against the passage of the order.

In so doing, however, I wish to state that I believe sincerely in the merit system and I should not expect those with the highest number of points on these lists to be passed over lightly, but only when the particular circumstances conclusively justify such action. I believe we can rely on the good judgment of our Superintendent to deal with each case as it comes along, fairly and for the best interests of all concerned.

The Superintendent made the following statement:

On July 6, 1925, the Superintendent presented a statement justifying an appointment to the principalship of an elementary district that was submitted to the School Committee at that time. This statement of the Superintendent appears in the Proceedings of the School Committee under that date. The Superintendent has very little to add to that report.

It is apparent that the orders introduced by a member of the School Committee on Sept. 14, 1925, and Oct. 19, 1925, tend to minimize and make mechanical the authority of the Superintendent in making appointments to a position of such magnitude as that of principal of an elementary or intermediate district. In the opinion of the Superintendent, these orders contravene the Statute of the Commonwealth which requires that appointments shall be made by the Superintendent of Schools. It furthermore violates the spirit of the Rules of the School Committee which provide (Sec. 58, par. 1) that the initiative in appointments to all teaching positions shall come from the Superintendent.

It is required that the Board of Superintendents shall establish lists of candidates for promotion but these lists, like various other promotional lists, are prepared for the guidance of the Superintendent. It should be again reiterated that the lists now under consideration—those of candidates eligible for promotion to the position of master of elementary or intermediate districts—are constructed in conformity with the plan evolved by the Board of Superintendents after consultation with the men and women rated. This particular plan in all its minute details was approved prior to the rating by the two groups of men and women concerned. Mutuality of agreement based upon compromises was indispensable to the development of the plan of rating and to the preparation of the lists. Moreover, inherent within the plan is the accepted principle that the names of the men and of the women shall appear upon separate lists, and that from these lists appointments shall be made by the Superintendent of Schools. This agreement was made and ratified by the groups of men and women, and when the lists were reported to the School Committee it was clearly understood by that body that the discretionary power of the Superintendent in making appointments should not be arrogated or abridged.

The orders of Sept. 14, 1925, and Oct. 19, 1925, which limit the power of the Superintendent in making appointments were referred by the School Committee to the Board of Superintendents for consideration and report. After dispassionate deliberation, the Board of Superintendents reports unanimously against the adoption of the orders. The Board is of "the opinion that the passage of either order would break faith with the service, would violate the agreement upon which the entire rating was based, and would deprive the Superintendent of his customary discretion in the matter of appointments."

The Board of Superintendents, to whom Mr. O'Hare's order was referred at the meeting of Oct. 19, 1925, submitted the following report:

The Board of Superintendents has given careful consideration to the following order—referred to it by the School Committee at the deferred regular meeting of September 14, 1925:

"ORDERED, That the lists for men and women candidates for principalships of elementary and intermediate schools be merged forthwith on a strictly numerical basis. In making appointments from this merged list, the numerical point rating shall be followed with the following exceptions: In appointment to an all-girls' school the highest rated woman on the list shall be nominated; to all-boys' school the highest rated man shall be nominated."

Before the report of the Board of Superintendents on the foregoing order was submitted to the School Committee, the following order was substituted, on October 19, 1925, for the order introduced on September 14, 1925, and was referred to the Board of Superintendents:

"ORDERED, That the lists for principalship of elementary and intermediate schools shall remain as they have been established by the Board of Superintendents; in other words, there shall be a separate list for women and a separate list for men. The Superintendent, in making nominations for appointment from these lists, shall nominate the person with the highest number of points for the principalship of a mixed elementary or intermediate school. In the nomination for appointment as principal of an all-girls' school, the Superintendent shall submit the name of the woman who has the then highest rating on the women's list. In the nomination for appointment as principal of an all-boys' school, the Superintendent shall submit the name of the man who has the then highest rating on the men's list."

The Board of Superintendents has carefully examined the substitute order and fails to find any essential difference between it and the previous order, for which it was substituted. The substitute order, it is true, omits mention of merging the lists, but its effect in the matter of appointments would be exactly the same as that of the previous order. Since the two orders are to all intents and purposes practically identical, the Board of Superintendents is of opinion that its report upon the original order serves as its report upon the substitute order, and consequently submits its original report herewith.

In its consideration, the Board of Superintendents did not feel called upon to express an opinion as to the merits of establishing a general policy for the merging of lists of candidates for elementary school and intermediate school principalships, and is free to consider without prejudice the question of having but one list when the next rating of candidates for principalship shall be made. The question of merging forthwith the present lists of such candidates is an entirely different matter.

From the first time when such lists were established, up to and including the present lists, it has been the policy of the Board of Superintendents, and likewise it has been the expressed wish of both groups concerned, that there should be one list for men candidates and another list for women candidates.

The present lists, like preceding lists, are based on a rating plan which resulted from the joint agreement of representatives of both the men and women candidates, empowered to act for their respective organizations. Such an agreement, especially as regards particular items of the present rating plan, could not have been reached had there not been a distinct understanding among the parties concerned that appointments, in the discretion of the Superintendent, might be made from either list.

The impossibility of reaching a joint agreement on any basis other than that of separate lists may readily be shown by an examination of the credits under I. of the rating plan—Educational Preparation, Teaching, and Executive Experience.

In the early ratings, most of the women listed were graduates of a one or two-year normal school course and were allowed no credit for courses taken in preparation for a baccalaureate degree, while most of the men rated were college graduates with a one-year post-graduate course in normal school. The men received on the average three times as much credit as the women for this item.

The same disparity appears in the later ratings. On the present list most of the men have the degree of Master of Arts, or its equivalent, with a correspondingly larger credit, while but three of the women have this degree. Among the first eight women on the present list, only one has a college degree, while all of the first eight men on the list have at least two collegiate degrees.

To reach an agreement in the rating plan under the item Educational Preparation, the women conceded many points because they believed that competition within the respective groups would be upon an approximately uniform basis and that competition between the groups would be precluded by the establishment of separate lists.

In like fashion under the item "Teaching Experience" the women yielded to the men as to the establishment of a minimum number of years in which to earn maximum credit. Most of the women had from twenty to thirty years of teaching experience while most of the men had from six to fifteen years' experience. Instead of insisting upon increased credit for each year of teaching experience, the women conceded that fifteen years or more should be considered as entitled to maximum credit.

Without an explicit understanding that there would be separate lists, no such agreement would have been possible under teaching experience.

In the early ratings, comparatively few women had had opportunity for executive experience except in their regular school work. While the opportunities for gaining executive experience at the present time are afforded to both men and women on a reasonably equitable basis, it is nevertheless true that in former ratings most of the women received under this item fifty points less than most of the men. The women agreed to what would otherwise seem to them a discriminatory allotment of credit only because of the assurance that separate lists would be established.

It must be apparent that under all three items, "Educational Preparation, Teaching, and Executive Experience," an agreement was made possible only because the women considered themselves a distinct group, competing among themselves but not contesting with the men, and because they were assured that the Superintendent was empowered to make appointments from either list as the needs of the service seemed to him to require.

The change of procedure contemplated by the order of the School Committee under consideration, would be not only a breach of faith with the women candidates, but also a violation of the agreement upon which the entire rating plan was based.

Its practical effect would serve to emphasize such a conclusion. Should the lists now be merged, no woman could be appointed, save to an all-girls' school, until seventeen men had been appointed. In all likelihood no woman would be appointed except to an all-girls' school during the life of the present lists.

For these reasons, and especially in view of the fact that appointments have already been made from the present lists as separate lists, the Board of Superintendents is of the opinion that it would be inadvisable and detrimental to the best interests of the service to merge the present lists of candidates for principalship of elementary and intermediate schools.

The Board of Superintendents, having considered both orders, is of the opinion that the passage of either order would break faith with the service, would violate the agreement upon which the entire rating was based, and would deprive the Superintendent of his customary discretion in the matter of appointments.

Mr. Sullivan: I have purposely waited until everyone has had his say on the subject. Every argument advanced directly concerns itself with the welfare of the service,—mutuality of agreement of groups, breach of faith, etc., so it seems to me that this Committee is working on the theory that this proposition is to be tested on the merits of the groups. It is apparently a group clash—between the men and women teachers, and is to be settled according to whichever group advances the better thesis. I do not agree with this. I think School Committees and Superintendents sometimes forget that the primary purpose is not the teacher, but the child. I think it a question of keeping faith with the children, not primarily with the teachers. The question as I see it is, which method is the better for the welfare of the children. I feel with Mr. O'Hare that numerical priority should be the determining factor. I do not think that the proposed plan will take away authority of the Superintendent or limit his discretion. Insofar as the proposed order may contravene the statutes, as Mr. O'Hare has pointed out the School Committee is the body which is ultimately responsible, and it is the duty of the School Committee to reach conclusions which will be helpful to the administration, and in this instance, helpful to the children. It seems to me that when evidence of superiority is apparent by higher numerical rating, appointment should be on the basis of numerical priority.

Mrs. Barron: I believe that every member of the School Committee has the welfare of the children at heart. Personally I am voting against this order because I have the children at heart. We need men—good men, in the school, but we also need women, and any system by which 17 men can be appointed before a single woman may be appointed does not, in my opinion, tend to the welfare of the children. If we merge the lists at this time it will mean that 17 men will be appointed before any woman is appointed, and I do not believe that this would be fair. I believe we should have an equal division of men and women in the service, and for that reason I will oppose the order.

Mr. Sullivan: If the lists have determined 17 men better qualified, then certainly the welfare of the children calls for the appointment of the 17 men.

Mrs. Barron: Not if the lists are not comparable; if the lists were established on somewhat different bases for men and women.

Mr. O'Hare: Then the Normal School man is competing against men and against women. The system I propose is on the basis of absolute merit, not relative merit. We are now working on the basis of relative merit. I am convinced that the proposed plan will result in better distribution of appointments between men and women. Until the last ten years women had little opportunity for advancement. Certainly I am not trying to deprive them of opportunity now.

A communication was received from the members of the "Women's Committee on Rating" protesting against the order introduced by Mr. O'Hare at the meeting of Oct. 19, 1925, on the ground that it would be a breach of faith with the women concerned in the rating, and setting forth in detail the reasons why the procedure suggested in the order should not be allowed.

A communication was presented from the Sub-Masters Association, under date of Jan. 27, 1926, regarding Mr. O'Hare's order, requesting that the procedure suggested be established and setting forth in detail the reasons for the request.

The several statements of the members of the Board and of the Superintendent, and the communications from the Board of Superintendents, the Women's Committee on Rating, and the Sub-Masters Association were placed on file.

Question came on the passage of the order as submitted by Mr. O'Hare at the meeting of Oct. 19, 1925.

The order was lost by the following vote:

YEAS—Messrs. O'Hare and Sullivan—2.

NAYS—Mrs. Barron, Messrs. Bogan and Gray—3.

Mr. Sullivan stated that, in his judgment, the order which has been under discussion, because of its wording might tend to curtail the powers of the Superintendent, and that at some later date he may offer a somewhat similar order but so worded as to remove this objection.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The order laid over at the meeting of May 3, 1926, amending section 141, paragraph 1 of the rules relative to the date of effect of increases in salaries of assistants in the administrative offices, was taken up and passed.

The Board adjourned.

PROPOSAL FOR WAR MEMORIAL IN COPLEY SQUARE MEETING WITH GENERAL APPROVAL.

QUESTION OF FORM AND SCOPE WHICH THE MONUMENT SHALL TAKE DISCUSSED BEFORE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE BY INTERESTED CITIZENS.

The establishment of a war memorial in Copley square was the subject presented at a public hearing before the Committee on Ways and Means at the Massachusetts House of Representatives, at the State House, upon the 25th instant.

The appointment of a special commission to study the recommendation of Governor Fuller for the erection of the war memorial was the solution proposed.

Nearly all the speakers favored the use of Copley square in any memorial plan, and urged the removal of the street cars from the square.

There were several sketches submitted to the committee, as a basis of consideration. The first speaker was Ralph Coolidge Henry, an associate of Guy Lowell. Mr. Henry said he was asked by Governor Fuller to obtain sketches of possible treatment of Copley square with a fountain. The sketches were made, Mr. Henry said, by the head of the department of design, at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Francis J. Good, state commander of the American Legion, favored erection of a memorial this year. He did not think the governor's plan ought to be affected by the plan for a monument at St. Mihiel, France.

Representative Slater Washburn of Worcester, a prominent war veteran, remarked, "Everybody is agreed there ought to be a memorial here, but the St. Mihiel proposition has been kicked around like a football for six years. If we can't get both bills this year, don't you think it better to get one—the St. Mihiel bill?"

Representative Henry L. Shattuck of Boston, chairman of the committee, was the first to mention a special commission to study the governor's proposal. He remarked that the question of the type of memorial, the money required, the opportunity for criticism of proposed plans, all might justify having the matter turned over to a commission to report to the next Legislature.

Frank E. Bourne, an architect, gave the committee some figures as to the cost of a memorial after the ideas of Governor Fuller. He said that in a talk with the Governor he was assured that there would be sufficient money available for a suitable memorial.

George R. Nutter, Boston attorney and representing the Hotel Ludlow, said the square should be beautified. He favored erection of a memorial out of funds collected by popular subscription.

Ralph Adams Cram said he preferred some of the earlier memorials proposed. "They are more consonant," he said, "with what we have to memorialize. But the question now is to get a memorial that is adequate and in a proper place. I am sympathetic with the use of Copley square, but deplore any action binding the Commonwealth to any specific scheme for a memorial. Any design that may have been brought forward as a result of a few hours or days or even weeks' consideration would probably be inadequate. It is not a question of the amount of money available, but the perfection of the design." Mr. Cram favored the suggestion of Representative Shattuck that the matter be studied by a special commission.

H. Murray Pakulski, Assistant Corporation Counsel for the City of Boston, said Mayor Nichols favors the Governor's plan in general and will recommend that the city appropriate $50,000 towards the memorial.

Doctor Briggs opposed popular subscription, and thought the share of the City of Boston would be too high. He brought out that the city pays 27 per cent of the state tax, and that the city would be paying not only its own contribution, but a substantial part of the Commonwealth's appropriation.

Representative Everett R. Prout of Quincy, a member of the Military Affairs Committee, which reported the St. Mihiel bill, was concerned that the St. Mihiel bill should not be sidetracked for the memorial.

Representative Lyman A. Hodgdon of Somerville favored a special commission.

Charles R. Greco, chairman of the State Art Commission, said that the members of the commission favored Copley square as a location, but thought it would be wise to have the matter studied by a special commission.

C. Howard Walker did not think Copley square the most desirable location. Boylston street, he said, is a collection of various types of buildings. He thought the proposal of an island, with a tower, in the Charles river near Harvard Bridge, was the best that had been proposed, but this, he said, was entirely misunderstood by the public. Although favoring a commission, he said, "The recommendations of various committees in Boston for many years have never led to anything but opportunism, with the exception of the park system. The committees' proposals have always been ridiculed."

Representative James B. Casey of Cambridge urged patience. "Just because the Governor has come in with a message that we ought to have a memorial," he said, "is no reason why we should push it. Copley square may be all right, but the veterans are not willing to take whatever is handed to them. We ought to wait five years if necessary."

The Governor's plan for a fountain was questioned by Representative Renton Whidden of Brookline, who pointed out that the fountain would be frozen during the winter months.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for public improvement, consisting of the laying out and construction of Regina road, Dorchester district, as a highway, easterly from Washington street, bounded and described as follows:

A highway named Regina road is hereby laid out, from Washington street to Alpha road, and ordered constructed.

Said highway and the land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto, in which an easement for street purposes is hereby taken, is bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Washington street, forty and 59-100 feet; northerly by the northerly line of said Regina road as hereby laid out, five hundred forty-one and 67-100 feet; easterly by Alpha road, forty feet; and southerly by the southerly line of said Regina road as hereby laid out, five hundred forty-eight and 3-100 feet.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid described land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of Regina road, from Washington street to Alpha road, will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the making of the aforesaid improvement; each of said lots to the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said lots and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Regina Road, Dorchester, Assessment Plan, April 1, 1926, William J. Sullivan, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

BOSTON OFFICIALS BATTLING TO HALT FREIGHT DIFFERENTIALS DISCRIMINATIONS.

CORPORATION COUNSEL FRANK S. DELAND AND ASSISTANT CORPORATION COUNSEL SAMUEL SILVERMAN ARGUE BEFORE THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION AT WASHINGTON.

Frank S. Deland, the Corporation Counsel, with Samuel Silverman, Assistant Corporation Counsel, were leaders in the hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission, at Washington, D. C., during the week, to ask for elimination of the port differentials which have done so much to cripple the Port of Boston.

Others to appear were James H. Devlin, Assistant Attorney-General of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Richard K. Hale, Associate Commissioner of Public Works, Frank S. Davis, manager of the Maritime Bureau of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Vice-President Fort of the Boston & Maine Railroad, and a number of others interested in the question.

Wilbur La Roe, special counsel, opened the hearing by saying that the main object of the New England group is to obtain the relief which the commission, in its report said "we ought to have." He asked that the relief from the differential rates should apply to all through traffic in grain and grain produce moving through the major gateways of the West, such as Milwaukee, Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis.

Arguments for intervention were as follows: First, that the port differentials enjoyed by Philadelphia and Baltimore have operated to the detriment of the City of Boston and have unfairly handicapped its development as a port; second, that the City of Boston is in keen competition with other cities on the Atlantic seaboard enjoying differentials; third, that by reason of the maintenance of port differentials boats are diverted from Boston, thereby injuring the commerce of the city and New England, forcing commerce naturally tributary to Boston through other ports; fourth, that large sums of money expended by the city and by the state will have been spent largely in vain if the port differentials are continued.

Corporation Counsel Deland said:

"The City of Boston is vitally interested in the port differential controversy. We contended in the case decided last year by this commission that there was serious doubt as to the constitutionality of the differentials and we now contend that this same serious doubt still exists. We are desirous to place on record the fact that we reserve our rights to rely upon any evidence submitted in this case, if such reservation is necessary in order that the City of Boston may properly raise this constitutional question in the courts.

"The growth and prosperity of the Port of Boston has been arrested and its commerce diminished to the point of disappearance because of the existence of these port differentials. Since this commission has sanctioned an order a parity of rates to be applied as regards on the Western seaports on the Pacific Coast and on the Gulf, it is hard for us in Boston to understand why this same policy of the commission should not apply to the seaboard of the Atlantic Coast.

"In the case of the Western and Southern ports, this commission has disregarded inequality of distance, but when the ports on the Atlantic Coast are in question, rules that inequality of distance must be given serious consideration. Surely this policy results in undue preference and prejudice to Boston, in favor of Baltimore and Philadelphia. It has always been the policy of our government to encourage the ports of this country. The recent decision of this commission permits a continued destruction of the Port of Boston and sanctions the sapping of its port business in favor of Baltimore and Philadelphia, admitting that Boston has proper facilities to carry on much more traffic than it now enjoys."

Frank S. Davis of the Maritime Bureau of the Boston Chamber of Commerce said that the differentials are tending to hamstring Boston. After reviewing the facilities of Boston for handling foreign trade and showing that the state and national governments had together spent about $32,000,000 in improving the port, he said that all these efforts had virtually been rendered null and void through the operation of the port differentials.

That the port differentials have had a most serious effect on the movement of export and import traffic through the Port of Boston, was the opinion expressed by Gerrit Fort, vice president of the Boston & Maine Railroad, who told the commission that the revival of ocean commerce at Boston is of great importance to the industrial future of New England.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

A. Grande has been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for building sewerage works in Tremont street, between Arlington and Stuart streets; Corning street from Tremont street about 90 feet southeasterly, and Warrenton street from Tremont street about 130 feet northwesterly, city proper, from December 1, 1925, to May 6, 1926 (157 days).

This extension of time is occasioned by the necessity of keeping Warrenton street open for the delivery of materials for the new Elks Building, and because of the delay in the removal of the Commodore Hotel.

WAY IS NOW OPENED FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF EAST BOSTON BRIDGE.

BOSTON MAY PURCHASE STRUCTURE AT END OF TWENTY YEARS AFTER COMPLETION, ACCORDING TO AMENDED BILL AS APPROVED BY LEGISLATURE.

The Massachusetts House of Representatives have concurred in an amendment adopted by the State Senate, to the East Boston Bridge Bill, and the way is now open for construction of a bridge connecting Boston and East Boston.

The bill came to the Senate from the House, and was amended, on the motion of Senator Walter McLane of Fall River, so as to allow purchase of the bridge by the City of Boston twenty years after completion of the structure, instead of ten years, as the House bill had it. Senator McLane believed that the ten-year clause would increase the difficulties of financing the bridge. His amendment adopted, the bill was given its readings, was sent to the House for concurrence in the McLane amendment, and the House concurred.

It is the belief of those who have followed this measure that it will prove one of the most important and far-reaching pieces of legislation at this session. There have been many doubters, in the Senate and the House, and there have been many who would have liked to delay action; but the prevailing sentiment has been that unless this bill were passed there would be no bridge or tunnel built by the City of Boston to East Boston for a long time.

Opposition to having it built by the City of Boston would have defeated any effort in that direction. It appeared doubtful if any group of private individuals would make another attempt to get a charter, if the present petition failed. The feeling that some sort of connection with East Boston should be provided was the means of getting passage for this bill, despite openly-expressed misgivings.

Objections have been raised to the toll provision, sentiment being opposed to toll bridges. To offset this argument it was pointed out that the ferry charge is a toll.

An argument which was effective with many was the consideration that much of the bridge, as expressed in toll charges, will be paid by users of the bridge who do not live in Boston.

"One result of this bridge," said one of the leading members of the House, "will be the joining of Chelsea and Revere to municipal Boston. This will follow soon. Another result will be the rapid development of waterfront property on the North Shore."

During the debate on this bill, particularly in the House, it was several times offered as an objection that the question whether the construction should be a bridge or a tunnel ought to be settled by the Legislature, in action on the bill, and that this should not be left to the choice of the corporation, with the consent of the City Council. As the bill stands, the private corporation which is empowered to go ahead with its plans can build either a bridge or a tunnel. There are members of Senate and House who believe that in the long run a tunnel would be preferable. It is the understanding, however, that the company will build a bridge. Whether this will be of the suspension or cantilever type is another unsettled point.

Another fear, which has not been quieted, is that the bridge will be "unloaded" on the city; and the case of the Cape Cod canal was frequently cited as a warning to go slowly in the matter.

None of these doubts or objections prevailed. The bill has gone its triumphant way both in Senate and House.

Governor Fuller will now consider the measure.

BOSTON'S VOTING POPULATION TOTALS 493,415.

Boston's adult population on April 1 was 493,415. This is revealed in a complete tabulation of figures obtained by the annual police listing and announced by the Board of Election Commissioners. The listing is of all men and women twenty years of age and over.

Of the total 241,616 are men and 251,799 women, the women maintaining the majority as they have since listing of them began. Last year's total was 489,478, so that the increase in eligible voters is 3,937. Of the 1925 total 239,869 were men and 249,609 women, so that during the past twelve months Boston gained 1,747 males and 2,190 females who can become voters.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

Joseph Rugo has been allowed to amend his contract for the erection and completion of an elementary school in the John Marshall district, Athelwold and Allerton streets, Dorchester, by striking out the words "nine months" on page 7, Article II, and substituting therefor the words and figures "September 16, 1925," so that the contract shall read "The work is to be commenced on or about November 20, 1924, and is to be completed on or before September 16, 1925."

McDonald & Imhof have been allowed to amend their contract for the erection and completion of an addition to the Henry Vane Elementary School in the Robert Gould Shaw District, Baker street, West Roxbury, by striking out the words and figures, "$4 per day of eight hours," on page 100, section (c), and substituting therefor the words and figures "$5.50 per day of eight hours," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said section (c.) shall read: "For the above service the subcontractor for the heating and ventilating work is to be paid for by the city at the rate of $5.50 per day of eight hours, day or night run. This rate to be effective from Tuesday, January 21, 1926."

DEFENDS BOSTON FROM FURTHER MILK INSPECTION BUREAUS.

LENROOT BILL WOULD CHANGE PRESENT WORK OF PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE AND WORK HARDSHIP ON DISTRICT.

The Mayor, on May 22, sent to Hon. George W. Norris, chairman, Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, Washington, D. C., the following communication relative to Lenroot Bill, Senate 4126:

"In regard to Lenroot Bill, Senate 4126, I believe that the inspection of creameries and dairies as now made by the Department of Public Health, not only in this city but in other cities in this district, is adequate to protect Boston and New England against impure milk and cream coming across the border, and that this legislation is superfluous and unnecessary, inflicting an unwarranted hardship upon the people of this district. I would suggest that this bill, as written, ought not to be passed. I have been informed that other districts having inspection of dairies in Canada are to be exempted from the provisions of this act. If this be true, I request that Boston be also included among the exempted class."

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has granted the request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work:

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe in Moody street, between Ashland street and Roanoke road, in the West Roxbury and Hyde Park district, at an estimated cost of $12,000.

TELEPHONE RATE CASE.

the city in the Curley administration has been divided into two parts. One alleges unreasonable charges for interstate toll service; the other violations by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and subsidiary corporations of the Clayton Anti-Trust Act, alleging in effect that the allied telephone companies of the Bell system constitute a monopoly in restraint of trade. The second complaint in effect asks the commission to issue a complaint alleging such violations against the respondents.

The commission will probably take this up first, as under its procedure it must first determine through hearings whether the evidence submitted by the city is sufficient to warrant issuance of the complaint.

Through the city's amended complaint the Law Department hopes to demonstrate that rates for service within Massachusetts are unreasonable, although the commission has no direct control over intra-state rates. The respondents are allowed twenty days in which to file answer, and then the City of Boston will have ten days in which to file any amendments to its complaint. It will be July, therefore, before the commission will take up the question of procedure as regards hearings, and the latter are not likely until the fall.

If the commission decides to go into all the questions raised by the city this case will prove to be one of the most important and probably longest investigations in its history, as it would really develop into the first general investigation of the Bell telephone system. A number of cities and several states have indicated a desire to intervene on behalf of Boston.

DAMAGES AWARDED.

The Mayor has approved the following votes of the Board of Street Commissioners:

That in the matter of John T. Bowen et al., petitioners for damages caused their estates by the widening, relocation and construction of Cambridge and Court streets under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of August 20, 1924 (taking 2,413 square feet and buildings), after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board assesses the petitioners' damages in the sum of twenty thousand (20,000) dollars flat; and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

That in the matter of Domenico Pedonti, petitioner for damages on account of the laying out and construction of an extension of Cotting street, Boston proper district, under the order of the Street Commissioners and Mayor of April 15, 1925, after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice the Board assesses the petitioner's damages in the sum of seven thousand dollars flat; and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

THE CITY'S TULIP DISPLAY.

The brilliant display of tulips in the Public Garden, under the auspices of the Park Department, although a month late by reason of the inclement weather, was never finer than this year.

The blooms are now in their prime.

The new granolithic walk, from the Arlington street main entrance to Charles street has been completed.

This new walk is 8 feet wide and has 3 feet of macadam upon each side. The Park Department believes that this walk will be welcomed by the public as a great improvement over the dirt walk maintained for so many years. If so, other granolithic walks will be built.

The Park Department calls attention to the beauty of the trees and shrubs at other points, the flowering crabs and cherries opposite the Arboretum gate and the azaleas along Muddy river.

VETO OF COUNCIL RESOLUTION.

Mayor Nichols has vetoed a resolution passed unanimously by the City Council, May 10, which nullified a petition of Jacob Yonkers for permission to set up a 2,000-gallon filling station at Stuart street, Arlington street and Columbus avenue.

The resolution was passed on the grounds that to permit additional filling stations in that district would be against public policy and unfair to nearby property owners.

Because of the Mayor's veto, the Board of Street Commissioners will now have to hear the petition.

Mayor Nichols has affixed his signature to documents providing for public improvements that, when completed, will cost $1,350,000.

Favorable action had been taken by the City Council on the three matters involved—the erection of an East Boston pumping station, to cost $600,000; widening of River street in the Mattapan section, $300,000; widening of Ashland street, Roslindale, $450,000.

The Mayor said none of these improvements will be undertaken before next season, but that he felt impelled to sign the papers at this time.

SCORE CARD SELLING ON CITY PLAYGROUNDS.

PARK DEPARTMENT DIRECTED TO STUDY CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH TWILIGHT LEAGUE MAY USE PRIVILEGE—SUNDAY SALES BARRED.

Park Department officials have been directed to take up at once the question of granting under certain conditions permits to baseball teams, such as the Twilight League, to sell score cards to those of the public who wish to purchase them at games to be played on City of Boston park grounds with the distinct understanding that nobody should be prohibited from entering the grounds or using the bleachers.

It is realized that there is a large amount of money invested by the city for bleachers alone, of which nowhere near as large use could be made unless patronized by the public. The baseball public is interested, not so much in a mediocre ball game, but they want to see the best teams obtainable.

It is also realized that the teams from the various sections must offer a guaranty to defray the expenses of the visiting teams.

City officials are in hearty sympathy with the wishes of the public to see good ball games and realize the difficulties under which baseball teams must labor to provide good games.

Score card privileges, however, will not extend to collections on any city play ground on Sundays. This is strongly opposed.

CEMETERY HEARING.

The Executive Committee of the City Council held a hearing relative to the Italian Catholic Cemetery Association's petition for permit to annex 87,000 square feet to the cemetery it already controls at Forest Hills.

The burden of objection was that any more cemetery enterprises will tend to reduce residence valuations in this section, that an additional entrance to the projected new cemetery would be needed in Bourne street, and that this would inevitably turn Southbourne road into a highway for funeral processions.

Health Commissioner Francis X. Mahoney approved the petition several weeks ago. Judge Frank Leveroni, the association's secretary, said that, although the association wished to acquire the plot now, it would not be used as a burial place for ten years.

J. S. Goodway, identified with a residence development enterprise, answered this claim by stating that it would be foolish for the city to grant a permit for a cemetery until such time as the ground is to be used for such purpose. To grant a cemetery permit now would be to relieve the land from taxation for the period until it is used, he said; if the city granted the permit now, and the land were not used as a cemetery for ten years, then the city would stand to lose $2,720 in taxes.

The Boston Dwelling House Company, another development enterprise, is ready to sell the land to the association. But some of the first-named company's former clients said that the company's readiness to sell land now for cemetery purpose is a breach of good faith, inasmuch as they understood, when they bought their land of the company, that it would not abet any more cemetery enterprises in the vicinity.

BOSTON CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885, 1909 and 1924 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority vote of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2, providing for City Council of 9 members, was adopted by a majority of 3,894.

Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirements as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms. (5) Chap. 288, Acts of 1921, fixing date of the annual municipal election on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in December, also making slight changes as to nominations. (6) Chap. 133, Acts of 1922, changing publication of list of City officials and employees to every second year from 1923. (7) Chap. 479, Acts of 1924, providing for biennial City elections (dating from Nov. 3, 1925); for borough or ward representation in City Council; for a fiscal year dating from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, beginning in 1926, also a municipal year dating from the first Monday in January, to begin in 1926; for election of the five members of School Committee in 1925, the candidates receiving the two largest votes to hold office four years, the other three for two years and at the election in 1927 and thereafter the term for all to be four years.

The only amendment of 1924 subject to a referendum was the alternative of Plan 1 or Plan 2 as to the City Council. At the State election on Nov. 4 Plan 2 was adopted, providing for the election by each ward in 1925 and every second year thereafter of one councillor for 2-year term.

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON, 1630.

Effected by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop in the latter part of August, 1630. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to Sept. 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway, from Broadway and Tremont St., South End, to North Station and from Boylston St., near Charles to Park St., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first transportation subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State St. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000, the first all-concrete underwater transportation tunnel in the world; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages; Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,485,639; East Boston Tunnel Extension from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,523,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station; on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal. Trains of four or six cars are run in the East Boston Tunnel, the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston, connecting with Cambridge Tunnel, to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways. Cost of Dorchester tunnel, $11,016,700 to Jan. 31, 1925; of new Arlington Station extending under Boylston St., between Arlington and Berkeley, $1,230,676; of East Boston Tunnel Alterations, Maverick sq., $3,768,857.

These underground ways, about nine miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track, were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{1}{3}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company).

In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

By Chap. 480, Acts of 1923, the extension of the Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew Square about 1,300 feet southerly was ordered, the proposed new railway location then coming to the surface 400 feet southeast of Dorchester Ave., thence continuing to Harrison Square; thence along the Shawmut Branch railroad to its termination at Blue Hill Ave. and River St., Mattapan.

ELEMENTARY BUILDING IN SHURTLEFF DISTRICT TO INCREASE SOUTH BOSTON'S SCHOOL FACILITIES—WORK OF ERECTION ALREADY BEGUN.

STRUCTURE TO COST $175,000 BEING BUILT BY SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT IN THICKLY POPULATED SECTION OF PENINSULA DISTRICT.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL BUILDING FOR SOUTH BOSTON ON WHICH WORK HAS BEEN STARTED AND WHICH WILL COST ABOUT $175,000.

Work has already been begun on a second of the new schoolhouse projects planned by the Schoolhouse Department in the administration's program for taking care of the needs of the growing school population of Boston. This school is the new elementary building in the Shurtleff District, South Boston, which is being built on land extending from East Ninth street to Vale street, in the midst of the thickly populated section of the peninsula district. The architects are the Frank Irving Cooper Corporation.

It is to have a frontage of 120 feet with a depth of some 75 feet,—about half that of the lot. This affords at present ample playground space for the pupils, and in case of future need will be available for enlarging the school building to about double the capacity now planned.

The structure, two stories in height, is to be brick with limestone trimmings, the basement courses being of granite. The first floor is some nine feet above grade so that the basement is in effect a full story.

The exterior presents a decorative feature in the main entrance, which is on a platform gained by steps. This platform with its ornamental rail is the foundation for a decorated doorway, stone pillars and arches, with the name of the school carved in a suitable panel, giving distinction to the facade. The stone work is carried up about the central window of the second floor with urns, scrolls and other attractive features.

On the first floor are three classrooms of standard size gained by wide corridors which lead to exits independent of the main entrance, assuring the safety of the pupils in case of emergency, the stairways being of iron. The general construction, of course, conforms to the standards laid down by the city building regulations.

The first floor has two rooms also, one for kindergarten work. These rooms have a movable partition between them and may be thrown into one hall about 36 feet by 20 feet. Adjacent to the main entrance is a health room, necessary for examinations by the school physicians or nurses.

On the second floor are four standard-size class rooms, a book room and a retiring room for teachers. The basement is given over to utilities, heating and ventilating plant, electrical and storage rooms. The cost of the schoolhouse is to be about $175,000.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

BOSTON, OFFICIALLY, TAKES PART IN PAYING TRIBUTE TO HONORED DEAD ON MEMORIAL DAY.

PROVIDES $17,000 TO AID IN DECORATING GRAVES OF 20,000 VETERANS IN 175 CEMETERIES IN VARIOUS SECTIONS OF CITY.

The City of Boston joined with patriotic and veteran organizations on Memorial Day in paying loving tribute to the hero dead of all wars in which our country has participated. Not only did the city join officially in paying such tribute but through the Public Celebrations Committee $17,000 was expended in aiding seventy-nine veteran organizations to decorate 20,000 graves of men and women buried in the 175 cemeteries in which these heroes are buried in Boston and vicinity.

In addition to this part which the city played in the events of the day Mayor Nichols, as chief executive of the city, delivered memorial addresses both at the exercises of the Kearsarge Association of Naval Veterans, at the Soldiers and Sailors Monument on Boston Common, and at those of Post 200 G. A. R. in the Thomas Street Schoolhouse, Jamaica Plain.

The entire membership of 17 G. A. R. posts has been reduced to a few more than 300 members. These with their friends and the auxiliaries succeeded in decorating 12,000 graves. The United Spanish War veterans, with a membership of 1,200 in twelve camps, decorated 1,100 graves; thirty American Legion Posts, with a membership of 4,100, decorated 2,100 graves; fifteen veterans of Foreign Wars posts, with a membership of 1,900, decorated 600 graves. Other organizations, including the Kearsarge Association of Naval Veterans, three garrisons of the Army and Navy Union and one command of the Union Veterans Union also shared in the honors.

In addition to these it was found that since the last Memorial Day the Major George L. Stearns and Gettysburg Posts of the G. A. R. have practically ceased to function. For these the City of Boston provided 1,700 flags for the decoration of their deceased members' graves.

Each organization assembled at its headquarters on Monday and proceeded in special cars or on foot to the cemetery where the principal exercises of that organization were to take place. Graves were decorated with wreaths and flags and orations delivered, after which taps was sounded. On the return to headquarters luncheon was served to all by the women of the auxiliaries.

In addition to these exercises the city saw to it that wreaths and flags were sent to veterans' graves in cemeteries located in distant parts of the country in order that no veteran might be forgotten. Also, local squares and monuments were properly decorated as an additional duty, shared in by the younger veteran organizations.

FINDS TWO SYSTEMS OF EDUCATION BEING FOLLOWED BY SCHOOLS OF COUNTRY.

SUPERINTENDENT JEREMIAH E. BURKE REPORTS TO SCHOOL COMMITTEE ON RESULTS OF TRIP OF OBSERVATION RECENTLY COMPLETED.

Superintendent Jeremiah E. Burke has made to the School Committee the following report of certain observations made during the trip of Assistant Superintendent Rafter and himself to the cities of Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y.; Detroit, Mich., and Cleveland, Ohio, from April 20 to 29, 1926, inclusive.

Boston, May 24, 1926.

To the School Committee of the City of Boston.

In accordance with section 3 of chapter 274 of the Acts of 1914, I respectfully present the following report of certain observations made during the trip of Assistant Superintendent Rafter and myself to the cities of Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y.; Detroit, Mich., and Cleveland, Ohio (April 20 to 29, 1926, inclusive).

The framers of our Constitution recognized the indispensableness of education among a free people, but were opposed to control or centralization of education by the Federal Government. Because of their prescience and good judgment, popular education was reserved to the states and the individual states became the units of school organization.

Even though the state is the unit of school organization, it nevertheless exercises little coercion or arbitration. There are two prevailing types of organization of state school systems: That of Massachusetts with its traditional decentralization, based upon the democracy of the early founders of New England, where the rights of the individual has always been emphasized and community sentiment has always been very strong. In Massachusetts, therefore, encroachment upon local school affairs by the state upon local school affairs is wholly negligible.

The other type is that existing in New York State. Here still persists the influence of Alexander Hamilton's powerful personality, and the influence of his ideas regarding centralization is reflected in the Board of Regents—a body which may exert considerable authority over the schools of towns and cities in that state. I was interested in observing just how far Albany affects local school systems, and was not surprised to learn that in the larger cities particularly there is little or no interference.

Although the Federal Government has little or nothing to do with popular education, and although administrators of State Departments of Education in many instances are largely advisory rather than directive, still there is a very marked similarity in the educational systems of the larger cities of the country. Each of these systems is individual, working out and solving its own problems, maintaining high standards of excellence, but avoiding the dangers of slavish uniformity. I believe that such a condition is wholesome, and that the individuality of local school systems should never be impaired.

We found that almost universally Boards of Education are small, having a membership limited to five or seven citizens; that these members are elected at large by the people; that to a large extent the Boards are independent financially, having charge of the expenditure of funds raised by taxation for education; and that there are many other marked points of resemblance.

The city of Rochester is conspicuous for its intermediate school buildings and for its thoughtful intermediate program. It is gratifying to note that the development of the intermediate school problem in Rochester has corresponded very closely to that in Boston. They began in a modest manner, with the reconstruction of the content of the courses of study in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. They then organized these three grades into a unit and finally erected buildings for the accommodation of these intermediate grade pupils. That is just the way we progressed in Boston. We went along slowly, step by step, developing our organization and then housing it. Just as in Boston, Rochester deputed to councils of teachers the details of the work of reconstruction, such as rebuilding courses of study, etc. The superior types of intermediate school buildings in Rochester are discussed in the report of Assistant Superintendent Rafter.

Buffalo has no intermediate schools, but has established instead a series of trade schools which, in a manner, may be regarded as substitutes for intermediate schools. Buffalo is also refashioning its courses of study for the seventh and eighth grades, and is reorganizing these grades upon a departmental system, thereby incorporating many of the essential characteristics of intermediate schools.

Detroit, a wonderfully progressive city, is doing everything upon a very large scale. The school administrators and officials have vision and foresight. They purchase sites for school buildings years before actual construction, thus saving the city millions of dollars. Detroit is notable for its platoon schools. These schools, for the most part, provide for the first six grades, and have department instruction throughout; pupils in the lower grades remain with their home teachers during half of the day and report to their departmental teachers during the remaining half. The establishment of these schools arose doubtless from the need of physical accommodations for pupils in a rapidly growing community; nevertheless they embody many attractive features and have an educational value that cannot be disregarded. In Boston, in consequence of the generous building programs of the past few years, we, fortunately, do not need to resort to platoon schools. There is a lesson, however, that we can learn from these schools and profit thereby: All gymnasias, assembly halls, and every part of the school buildings are utilized all the time throughout the entire day. There are no idle rooms or vacant halls.

The School Administration of Detroit regards the work of attendance officers as quite identical with that of teachers. Attendance officers have the same qualifications as teachers and are drawn from the teaching staff, or from the lists of those who are qualified as teachers. Moreover, successful attendance officers are eligible for appointment as principals of schools. Cleveland employs social visitors, who form a connecting link between the home and the school. Rochester also maintains a staff of social visitors. The administration in Cleveland is of the opinion that eventually these social visitors may supercede the present type of attendance officers. Presumably these social visitors have qualifications corresponding closely to those of elementary teachers.

Recently in Cleveland military drill was discontinued. I made some inquiries concerning this action of the Cleveland School Board, and as a result of my investigation was led to believe that there is a very substantial popular sentiment in Cleveland in favor of the restoration of military drill to the school curriculum. Apparently in Detroit there is much enthusiasm for this form of physical training. In the cities of New York State military drill seems to have gone into disuse. Incidentally I might report that in Boston the head masters of high schools are enthusiastically in favor of military drill.

In most of the cities visited the great majority of the principals of elementary schools are women. In the city of Cleveland, for instance, all elementary school principals, including those of eighth-grade schools, are women. On the other hand, the majority of intermediate school principals and all high school principals, are men.

Segregation of the sexes seems to be peculiar to Boston. Nowhere did we find separate high schools for boys and for girls, such as our Public Latin, English High, High School of Commerce, Mechanic Arts, Dorchester High, and Trade School, for boys; or Latin, Central High, Practical Arts, Clerical, Trade School, or Dorchester High, for girls.

Everywhere Assistant Superintendent Rafter and I were hospitably received by school people, and were given every opportunity to observe and appraise actual school conditions. We acknowledge our indebtedness to the superintendents of schools and other school officials in all the cities that we visited.

Respectfully submitted,

JEREMIAH E. BURKE,
Superintendent of Public Schools.

SUBURBAN TRAFFIC PROBLEM.

The traffic problem in suburban centres of Boston is becoming as great as in many downtown intersections.

A report made to Police Commissioner Wilson and Deputy Superintendent Goode by the Boston Chamber of Commerce is of interest.

The Chamber's table shows that 14,350 vehicles passed through Uphams Corner, Dorchester, between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. This is almost as heavy as the traffic at many of the busiest Boston intersections.

Inbound traffic on Columbia road is the heaviest of the four streams of traffic entering the square, the checkers recording 5,791 vehicles. Outbound traffic on the same street shows 4,967 vehicles. From Dudley street 2,185 vehicles entered the corner, and from Stoughton street, 1,405; 17 per cent of the traffic made left-hand turns, 14 per cent took right-hand turns, while 69 per cent went straight ahead.

SURVEY OF BOSTON HARBOR CURRENTS.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT AIMS TO GIVE EXACT INFORMATION TO MARINERS.

The harbor currents of Boston Harbor are to receive a searching measurement for an immediate period of six weeks.

Every harbor current will be measured by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. When this work is completed the predictions of the currents that are annually put out for the guidance of mariners will be based on exact information from every point of any importance within the local bay.

Four 60-foot launches will be engaged in the marine survey. By an intricate system of gauges and meters the current will be measured at three depths in a great number of places.

This is the first time that the survey has given such attention to a New England port.

A warning to mariners that the survey party will be engaged in 24-hour work in the harbor for the next six weeks has been posted by the Coast and Geodetic Survey in marine offices. The launches will be anchored at various places in the channels for from one to ten days. While anchored these vessels will be incapable of moving, therefore navigation is warned to be on the lookout for them.

When observing currents these boats will display at the foremast during the day two red balls in a vertical line and 3 feet apart. At night two red lights will be shown.

MAKES REPORT ON CONVENTION OF SCHOOL BUSINESS OFFICIALS.

BUSINESS MANAGER ALEXANDER M. SULLIVAN POINTS TO SUBJECTS DISCUSSED OF BENEFIT TO ALL.

JUNE 1, 1926.

To the School Committee.

In compliance with the provisions of section 3 of chapter 274 of the Acts of 1914, I am hereby making the following report:

On January 4, 1926, your Board passed an order authorizing the Business Manager or his representative to attend the annual convention of the National Association of Public School Business Officials held at Toronto, Canada, May 17 to May 21, inclusive, 1926.

Delegates were present from many cities and towns in the United States and Canada. Sessions were held morning and afternoon and much work accomplished. The proceedings are finally printed in book form and will be ready for distribution at a later date. Papers were read and discussed on a variety of subjects as follows:

1. Efficiency in administrative organization of the school system.
2. Duties and responsibilities of a clerk—purchasing agent—in a city of 45,000 population.
3. Industrial education.
4. Effective landscape setting for school buildings.
5. Ventilation of school buildings.
6. Uniform system of accounting and cost finding.
7. Selection and purchase of public school building sites.
8. Public school lunchrooms.
9. Low pressure heating as done in the Minneapolis public schools.
10. Preparing and presenting a budget for a city of 100,000 population.
11. Purchase of equipment and supplies and their distribution.
12. Pay roll procedure and salary control.

In addition to the reading and discussion of the foregoing papers before the assembled body, delegates broke up into groups on evenings and discussed many subjects connected with the business end of the school system.

This convention did a great deal of work and the majority of the delegates attended all sessions. Opportunity was afforded to compare the business transactions of one city with those of another and much valuable information was thereby secured.

I wish to express my appreciation to your Board for affording me the opportunity to attend this convention. It was certainly worth while in all respects.

Respectfully yours,

ALEXANDER M. SULLIVAN,
Business Manager.

EQUIPMENT FOR PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 24, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Board of Municipal Emergencies in a report submitted to me under date of March 29, 1926, stress the fact that the present mechanical equipment of the Public Works Department is totally inadequate to cope with storms of the intensity of those which visited our city last February. In the opinion of the Board, it is desirable that equipment costing approximately $500,000 be purchased in order that the Public Works Department may have adequate mechanical means to combat the storms of subsequent winters. The recommendation of the Board was received subsequent to the passage of the budget for the current year. No provision having been made therein for the purchase of such a large amount of equipment, the only alternative remaining, if the equipment is to be available for use in the winter of 1926-27, is to issue bonds for the same.

I appreciate that in advocating such a step I am departing, in a sense, from an established financial policy of the city, namely, to finance the purchase of equipment out of current revenue. After the experience of last winter, however, I feel I am justified in proposing such a step. At the present time our city is not equipped to prevent the economic loss and discomfort which follow in the wake of severe winter storms. Knowing this fact to be true, I would be remiss in my obligations as Chief Executive of the city if I did not take proper steps to remedy the present lack of departmental equipment.

As some of the equipment suggested by the Board of Municipal Emergencies is of such short life that it cannot properly be made the subject of a loan, this material should be financed within the current budget. I therefore submit for your approval two orders, one a loan order for $400,000, to be used for the purchase of equipment of a more or less permanent nature, such as trucks, tractors, and snow loaders, and the other an order providing for the transfer of $32,000 from the Reserve Fund for the purchase of blade plows, snow removers and ice scarifiers. I submit also for your consideration a copy of the report of the Board of Municipal Emergencies. Believing this to be a matter of utmost importance to the city, I recommend adoption of the accompanying orders.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $400,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works for Departmental Equipment, and that to meet said appropriation, the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $32,000, to the appropriation for Public Works Department, Paving Service, C-4, Motor Vehicles, $7,000; C-13, Tools and Instruments, $25,000.

President KEENE—If there is no objection, the message and order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I wish to make a statement before reference to the committee is made. I question the legality of such an order. Since 1909 there has been a question whether or not temporary property could be purchased under a loan order. This has not been placed in the budget, and I feel that his Honor the Mayor is asking the Council to do something that is really unfair, in asking them to pass such an order. This, I understand, is a five-year loan order, which would place the entire burden of the expense of this $500,000 on the incoming administration, whatever that might be. Possibly some member of this Council might be Mayor during the next term. I think this might be unfair to the next administration. I know it is common talk around that they are going to purchase snow loaders and snow equipment, the same as they have purchased fire apparatus. I move that this be laid on the table.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I move you, sir, that it be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Coun. WARD's motion to lay on the table was declared lost. Coun. DOWD's motion was carried, and the message and order were referred to the Committee on Finance.

CODIFICATION OF STATUTES RELATING TO CITY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 24, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—The last codification of the special statutes relating to the City of Boston was made in 1908. In the eighteen years which have elapsed since the compilation of this work countless changes and revisions have been made so that today it is a difficult task to obtain complete information concerning special legislation affecting our city. The bringing together of all the statutes relating to Boston will be of great value to all persons interested in the activities of the city.

In 1908 the sum appropriated for this work was $10,000. In view of the radical revision upward of costs which has taken place since then, I feel that it is desirable in order not to interfere with the carrying out of the work to make available an appropriation of twice the amount of 1908. It follows, of course, that only the actual amount needed for the proper carrying out of the codification will be expended. I transmit herewith communication from the Corporation Counsel, and an order authorizing the expenditure of $20,000 from the Reserve Fund for this purpose and recommend adoption of the same by your honorable body.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, May 20, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—There has not been a codification of the special statutes relating to the City of Boston since the year 1908. There is a constant need of such a codification. That this may be accomplished I am urging upon your Honor to request the Budget Commissioner to make available $20,000 for this purpose. In 1908 the sum appropriated was $10,000 but while I have no means of accurately estimating the cost of this project, to be on the safe side I am increasing the estimate.

If your Honor feels inclined to grant this request, I am enclosing a suggested order to send to the Council.

Very truly yours,
FRANK S. DELAND,
Corporation Counsel.

Ordered, That a sum not exceeding twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) be authorized to be expended by the Corporation Counsel, under the direction of the Mayor, for the purpose of preparing a codification or revision of all special acts relating to the city, with such marginal notes as in the opinion of the Corporation Counsel may be advisable, and for meeting charges for expert and stenographic purposes and other necessary and proper expenditure in connection therewith, said sum to be charged to the Reserve Fund. Referred to the Executive Committee.

24. What is the estimated cost of furnishing a convenience station at Codman square?

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would like to ask the courtesy of the father of the document to allow me to also incorporate in the interrogatories a question that is of sufficient importance to a majority of the Council to have had an answer before this time from his Honor the Mayor. Some time ago I introduced into the body an order requesting his Honor the Mayor to have some one of the numerous commissions that function around here investigate the possibility of installing a system of semiweekly collection of ashes and garbage particularly in the suburban sections of the city, for instance, Dorchester, West Roxbury, Jamaica Plain and all other sections not now served with such a health measure. We all appreciate that in the winter time, no matter what is said or done, under the contract system our ashes are not collected with any regularity, and that is despite the fact that, I think, earnest effort is made to have them so collected. But the contract system under which we work is not satisfactory. We are now coming to the summer season and in my section of the city where there are numerous three-flat houses, the only receptacle provided is a little tin one outside the door of the three-flatter, just about sufficient in size to hold the garbage of one family, in my honest opinion. So after several days, with three families using this receptacle, garbage becomes strewn about the yards and through the vicinity, resulting in an unhealthy condition. I asked his Honor the Mayor, as I said in the beginning, if we could not have some one of the numerous commissions study this proposition but as yet neither I nor this body have heard anything in regard to the matter. I am going to ask the father of the interrogatories if he will permit me to add that question?

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, replying to the request of Coun. Gilbody, if the councilor will submit chapter and verse from the City Record as to when the request was made of the Mayor and in what terms, I should be very glad to accommodate him by amending the order in accordance with his suggestion. The other interrogatories are based upon specific things and specific orders as they appear in the minutes of the body.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, as I understand the order before us his Honor the Mayor is requested to consult with the Executive Committee of the Council at our meeting of June 7 and, if there is no objection by the father of this order I would like to have a question inserted there for his Honor the Mayor to answer. If it is necessary to put in a separate order, I shall be glad to do it, but in view of the fact that this is a request that the Mayor attend our meeting, I believe it might be included with whatever requests we have in our minds, so that the whole thing can be cleared up at the same time. What I have in mind is this. We all realize that the Council was called upon to furnish an additional $85,000 for police headquarters on Berkeley street. At that time we received an urgent request from the Mayor to pass that item, appropriating the money so that the work could be done immediately, because it was necessary that there should be action at once. The Finance Commission held four different meetings, consulting with the architects, Commissioner Wilson and the builders of the police station and then, satisfied that the appropriation was perfectly proper, we granted it. Proposals for bids for the electrical and gas fixtures were opened on March 16, and, despite the fact that competent firms were bidders on the same, the bids were thrown out. New bids were readvertised and opened on April 14. We now find, despite the urgent message from his Honor the Mayor in reference to this appropriation and as to the great necessity for the work being completed, that over a month has elapsed since the opening of the bids and no award has as yet been made.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. Chairman, inasmuch as there are now two offers of amendment, I move that the order as it now stands be laid on the table until after the recess, after the Executive Committee meeting, in order that Coun. Dowd, Coun. Gilbody, and possibly others may have a proper opportunity to place whatever amendments they may have in such form as they wish, and add them to the order.

The order was laid on the table.

Later in the session the above order was taken from the table, and the following additions made to it:

25. Has the request of the City Council, made on order of Councilor Wilson January 11, 1926, with reference to the amount of appropriation that has been made, the amount of the appropriation that has been expended, and the balance remaining unexpended, in connection with Morton street, been transmitted to the Commissioner of Public Works?

26. If the answer to No. 25 is in the negative, why has the request not been transmitted to the Commissioner of Public Works?

27. If the answer to No. 25 is in the affirmative, what report has been made?

28. Has the request of the Boston City Council, made on order of Councilor Gilbody on January 25, 1926, providing for an investigation as to the extension of semiweekly collections of ashes and garbage in the entire City of Boston, been acted upon?

29. If the answer to No. 28 is in the negative, why has the request not been acted upon?

30. If the answer to No. 28 is in the affirmative, what report has been made?

31. Has the request of the Boston City Council, made on order of Councilor Bush on April 26, 1926, relative to an estimate of the cost of installing a high pressure water system in the Elm Hill section of Roxbury, been transmitted to the Commissioner of Public Works?

32. If the answer to No. 31 is in the negative, why has the request not been transmitted to the Commissioner of Public Works?

33. If the answer to No. 31 is in the affirmative, what report has been made?

The original order as introduced, with the above additions, was passed under suspension of the rule.

FINANCE REPORTS.

Coun. GREEN, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following:

1. Report on order (referred May 10) accepting chapter 220 of the Acts of 1926, entitled "An Act authorizing the City of Boston to borrow money for the widening and extension of Oakland and Ashland streets,"—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

Later in the session Coun. PARKMAN addressed the Chair:

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. It was my understanding that when the question came on the passage of the order accepting the act relating to Oakland and Ashland streets, an opportunity would be given me to state my position before a vote was taken on the passage of the order. As I intended to make some remarks on the passage of the order, I would like to ask if my interpretation is not correct?

President KEENE—Mr. Parkman moves a reconsideration in order that he may be heard upon the order.

Reconsideration of the passage of the order accepting the act with reference to Oakland and Ashland streets prevailed.

The question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, at our last meeting we accepted two acts of the 1926 Legislature, one calling for the widening of River street in the Mattapan and Hyde Park region, and one providing for an East Boston pumping station. These acts called for the borrowing of money outside of the debt limit of the City of Boston amounting to $900,000. We are now asked to accept another act, for the widening of Oakland and Ashland streets, in which the amount specified is $500,000, this money also to be raised outside the debt limit. Including that act, authority now exists by legislative acts for the incurring of $3,000,000 of debt. I am opposed to the acceptance of this act now before the Council, not necessarily on its merits, although I think it still remains to be shown that this entire widening is essential, and that this sum of money is sufficient to carry it through; but I am opposed to it principally because of the methods employed for raising this money outside the debt limit by special act of the Legislature. After the hospital loans before us today, there still remains $2,500,000 of debt-incurring power within the debt limit of the City of Boston, and I am in favor of using this borrowing power before resorting to the Legislature for special authority to borrow money outside the debt limit. Boston had a fine financial record for the years following the adoption of the present charter until about the year 1921, for in those years the city succeeded in actually effecting a reduction in its net debt. Since that time, however, there has been another story. The debt has increased by leaps and bounds until at the present time the debt of the City of Boston, exclusive of rapid transit, is equal to the 1919 figure, and seems well on the way to the figures of 1910. In dollars and cents the debt has jumped from $47,000,000 on January 31, 1922, to $54,000,000 on December 31, 1925, an increase of $7,000,000 or over 17 per cent, while in the same space of time the assessed valuation of the city has increased only 11 per cent. The interest and debt requirements for this year are the highest on record—$7,200,000 as against $5,500,000 five years ago, an increase of $1,700,000, or 30 per cent, and accounting alone for an increase of $1 in the tax rate. Of course, the question may be asked: "What is the difference between borrowing money outside and borrowing money inside the debt limit? It is all borrowing. The difference is this, that every time you go to the Legislature for special authority to borrow money outside the debt limit you release by just so much the power to borrow within the debt limit, and the urge and temptation to use up the remaining debt-incurring power has proven too strong to be resisted; with the result that, wilfully, in spite of yourselves, the debt begins to soar and we begin to store up for future administrations a debt burden and a financial problem that will be hard to meet. There seems to be a general agreement that resort should be had to the Legislature for special authority to borrow only in exceptional cases and where the money to be raised could not be had within the debt limit. For many years special acts giving authority to borrow outside the debt limit were passed in every Legislature. This grew to be such an evil that in 1913 a special commission on Municipal Finance was constituted by the Legislature to investigate and report upon the matter and the report of that commission resulted in the passage of the Municipal Bond Act of 1913, which was later amended in 1923. That act, it is true, does not include the City of Boston, although it includes every other city and town in the Commonwealth, but the principle it sets forth is applicable to us as well. No good reason has ever been advanced why the city of Boston should be exempted from its provisions. That act specifies the purposes and periods for which cities may borrow, and provides that in all cases 25 cents on every thousand dollars of valuation shall be raised from taxation before borrowing is resorted to. This was in the interest of a pay-as-you-go policy, and that it has been successful is seen in the fact that in the case of all other cities between the years 1909 and 1922 the ratio of debt to assessed valuation declined from 4.74 to 3.81 and for Boston remained almost stationary at 5.2. If Boston were covered by that act it would be required to raise from taxation almost $450,000 before any resort whatever could be made to borrowing, so that this loan would be ruled out almost completely. As it is, 10 per cent of a loan is to be raised by taxes but all the balance is to be borrowed outside the debt limit when there is plenty of margin for borrowing inside the limit. The very least concession Boston might make toward adopting the sound policy of the Municipal Bond Act would be to say that before borrowing outside the debt limit it would borrow inside up to this 25 cents on the thousand limit, and if margin sufficient within the limit did not remain to say: "In the interest of sound financing we must forego such and such an improvement this year and wait until such time as there is sufficient margin inside the debt limit." Another point to be considered is that sound financial policy calls for annually recurring charges to be met from revenue and not from borrowing. That has been stressed by students of municipal affairs and by members of this City Council from time immemorial. There are two items here this year for which we have borrowed $1,000,000 each,—the construction of new streets and for new sewerage. These items come within the category of annually recurring charges which are with us every year and represent the needs of a growing city. In 1923 the legislative commission on municipal expenditures reported to the Legislature in the matter of an amendment to the Municipal Bond Act, and in their report, after stating that the commission believes there should be more careful scrutiny of petitions for special borrowing under acts presented to the Legislature, went on to say that investigation had established more firmly than ever the opinion of the members that all annually recurring charges, even though some of them might be for permanent improvements, should be met from taxes, that when the charges were such they must be met each year over a term of years the commission believed it unsound to borrow to meet them, particularly when it meant the payment of such large additional amounts in the way of interest. A bill was introduced into the Legislature that year authorizing the City of Boston to add sufficient to its tax rate to take care of its annual recurring charges, but that bill failed of passage. While it failed of passage, however, the principle is as true now as it was then. It is not good business to add to the annual cost of such improvements large amounts for the payment of interest. The situation now is that we have already borrowed $2,000,000, as I say, which should have been raised by taxation. That makes it all the more important to check in every way we can, in every way that lies within the power of the City Council, all other borrowing that may not be absolutely necessary. Every suggested improvement or alteration should be subjected to the severest scrutiny and criticism, and unless good cause is shown should be rejected or at least postponed, and in no case should the money be raised outside the debt limit when it can be raised inside. The interest requirements of Boston for 1923, the last year for which comparative statistics for the cities and towns of Massachusetts are available, amounted to 12.6 per cent of the total charges against revenue, a figure higher than that of any other city in the Commonwealth and more than 3 per cent higher than the average. On the tax rate for that year the interest and debt charges amounted to $3.07. For the year 1926 the interest and debt charges amounted to $4.03 on each $1,000 valuation, or 16 per cent of the total charges against revenue. That is a high price to pay for a borrowing policy, and on top of that we are faced right now and without adding anything to the debt this year with very heavy payments on account of the city debt, the highest interest and debt requirement that the city has ever been called upon to face, without adding to the borrowing this year. It is our duty, Mr. President, to safeguard in every way the financial policy and the finances of the city. After the budget, it is the most important duty we have to perform, and it is not to be lightly passed over. The Legislature recognizes that the duty is ours when it provides that the act must be accepted by the City Council, and we should not assume that the duty is a perfunctory one or is so intended. The Legislature cannot pretend to know the needs and requirements of each and every city, nor all the considerations which may affect the special acts which come before it, constituted as it is of men from all over the state. It must rely on the good faith and integrity of the representatives who introduce the bills, and in the last degree upon the judgment of that body of the municipality charged with the responsibility of spending the people's money, and therefore it provides that an act of this kind shall not be effective until its acceptance by the City Council. In this case the responsibility is ours, Mr. President and gentlemen. It lies with us, and we should consider carefully whether we shall accept such an act, involving the principle of borrowing outside the debt limit, when the city still has within the debt limit sufficient debt-incurring power to meet the requirements. Will the City Council meet its responsibility in this matter? I certainly trust that every member here will seriously consider the facts and figures I have set before you before voting to accept this act.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, I wish to compliment the councilor from Ward 5 on his most excellent resume of the city's finances, but I desire to take issue with him on some statements he has made with regard to the desirability or undesirability of incurring debt on the part of the city for matters of permanent improvement. Such eminent authorities, as Professor Munro on Municipal Government in the United States of America, advocate the use of the debt-incurring power outside of the regular debt limit for permanent improvements, believing that such power is justified where the improvements are of such a permanent and beneficial nature that no harm and no injustice will be done to future generations or future administrations by virtue of the exercise of that power, by reason of the fact that the improvements are of such a permanent nature that future generations should be burdened with the expense of them because of their enjoying the benefits of them. Therefore, I disagree with the councilor from Ward 5 on this point. There seems to me to be no harm whatever in exercising such power as the Legislature will grant, within reasonable limits, for the constructive permanent improvements required by this city. Furthermore, taking his comparisons with past administrations, a review of the period of those administrations will show that there was very little constructive effort in the city at that time, and that by virtue of that fact the debt-incurring power was kept down. But it seems to me if the city is to make any progress whatever—and it is backward in a great many respects—that power could be used a great deal further without being used to excess, for constructive improvements throughout the city, and without any violation or injustice being done to the public through burdening future administrations or generations with the debt.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, this is a permissive bill. It is an act of this year's Legislature authorizing the City of Boston to borrow $500,000 outside the debt limit. We are merely voting this afternoon, Mr. President, on the acceptance of that order. I believe we ought to send the order along this afternoon to his Honor the Mayor, placing the responsibility where it belongs, on the shoulders of the Mayor. As a matter of courtesy to the councilor, who is affected, I think we ought to pass this order along.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, as a general thing I agree with Coun. Parkman in his ideas regarding municipal financing. I might even go so far as to agree with the general propositions he has stated here this afternoon in regard to the proper way of handling financial problems. In this particular instance, however, there are certain practical considerations which we have to face. The administration of the city has already ruled how it will act in the matter of making this improvement inside the debt limit, and it has ruled in substance that it will not do it inside the debt limit, in vetoing an order which required doing it inside the debt limit. That leaves as the only issue whether the same shall be ratified by this Council at all? There is no doubt that this is a much-needed improvement, that it is an improvement of a permanent character and one that should be made. The administration has left the door open for doing it outside the debt limit, and as long as that opportunity is presented for doing it outside the debt limit, I think the Council should recognize the need of the improvement and accept the act.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, just one word in reply to Coun. Bush. I think I cannot have made myself clear, as I do believe in borrowing for permanent improvements. The only question is, shall we borrow outside the debt limit, or shall we keep within the debt limit? In reply to Coun. Guild as to the necessity for the improvement, it does not appear that the administration has taken any stand at the committee hearings in the Legislature one way or the other. I do not understand that it was advocated by the administration up on the hill. Furthermore, I have been given no assurance that $500,000 is adequate to take care of this improvement, paying the land damages over a long extent of the street and actually financing the construction. It seems to me before the act is accepted, we should at least be certain that sufficient money is available to finish the improvement and not have a street started and remaining incomplete until further money is borrowed at some time in the future.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I do not recall seeing Coun. Parkman at the hearings before the Legislature when this bill was before the Committee on Municipal Finance. It may be that that was an oversight on my part, but at that time the matter of doing this inside or outside the debt limit was very thoroughly gone into, and I do not think he was present. So far as assurances have been given,—and whether Coun. Parkman has received them or not, I have,—the job can be done for the $500,000.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I simply want to state that the City Council ought indeed to feel very, very grateful to the State Legislature for allowing us to pass judgment on this bill. As a matter of fact, when the Exchange street bill was before the Legislature, involving a proposed expenditure of some $3,000,000 and very vitally affecting the City of Boston, the same Legislature, under orders of the so-called bosses, when an amendment was put on the bill to refer it to the City Council, defeated the amendment by seventeen votes stating that the City Council did not have intelligence enough to pass on the matter I simply feel that at any time when the Legislature does allow us to vote on a matter of spending our own money, the money of the taxpayers of Boston, for a really needed improvement, we should be grateful to the gentlemen from Barnstable and Cape Cod for the honor they bestow upon us allowing us to give our approval to the act.

The order was passed, yeas 16, nays 2:
Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Dowd, Englert, Gilbody, Green, Guild, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—16.

Nays—Coun. Dowling, Parkman—2.
2. Report on order (referred May 17) appropriating by loan $100,000 to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commission for new fire station Engine 17 and Ladder 7, Dorchester,—that the same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, on this loan that is now before the Council I would like to say just a word. I come from a district that is pretty well crowded, and we have had a fire station there ever since the town of Dorchester was annexed to Boston. There are the same old buildings there now, and I feel, coming from the district where those conditions prevail, that I would like to have the Council pass this order so that we may have something out there that men can live and work in. Certainly a change should be made, and I am glad to get up here and speak in favor of the passage of this order. I trust that the Council will pass it today.

The order was passed, yeas 18, nays 0:

JITNEY LICENSE REFUSED.

Coun. WRAGG for the Committee on jitney Licenses submitted a report on the petition of the Boston Elevated Railway Company (referred May 10) to operate motor vehicles between the junction of Deerfield street and Bay State road and the junction of Tremont and Beacon streets, via Bay State road and Beacon street, returning via Tremont street, Scollay square, Cambridge street and Beacon street and Bay State road,—that the petitioner have leave to withdraw.

Report accepted; petitioner given leave to withdraw.

The order was read once and passed under suspension of the rule, yeas 18, nays 0.

REPAVING OF MERIDIAN STREET.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK, BLACKINTON STREET.

Coun. GREEN, for Coun. DONOVAN, offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along the easterly side of Blackinton street, from Bennington street to Leyden street, East Boston, Ward 1, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 19 of the Special Acts of 1917.

ATTENDANCE AT CHRISTY MATHEWSON EXERCISES.

Coun. DOWD offered the following:

Whereas, on Friday, May 28, 1926, all loyal followers of the national game will gather to do honor to one of the greatest of its players, whose career on the diamond was one of glory, whose devotion to his profession has ever been an incentive to the youth of America, the late Christy Mathewson, be it therefore

Resolved, that the members of the Boston City Council purchase a box and attend in a body the exercises to be held in his honor.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

THE NEXT MEETING.

It was voted, on motion of Coun. DOWLING, that when the Council adjourn, it be to meet on Monday, June 7, at 2 p. m.

COLLECTIONS AT SUNDAY GAMES.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, may I ask the chairman of the Park and Recreation Department Committee whether or not any definite stand has been taken by the Park Department relative to the articles we have been reading about in the newspapers for the last two weeks to the effect that no collections will be allowed in connection with the playing of baseball games on the public grounds on Sunday?

Coun. McMAHON—Mr. President, in answer to Coun. Dowd I will say that the matter has been taken up with the Mayor and the Park Commissioner. The Park Commissioner has given the committee and myself to understand that he will do nothing until he gets word from the Corporation Counsel, Mr. Deland. Until that time, this is as much as I can tell the Council. Of course, that is on a week day, outside of Sunday. There would be absolutely nothing on a Sunday, anyway.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, inasmuch as the Council is not going to meet for two more weeks, and by that time baseball will be well under way, I believe it is about time that the Council took a definite stand on this matter. I believe Deputy Commissioner Long, in answer to a question put to him at the last executive meeting, said that if permits were granted to sell even one cigarette or one peanut it would be perfectly legal. If that is legal, I can see no valid reason why the youth of Boston cannot assemble on a playground and play baseball and collect something in some way that will enable them to meet expenses. I would say that the objection to this comes from only one group of people, those represented by the Sunday League. If they are going to run Boston, it is about time for us to know it, so that we may shut up and keep quiet. I know that the Park Commission has a right to allow the sale of candy and cigarettes on the playgrounds of Boston on Sunday, and it is entirely within their power and their sanction to have a regulation made by which these collections can be taken up in one form or another. There is going to be trouble before the summer is over on several playgrounds, unless some action is taken. I don't want to see the teams representing Roxbury prohibited by the Park Commission from playing ball on Sundays, and we know that unless some permission is granted by the commission whereby collections can be made, whereby in some way expenses can be met, such games cannot continue. It costs money for those games, and I believe now is the time for us to go on record in the matter, stating to the Park Commission our wish that the law be changed, so far as they are concerned, so that the boys may be able to have their Sunday baseball.

Coun. GREEN—Mr. President, as a member of the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds, I thought this matter was threshed out pretty definitely with the Deputy Commissioner. I think at the last meeting the Deputy Commissioner promised that the rule laid down by the Park Department would be abrogated. There is nothing in the city ordinances or in the law preventing these boys from playing on Saturday afternoon and making a collection. The Deputy Commissioner said that this whole thing was because of a rule laid down by the Park Commission. After talking with the members of the committee in executive session he promised to call a meeting of the commission and abrogate that rule; and I think Coun. Dowd should at this time introduce an order by which the Council may go on record as calling on the Park Commissioner or commissioners to abrogate that rule to prevent these little boys from collecting expenses on a playground to pay for the expense of the visiting team. Unless the rule should be abrogated, I am going to call on the councilor from Roxbury at this time to introduce an order calling on the commissioner to take some such action.

Coun. RUBY—Mr. President, I hardly think the introduction of that kind of an order is necessary. If the gentlemen will refer to the minutes of the last meeting, there was an order presented at that time by myself which reads as follows:

"Resolved, That the Boston City Council recommends to the Park Department that its rules be changed so as to permit of voluntary contributions being made to any organizations of individuals at any athletic game or event on the parks and playgrounds of the City of Boston."

This resolution was passed under suspension of the rule. Some time later in the week the committee conferred with his Honor the Mayor and Deputy Commissioner Long of the Park Department, and the Deputy Commissioner told us in the Mayor's office that the Park Department would do nothing with reference to this situation, so that it seemed to me, at least, that contributions, if made, or voluntary contributions, if taken up, would not be interfered with. There arose then a question, I think in the executive session last week, with reference to just what Judge Fosdick's ruling with reference to the petitioner cases argued before him the 14th of May was concerned, and I have here a transcript copy of that case in which the Court in handing down his ruling, said that under the section of the act by which these four or five young men were brought in for taking a collection at a game on a public playground in Boston, that particular section, 24 of chapter 136, does not state such an act to constitute an offence punishable by the honorable court. That, I think, disposes of the question as to whether it was criminal for these collections to be taken up. The issue was raised originally by the Park Department under a city ordinance passed some time ago, and they let it be known through the press that they would take the names and addresses of the manager and captains of the different teams and refuse to grant a permit for any future games. As a result of that action, my order was introduced. But I now firmly believe, if the Park Department through its deputy commissioner is going to do what the deputy commissioner said he was going to do, we can afford to let this matter rest. I have heard, and I understand, that a number of baseball games have been played since last Monday, and I have not heard of any names being taken or any permits being revoked. I think we must therefore assume that the Park Department intends to let the matter rest until a final decision is obtained from the Law Department. Under the circumstances, doesn't this honorable body feel that the publicity of this sort of thing may rather hurt the case than help it? There is no question in my mind but what every member of the Council wants to see the young men's baseball games uninterrupted, and if such a rule were put into effect it would mean doing away with the Twilight League. There is not a person in this chamber but wants to see these baseball games continued. I think, however, that nothing can be gained by publicity of this sort at this time, and I urge, therefore, that no action be taken until something definite is done with reference to my order of last week.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, the representatives of the Fourth Estate have supplied me with information that has come from the Mayor's office today, to the effect that the Mayor has directed the Park Department to take the matter up and solve it by the selling of score cards, and it is felt that that will eliminate any objectionable features. As to the matter of Sunday baseball, I understand that that does not extend this everyday action to Sunday, but that there is opposition to collections on city playgrounds on Sundays. I suppose, so far as the Park Commission are concerned, that their action will follow the order issued by the chief executive today. That is the situation, and that makes it more clear to all of us now.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I believe the bone of contention is not relative to games during the week, but to Sunday afternoon baseball. I believe that is the time when the greatest number of people gather. I understand, according to Deputy Commissioner Long, that it would then be perfectly legal to sell score cards or candy or anything else, on Sunday afternoon. I certainly am desirous of seeing the Council take some action whereby the Park Department may declare themselves one way or the other in reference to Sunday baseball.

RECONSIDERATION REFUSED.

On motion of Coun. McGRATH, a reconsideration of all action taken today was refused.

Adjourned at 4.10 p. m. on motion of Coun. DOWLING, to meet on Monday, June 7, at 2 p. m.

The Board took up for consideration the supplementary budget and appropriation order for the maintenance of the public schools for the financial year 1926, prepared and submitted by the Business Manager in accordance with the rules, as follows:

Office of the Business Manager of the School Committee, Tenth Floor, 15 Beacon Street, May 17, 1926.

To the School Committee:—

On March 26, 1926, I submitted to your Board in compliance with paragraph 2 of section 100 of the rules, the budget and annual appropriation order, with detailed estimates, to provide for the cost of maintenance of the public schools; for the cost of administration and supervision; and for the cost of sundry other services and expenses of the public schools, for the financial year 1926, exclusive of the item "Alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards," for which provision will be made in a separate order.

At the meeting of the School Committee held on March 26, 1926, the estimates submitted by the Business Manager were placed on file, and the appropriation order appended thereto passed.

The average valuation of the city for the three years 1923, 1924 and 1925 with all abatements allowed up to December 31, 1925, as certified to His Honor, the Mayor by the Board of Assessors is $1,780,945,466.16. This is the sum upon which all appropriations by the City Council and the School Committee for the financial year 1926 are based.

Chapter 153 of the Acts of 1926 entitled, "An Act to Regulate Appropriations for Certain School Purposes in the City of Boston" provides for increased appropriating power, which shall take effect beginning with the financial year 1926, as follows:

(a) Fifty-six cents additional, upon each one thousand dollars of said average valuation for the item "Alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards."

(b) Three cents additional, upon each one thousand dollars of said average valuation for the item "For organizing and conducting physical training and exercises, athletics, sports, games and play, and for providing apparatus, equipment and facilities for the same in buildings, yards and playgrounds under the control of the School Committee, or upon any other land which the said Committee may have the right to use for this purpose under the provisions of Chapter 295 of the Acts of 1907 and any acts in addition thereto and in amendment thereof."

(c) One cent additional, upon each one thousand dollars of said average valuation for the item "For the employment of one supervising female nurse, and so many district female nurses as, in the opinion of the School Committee, are necessary in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 357 of the Acts of 1907 and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto, and for the employment of such number of school physicians as, in the opinion of said Committee, may be necessary, and for the care of teeth of school children."

I recommend the passage of the accompanying order appropriating the additional amounts made available by said Chapter 153 of the Acts of 1926, exclusive of the item "Alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards," for which provision will be made in a separate appropriation order.

Respectfully yours,

ALEXANDER M. SULLIVAN.

REPORT OF TRIAL BOARD.

A communication was received from the Trial Board, to whom was referred at the meeting of May 3, 1926, a communication reporting an injury to the boiler in the Oak Square School-house, reporting that a hearing was held which was attended by the three members of the Trial Board, by the Schoolhouse Custodian, and by Edward Boles, the custodian concerned.

The Trial Board is convinced that the damage was not due to neglect on the part of the custodian. The accident occurred on Friday, April 23. Early in the week the custodian, carrying out instructions of the Schoolhouse Custodian, had thoroughly cleaned the boiler and placed in the fire box paper and wood, to be prepared to start fire without delay. On Friday morning he blew down the boiler and left it in what he considered perfect condition. He then went upstairs and was occupied for some time in washing windows, cleaning, etc. When he returned to the boiler room, he found that fire had been started in the boiler and since there was no water sections were cracked.

Several men were working in the yard and had access to the boiler room. It seems probable that a match was thrown into the fire box and that in this way the fire was started.

The Schoolhouse Custodian makes favorable report of Mr. Boles's services and agrees with the Trial Board that the serious accident which occurred was not due to neglect on the part of the custodian.

FINDING—That the accident was not due to carelessness or neglect on the part of the custodian.

RECOMMENDATION—That the custodian be advised that he is exonerated in this instance but that he is to take even greater precautions in the future to safeguard school property.

Placed on file and the recommendation adopted.

RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF THOMAS J. KENNY.

Mr. Sullivan stated that he had learned with regret of the death of Mr. Thomas J. Kenny, a former member of the School Committee. Mr. Kenny was a member of the old Board of twenty-four during the years 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904, and of the new Board of five, during the years 1906 and 1907.

Mr. Kenny brought to the service of the community high-minded and unselfish devotion and a high order of intelligence and humanity, which were characteristic of his career, both public and private.

I believe it appropriate that this Committee memorialize Mr. Kenny's service and through the Chairman, I will ask the Superintendent, whose acquaintance with Mr. Kenny was of long standing, to make a fitting statement which shall be spread upon the records of this meeting.

The Superintendent made the following statement:

Mr. Thomas J. Kenny was a high-minded gentleman, eminently straightforward and sincere. His was a career that commands a permanent memorial.

Mr. Kenny served with distinction for many years as a member of this Board.

Unreservedly he gave his talents and his wisdom for the welfare of the children of Boston, and the prosperity of the city he loved.

He was conscientious and faithful in the discharge of his manifold duties, personal and civic; an ideal private citizen; a patriotic, constructive public servant.

His life serves as a lesson to the youth of our city of what may be achieved through industry, integrity and incorruptibility.

The statement was ordered spread upon the records in testimony of the Committee's appreciation of Mr. Thomas J. Kenny, and a copy thereof ordered transmitted to Mr. Kenny's family.

It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway, from Broadway and Tremont St., South End, to North Station and from Boylston St., near Charles to Park St., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first transportation subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State St. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000, the first all-concrete underwater transportation tunnel in the world; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages; Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,485,639; East Boston Tunnel Extension from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,523,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station; on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal. Trains of four or six cars are run in the East Boston Tunnel, the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston, connecting with Cambridge Tunnel, to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways. Cost of Dorchester tunnel, $11,016,700 to Jan. 31, 1925; of new Arlington Station extending under Boylston St., between Arlington and Berkeley, $1,230,676; of East Boston Tunnel Alterations, Maverick sq., $3,768,857.

The loans are payable mostly in 40 years from date of each (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent.

These underground ways, about nine miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track, were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{3}{4}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{1}{2}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company).

In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

By Chap. 480, Acts of 1923, the extension of the Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew Square about 1,300 feet southerly was ordered, the proposed new railway location then coming to the surface 400 feet southeast of Dorchester Ave., thence continuing to Harrison Square; thence along the Shawmut Branch railroad to its termination at Blue Hill Ave. and River St., Mattapan.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work:

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe in Richard terrace, between Wentworth street and a point 170 feet westerly, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $1,360.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe in Myrtlebank avenue, between Marsh street and a point 378 feet southerly, in the Dorchester district, at an estimated cost of $3,024.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch earthen pipe in Dedham street, between Glenwood avenue and a point 252 feet south-westerly, in the Hyde Park district, at an estimated cost of $2,520.

A sanitary sewer and surface drain of 12-inch earthen pipe in Leon street, between Greenleaf street and a point 380 feet southerly, in the Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $9,400.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for authority to do work with Bridge Department force and force of the Transit Department, as per detailed statement attached, without advertising, the estimated cost for labor and material being $10,000.

Rebuild wooden flooring of Boylston Street Bridge, over the Boston & Albany Railroad and repair or replace broken steel struts. The replacing of the broken steel struts is of an emergency nature as the struts are apt to fall down on the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad and the only way in which the work can be done is by ripping up the flooring of the bridge. The wooden flooring is in bad condition and should be replaced in any event.

It is extremely difficult to tell what the exact cost would be and very difficult to award a contract for the work as the conditions are unknown to a large extent.

The work can be done by the day labor forces much cheaper than in any other way.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

In accordance with which, it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Joseph C. Murphy perform two hundred and ten hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

FINANCE COMMISSION LETTER.

The Finance Commission has sent to the City Council a communication in part as follows:

BOSTON, June 7, 1926.

To the Honorable the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—On May 24, 1926, the Mayor sent a communication to your honorable body, in which he recommended the passage of a loan order of $400,000 to purchase equipment for snow removal, and requested authority to transfer an additional sum of $32,000 from the Reserve Fund for this purpose. The Mayor admitted that in recommending the loan he was departing from an established policy, but he sought to justify this change on the ground that the need for the equipment, according to the report of the Board of Municipal Emergency, was urgent and that this was proved by the experience of the past winter.

Two questions are involved: (1) whether the city should borrow money for the purchase of such equipment, and (2) whether such an extensive purchase of equipment at present is justified.

The Finance Commission believes that, if any snow removal equipment is to be purchased, it should be paid for entirely with money raised by taxation. To borrow money to purchase property which will soon wear out would break down a principle which, with minor deviations, has been adhered to since the charter amendments were adopted.

The Mayor's reference to the storms of last winter raises the whole question whether that experience proves that the purchase of this expensive equipment is required.

In advertising for bids, contractors should be notified that they will be required to satisfy the department, either that they have the necessary trucks and equipment for snow removal, or that they have satisfactory agreements with subcontractors to supply trucks and equipment when required. Furthermore, a suitable penalty for failure to render the required service should be inserted in the contract and an adequate bond should be taken for faithful performance, instead of the nominal $1,000 bond now called for. The expense of last winter can be cut down by letting such contracts to the lowest responsible bidders who meet the stipulated requirements, and by reorganizing the inspection force.

The report of the Mayor's Board of Municipal Emergency recommends the expenditure of $546,000 for snow removal equipment.

Even if it were proposed to buy all the apparatus for snow removal from funds raised by taxes, and even if a large part of the apparatus, consisting mostly of trucks, could be used all the year, it is doubtful if more than a small part of that recommended should be bought. The present system of providing for normal times and supply elasticity by contract, if properly carried out, is best adapted to the city's needs.

The primary cost of all the proposed equipment is but a part of the expense the city must bear. It is not to be expected that the drivers of horse-drawn vehicles would be used as chauffeurs for the new trucks. These drivers would either be thrown out of work or given jobs of doubtful value to the city. If the full equipment recommended were purchased at least sixty regular chauffeurs, with additional chauffeurs to substitute in case of sickness or absence—perhaps seventy-five in all—would have to be added to the pay roll. Additional housing facilities would have to be provided. The new garage at the South End will be substantially filled without the new equipment, and the Hancock street garage is not centrally located. The suggestion of storing some of the new trucks in fire houses is impracticable. The trucks which, when not employed in the removal of snow, may be used for the collection of ashes and garbage, would not be welcomed in fire houses where the men sleep. If additional buildings for housing and repairing the trucks were required, the expense might run to several hundred thousand dollars. Furthermore, this new equipment must be kept in repair and its depreciation assumed by the city.

The limited amount of snow removal equipment which the city at this time is justified in purchasing should easily be provided out of the tax levy from the Reserve Fund and the departmental appropriations.

The Finance Commission recommends that the loan order for $400,000 be rejected.

Respectfully submitted,

by CHARLES L. CARR,
Chairman.

Upon June 10 the Mayor approved a contract with Patrick J. McGuigan, for the construction of artificial sidewalks. A communication from J. H. Sullivan of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, June 8, 1926.

To the Mayor of Boston.

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Patrick J. McGuigan, 28 Adams street, Roxbury, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; secondly, the expense of construction is to be divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

J. H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

[FINANCE COMMISSION LETTER.]

The Mayor had received the following communication, in part, from the Finance Commission:

BOSTON, June 11, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

SIR,—The City of Boston is losing $20,000 by the failure of the Public Works Department to charge the regular fee to the contractors on the Statler Hotel and the Motor Mart. On the other hand, the contractor who is erecting the new building for the Boston Consolidated Gas Company in Park square, opposite the Statler Hotel and the Motor Mart, has been charged the regular permit fee for street and sidewalk occupation. From May 1, 1925, to May 28, 1926, the contractor on the Statler Hotel occupied the street without a permit and no protest was made by the police of the district. On May 28, 1926, the police became active and the contractor then obtained the permit with the fee waived. The permit clerk of the Public Works Department estimates that the contractor on the Statler Hotel should pay $17,000 to the city and the contractor on the Motor Mart $3,000 for the space occupied by them..

The policy of waiving the payment of fees was begun by Mayor Curley, when he allowed the permit to be issued to the Harvey Company without payment. Again, on September 25, 1925, he approved in writing the waiver of a fee in the case of the Statler Hotel, but even under these conditions the contractor did not take out a permit. When the contractor was required by the police to apply for the permit, the present Commissioner of Public Works waved the fee. The waiver of the fee in the case of the Motor Mart was by direction of the present Commissioner of Public Works. He stated that before doing so he consulted with your Honor and received your Honor's assent to his action. The Finance Commission cannot understand the reasoning of city officials in thus giving away revenue of the City of Boston to the extent of $20,000.

It is a specious excuse for exempting the Statler Hotel and the Motor Mart from paying the regular fees to call these locations "islands." The streets surrounding these premises are busy thoroughfares, and the public are not only inconvenienced by being forced to walk in the center of the streets, but the city is suffering financial loss. The commission cannot understand why one contractor is charged a fee and another is not.

The commission believes that the laws of the city should be impartially enforced, and that one group of contractors should not be favored to the exclusion of another.

The commission recommends:

1. That the policy of exempting from the payment of fees contractors doing construction work in areas described as "islands" be abandoned.

2. That the Law Department be requested to determine whether a fee may now be legally charged to the contractors for the street and sidewalk space occupied at the Statler Hotel and the Motor Mart.

3. That, if the city has not put itself in a position where it cannot collect these fees, it proceed at once to collect them.

Respectfully submitted,

by CHARLES L. CARR,
Chairman.

sidewalk being considerably higher than

EMERGENCY BOARD REPLIES TO FINANCE COMMISSION.

The Mayor has received the following communication from the Municipal Emergency Board in reply to the Finance Commissioner:

BOSTON, June 12, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your Emergency Board has considered the letter of the Finance Commission dated June 7, 1926, and addressed to the Honorable City Council. A portion of this letter refers to a report of this Board recommending an expenditure of $546,000 for snow removal equipment. In connection with this portion of the letter, the Board begs leave to comment as follows:

The Public Works and Park Departments did not call for the equipment recommended in their annual budgets as no change in the usual method of snow removal was contemplated.

Because of the failure of the "usual method" to function efficiently in the storm of February of this year, your Honor appointed this Board to study the conditions of snow removal and recommend a method that would so function that the economic loss and discomfort suffered by the public last February might be avoided in the future.

There is no contractor in the City of Boston with sufficient equipment to secure the desired result. It is doubtful that under any contract method that would be fair to the city that any contractor would make any substantial investment for apparatus which would be used primarily for snow removal and would therefore be laid up the greater part of the time. Without this equipment there is always liable to be a repetition of the conditions of last February, and to insure the public against such conditions, it is necessary that the city purchase the equipment.

As regards the purchase of trucks which is 70 per cent of expenditure recommended for the Public Works Department, this recommendation was made after going over the entire matter with the Commissioner of Public Works who will have charge of these trucks and who will place them as outlined to you in our report of March 29.

The Commissioner of Public Works further assures us that he has ample garage space for the trucks recommended. It was not contemplated to store any trucks in fire stations, but such storage of the equipment which is used only for snow removal.

The Commissioner of Public Works has also stated that there are plenty of men already employed in his department available as chauffeurs to man the entire equipment.

Regarding the equipment for the Park Department, the Deputy Commissioner of said department attended every meeting of the Board which dealt with the handling of snow, and the recommendation of the Board for the expenditure of $47,500 was based on his statements.

In conclusion, your Board is of the opinion that the recommendations outlined in its report to you of March 29, 1926, should be adopted.

Respectfully yours,

LOUIS K. ROURKE,
FRANCIS X. MAHONEY,
J. H. SULLIVAN,
HERBERT A. WILSON,
FRANK S. DELAND,
THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Emergency Board.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, June 7, 1926.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President KEENE in the chair. Absent, Coun. Donovan, Green and Ruby.

REPRESENTATIVE FROM THE MAYOR.

President KEENE—The Chair understands that in response to an order passed by the Council at its last meeting, addressed to his Honor the Mayor, Commissioner Fox, representing the Mayor, is available to answer the questions asked in said order.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, as I understand it, the list of questions prepared and passed by this honorable body requested his Honor the Mayor to appear before the Council this afternoon and answer those questions. We are now informed that his Honor the Mayor has designated Commissioner Fox to answer the questions for him. Personally, as a councilor, I do not desire to hear Commissioner Fox on those questions. The questions were put up to his Honor the Mayor, and it is about time that he had backbone enough to recognize this Council and come in and sit with us as an official representing the City of Boston. Instead of that, we find that his Honor the Mayor has sent Mr. Fox to represent him. This is the first time since the honorable Mr. Phillips was Mayor of Boston that the Mayor has thought himself bigger than the Council and has refused to come before it. We all understand and realize that the Mayor is not compelled to appear before us to answer any questions, but, as officers elected to represent the citizens of Boston, I think some consideration and courtesy is due us. We find that this afternoon, instead of appearing before this body, in response to the order passed by us, he is passing the afternoon at a circus with the rest of the clowns, and I presume he thinks that the members of this body are clowns, too. Personally, I resent the action of his Honor the Mayor, and I, for one, do not desire to hear Commissioner Fox answer the questions.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I feel that there may be some misapprehension, from what the previous speaker has said, in regard to the language of the order which was passed at the last regular meeting of the Council. At that meeting, under the language of the order, the Mayor was given the option of answering personally or through department heads, and the charter also specifically gives to his Honor the Mayor the right to appear here through a department head. I think it was only a misapprehension on the part of the previous speaker as to what was in the order that led him to speak as he did. I do not attempt to justify the wisdom of the Mayor in taking the action he has taken in this matter, but I do feel that it is doing considerable injustice to his Honor the Mayor to speak as though he had no choice in the matter whatever. The Council specifically gave him the choice of appearing in person or answering through department heads.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I believe the charter does give the Mayor the privilege of answering such questions through department heads, if he so wishes, whether the order passed by our body did or not. But the Mayor must recognize that this is a dignified body and that we want to hear from the Mayor, want him to come before us. As we look back over the years we find that Josiah Quincy was not too big a man to appear before the Council and that Mayors Matthews, Hibbard and Fitzgerald were not too big to do so. I feel, with a dignified body of this kind, that at times it is only proper for the Mayor of Boston to appear before the body in person.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I think in response to the order we passed at the last meeting that if the Mayor himself did not see fit to appear in person he should at least have had each department head concerned to answer specifically as to the matters coming under his own notice for consideration. It strikes me that from the first of January this body has been absolutely ignored. When results were desired at the hands of the body, apparently the office on the second floor has taken occasion to get hold of councilors individually, but as a body we have been ignored. Committees have been appointed on various matters, specially appointed, and some of the men serving on those committees, I believe, live outside the City of Boston. The policy of this administration is being conducted by men who are not elective officers. The Council has not at any time been taken into the confidence of the Mayor of this city. Not even one loan order originated in this Council has his Honor the Mayor seen fit to approve. We are not informed five minutes in advance of any loan order coming into the Council, and I think it is time that the Council members, a sufficient number of them, blocked the progress of the present Mayor until such time as we may have a definite understanding at least of a one-year program in this city. I, for one, am willing to vote against any future loan order advocated by the Mayor until the Mayor takes us into his confidence and tells us what his policy is to be for the year, so that we, attempting to represent our districts here, may have some idea of what we are going to get for the districts. I think this matter should be laid on the table for one week, if the Mayor has not the time to come here today, so that he may have an opportunity to appear at the next meeting.

President KEENE—The Chair would suggest that we hear the written answer from his Honor the Mayor before we criticize further.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I move that we adjourn.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I second the motion.

President KEENE—Those in favor of adjournment will say aye [responses], those opposed no [responses], and the ayes appear to have it. The Chair would remind the members of the Council that there are some jurors to be drawn, that should be drawn at this session of the Council.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President—

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I believe the Council stands adjourned at the present time.

Coun. PARKMAN doubted the vote on adjournment, and the motion to adjourn was declared lost.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I doubt the vote. Well, I withdraw my vote.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I move that we now proceed to the drawing of jurors.

The motion was declared carried.

President KEENE—The Council is in receipt of a venire for jurors, and the City Messenger will so advise his Honor the Mayor.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, to save time I will say that I have just been informed by the Mayor's secretary that the Mayor has gone up to the Ancient and Honorable exercises and has not come back to the hall.

President KEENE—In the absence of the Mayor, the Chair will appoint Coun. McMahon and Freely to draw jurors.

JURORS DRAWN.

Jurors were drawn under the law as follows:

Forty-four traverse jurors, Superior Civil Court, Sixth Session, July Sitting, to appear July 6, 1926.

Charles H. Deane, Ward 1; Michael T. Gibbons, Ward 1; Maxwell Brenner, Ward 2; John F. Monahan, Ward 2; Thomas W. Cleary, Ward 2; John M. Griffin, Ward 3; Alonzo A. Pulverman, Ward 3; Willie Sheff, Ward 3; Robert M. Calder, Ward 4; James W. Ferguson, Ward 4; Leo P. Bamberger, Ward 5; Harry E. Hutchinson, Ward 5; Charles H. Sherburne, Ward 5; Patrick M. Costello, Ward 6; Jeremiah F. Mahoney, Ward 6; Patrick J. Mchiggin, Ward 6; John C. H. Murray, Ward 6; Thomas J. Powers, Ward 6; Timothy F. Ring, Ward 6; John J. Ryan, Ward 6; John J. Walsh, Ward 6; Gerald J. Farrell, Ward 7; Frank E. Grant, Ward 7; Edward M. Kelley, Ward 7; Simon J. Forde, Ward 9; William Hanrahan, Ward 10; George H. Wellington, jr., Ward 10; Walter Calhoun, Ward 11; Frank A. Hartstone, Ward 14; Harold L. Ritchie, Ward 15; John H. Porthouse, Ward 16; Charles J. Adams, Ward 18; Frederic Arnold, Ward 18; William M. Cronin, Ward 18; Dennis A. Demers, Ward 18; John E. Callahan, Ward 19; Jacob Helt, Ward 19; James P. Kelly, Ward 19; James C. Parker, Ward 19; Joseph F. Mann, Ward 20; John W. Dineen, Ward 21; Edward J. Newell, Ward 21; Andrew P. Callahan, Ward 22; James P. Lennon, Ward 11.

POSTPONEMENT OF MAYOR'S MESSAGES.

President KEENE—The Council will come to order.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I move that the Budget Commissioner be instructed to carry a communication back to his Honor the Mayor that the Council refuses to accept the Budget Commissioner's report.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I second that motion.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I don't believe that is within the jurisdiction of the Council. The Council has asked the Mayor of the city to give answers to certain questions that it has propounded, and it seems to me the answers are here in good faith, even if his Honor the Mayor is not. I feel somewhat affronted by the conduct of the Mayor, perhaps the same as other members of the Council feel, but I am not willing to lend myself to an act belittling or ridiculing the Mayor, whoever he may be. I disagree with the Mayor at times, and I agree with him on a number of occasions. I think it would be an affront to the Mayor to take the action proposed by this motion, and I hope the motion will not prevail.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I move you, sir, that we proceed now to the regular order of business, and I think that motion will exclude Commissioner Fox from the chamber.

President KEENE—The Chair will advise Coun. Dowd that the communications from his Honor the Mayor, submitted through Commissioner Fox, come under Item 1 of Rule 25, dealing with the order of business of the Council, No. 1 being as follows: "Communications from his Honor the Mayor."

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, if that is so, I believe we should proceed with the regular business of the Council, which means that any communication will be read by the City Clerk and not by any representative of his Honor the Mayor. To my mind, Commissioner Fox during the regular order of business has no right in this Council Chamber unless requested to be here by the members of the Council.

President KEENE—The Chair will, for the information of the Council, read the last part of section 7 of the amended charter, which reads as follows:

"The Mayor at any time may attend and address the City Council in person or through the head of a department, or a member of a board, upon such subject as he may desire."

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I wish to know if my motion is out of order?

President KEENE—The Chair thinks that Coun. Dowling's point of order is well taken. The Chair would suggest that the communications from his Honor the Mayor may go over until the last of our regular order of business, if some member will make that motion.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I move that we proceed with the regular order of business.

The motion was declared carried.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, as a point of information, does the communication of the Mayor come under No. 1 in the order of business?

President KEENE—Under the regular order of business communications from his Honor the Mayor are No. 1, and the Chair would rule that that comes under that.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I move you, sir, that it be placed at the end of the calendar.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. That has already been decided. We voted on that and decided to go on with the regular order of business, and I understand that under No. 1 would come communications from the Mayor, in the regular order of business.

President KEENE—The Chair will rule that Coun. Heffernan's motion is out of order, unless it includes a suspension of the rule.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I move a suspension of the rule, so that communications from his Honor shall be placed at the end of the calendar.

Coun. Heffernan's motion, that the rule be suspended, and that communications from his Honor the Mayor be placed at the end of the calendar was (the Chair being in doubt on the viva voce vote) declared carried by a rising vote, 11 to 4.

OBJECTION TO LOAN FOR SNOW EQUIPMENT.

The following was received:

Finance Commission,
Boston, June 7, 1926.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—On May 24, 1926, the Mayor sent a communication to Your Honorable Body, in which he recommended the passage of a loan order of $400,000 to purchase equipment for snow removal, and requested authority to transfer an additional sum of $32,000 from the Reserve Fund for this purpose. The Mayor admitted that in recommending the loan he was departing from an established policy, but he sought to justify this change on the ground that the need for the equipment, according to the report of the Board of Municipal Emergency, was urgent and that this was proved by the experience of the past winter.

Two questions are involved: (1) whether the city should borrow money for the purchase of such equipment, and (2) whether such an extensive purchase of equipment at present is justified.

Borrowing for Equipment.

The Finance Commission believes that, if any snow removal equipment is to be purchased, it should be paid for entirely with money raised by taxation. To borrow money to purchase property which will soon wear out would break down a principle which, with minor deviations, has been adhered to since the charter amendments were adopted. An attempt has been made to justify the proposed loan on the ground that under the Municipal Finance Act (chapter 44 of the General Laws and chapter 338 of 1923) authority is given to other cities and towns to borrow for this purpose. This act does provide that additional equipment may be purchased with money derived from loan, but it requires that for this purpose "only such sum may in any year be authorized to be borrowed as exceeds twenty-five cents per one thousand dollars of the valuation of the city for the preceding year." In Boston twenty-five cents per one thousand of valuation would amount to approximately $465,000. The act does not apply to Boston, but if the city were to adhere to the principles of the act there would be no suggestion of borrowing for this purpose until the city had provided approximately $465,000 from taxation for the purchase of equipment, not such as is required to replace worn-out property, but equipment which, as described in the act, is additional to that already in use in the department.

Snow Removal Last Winter.

The Mayor's reference to the storms of last winter raises the whole question whether that experience proves that the purchase of this expensive equipment is required.

One difficulty last winter was the inadequate provision which the Public Works Department had made for snow removal. In the districts north of Massachusetts avenue and the Back Bay Fens contracts for snow removal had been let by the previous administration. The department cannot plead that no choice was exercised in the selection of the contractors, for in several instances the lowest bidder was not accepted. Yet it appears that several of the contractors were not adequately provided with trucks for snow removal. Apparently no guaranty or even evidence was secured at the time of letting as to whether or not these contractors could obtain equipment in case of emergency. As soon as the emergency arose the system broke down. As the contractors without equipment could not perform their duties, it became necessary to waste time and money in employing contractors who had trucks and equipment, and to hire them practically on their own terms.

The delay in beginning the work of snow removal was altogether without justification. The Weather Bureau supplied advance information of the approach of both of the heavy storms of the winter. Though the first and heaviest of the two storms began about midnight on February 3 and lasted through the 4th, only one contractor was set to work before the 5th, and this one did not begin to work until half-past two in the afternoon of the 4th. Of course the contractors who were engaged after the emergency arose did not get to work until even later. Their time for beginning work ranged from the 5th to the 18th. The following table shows the time when the contractors began to remove snow:

DISTRICT CONTRACTOR.	Began Work.
J. C. Coleman & Sons Company.	Feb. 4, 2.30 p. m.
Standard Construction Company.	Feb. 5, 7.45 a. m.

The approximate cost of removing the snow of the February storms was as follows:

On account of contracts for snow removal.	$207,582 92
Hired teams (emergency).	49,215 36
Hired teams (regular district contractors).	18,672 00
Temporary men on city pay roll.	97,081 61
Overtime by city employees.	85,652 55
Total.	$458,104 44

This is equivalent to $19,921.92 per inch of snow removed from the contract districts, a great increase in cost over any previous record known to the engineer of the Finance Commission. The expense was greatly added to by the inefficiency and dishonesty of the inspection force. By some inspectors' reports contractors without adequate equipment and of known inefficiency appear to have been two or three times as efficient as contractors of known efficiency and adequate equipment. In some cases the average cubic yards of snow shown to have been removed per man was far beyond the limits of human possibility. In many cases the records of the loading inspector and the dumping inspector do not agree. In one case the loading inspector's records show 1,506 cubic yards, while the dumping records show only 676 cubic yards. The engineer figured the day's work at 1,420 yards. According to the records the contractor was paid for 1,590 yards. The following discrepancies in the records were noticed. Two trucks are each credited with three loads delivered at the same minute. Trucks with different destinations are credited with loading and dumping in the same intervals of time. In some instances the records of the loading inspector and the dumping inspector are exact copies without any allowance for the time consumed in going to the dump, and one or both of the records appear too clean to have been made on the job while snow was falling. The records of one inspector showed such uniformity in the time between loading and dumping as to be suspicious, and his records were too clean to have been made on the street. On being questioned this inspector stated that he actually made the records at the time the loads were being dumped. When it was pointed out to him that an investigator of the Finance Commission stood beside him for an hour or more at one period and talked with him while snow was being dumped, and that during that period he made no records, he first stated that it was only during that interval that he failed to make entries, but finally admitted that his report was a copy of the driver's slip which the loading inspector had punched, with an allowance of five minutes for driving to the dump.

The table annexed to this report shows that the work of snow removal was profitable for both honest and dishonest contractors. The conclusion which the Finance Commission draws is not that the city should make expensive purchases of trucks and snow-handling machinery, but that the whole system of letting the work should be radically improved. It believes that the inducement is sufficient to lead well equipped concerns to enter into proper contracts with the city, which could be made advantageous to both parties. Even when efficiently and honestly conducted, there should be sufficient profit to contractors to make them available for the work.

Future Snow Removal Contracts.

In advertising for bids, contractors should be notified that they will be required to satisfy the department, either that they have the necessary trucks and equipment for snow removal, or that they have satisfactory agreements with subcontractors to supply trucks and equipment when required. Furthermore, a suitable penalty for failure to render the required service should be inserted in the contract and an adequate bond should be taken for faithful performance, instead of the nominal $1,000 bond now called for. The expense of last winter can be cut down by letting such contracts to the lowest responsible bidders who meet the stipulated requirements, and by reorganizing the inspection force.

The Public Works Department has found no difficulty in exacting similar conditions when it desired. In the case of the contract for patching bituminous pavements which it wished to award to the Central Construction Company, a concern in which an employee of the city is interested, it made such requirements of bidders and rejected the offer of the lowest bidder on the ostensible ground that it did not have the desired equipment. If a contract with the proper requirements were advertised, two purposes would be accomplished, that of getting well-equipped contractors and that of being able to let to the lowest responsible bidder. It should not be forgotten that there are contractors in the city with plenty of trucks and equipment properly to handle snow removal. They are also able to obtain all the necessary laborers. At that time of the year work is slack and the contractors can easily gather an efficient working force.

The Purchase of New Equipment.

The report of the Mayor's Board of Municipal Emergency recommends the expenditure of $546,000 for the following described snow removal equipment.*

Public Works Department.

4 snow loaders.....	$24,000
60 dump body trucks.....	380,000
15 tractors and plows.....	90,000
50 blade plows.....	15,000
2 V-shaped plows.....	2,500
2 snow removers and ice scarifiers.....	7,000
	$498,500

Park Department.

2 five-ton tractors with new plows.....	$10,800
1 snowplow with loader attachment and trailer.....	8,500
4 two-ton trucks with V-plow attachment.....	11,200
1 tractor and plow attachment.....	2,000
3 five-ton trucks.....	15,000
	47,500
	$546,000

* This program has now been substantially changed.

Even if it were proposed to buy all the apparatus for snow removal from funds raised by taxes, and even if a large part of the apparatus, consisting mostly of trucks, could be used all the year, it is doubtful if more than a small part of that recommended should be bought. The departments in their annual budgets have not called for such a substantial addition to their equipment for regular use, and it is a question whether throughout the year the excess of trucks could be used with as much economy as the present horse-drawn vehicles. In the narrow alleys and streets of parts of the city they cannot take the place of teams. It has been suggested that the new trucks would do away with contracts now let for supplying additional trucks as needed in various districts of the city. A study of the amounts paid to contractors for supplementary trucks shows that the number used varies greatly at different times in the year. In midsummer it falls to a minimum. Either the department should be equipped to take care of the normal needs of the service and additional demands provided for by contract, as is now in theory the practice, or the city must be fully equipped for practically all periods, in which case there will be times when its trucks will be idle. The present system of providing for normal times and supply elasticity by contract, if properly carried out, is best adapted to the city's needs.

Of the total amount of expenditure which the Municipal Emergency Board recommended, $138,500 is for apparatus primarily adapted only for snow removal. This property must be housed, repaired and kept ready for occasional severe storms, which may not come every year. The proposed snow loaders will not cover a large area of the city and reliance must in any event be mainly on hand labor. Certain implements, such as those described as snow removers and ice scarifiers, are still in an experimental state.

For use in the Park Department the Board recommended the expenditure of $47,500 for tractors, trucks and other equipment. The work of this department is entirely different from that of the Public Works Department. To a great extent snow in parkways can be disposed of by ploughing alone and need not be removed. The department was reasonably successful in handling snow during the past winter. No representative of the Park Commission appears to have been connected with the Emergency Board and, so far as the Finance Commission has been informed, the Park officials are satisfied with the present method of handling snow by hired trucks and teams.

Additional Expense.

The primary cost of all the proposed equipment is but a part of the expense the city must bear. It is not to be expected that the drivers of horse-drawn vehicles would be used as chauffeurs for the new trucks. These drivers would either be thrown out of work or given jobs of doubtful value to the city. If the full equipment recommended were purchased, at least sixty regular chauffeurs, with additional chauffeurs to substitute in case of sickness or absence—perhaps seventy-five in all—would have to be added to the pay roll. Additional housing facilities would have to be provided. The new garage at the South End will be substantially filled without the new equipment, and the Hancock street garage is not centrally located. The suggestion of storing some of the new trucks in fire houses is impracticable. The trucks which, when not employed in the removal of snow, may be used for the collection of ashes or garbage, would not be welcomed in fire houses where the men sleep. If additional buildings for housing and repairing the trucks were required, the expense might run to several hundred thousand dollars. Furthermore, this new equipment must be kept in repair and its depreciation assumed by the city.

The limited amount of snow removal equipment which the city at this time is justified in purchasing should easily be provided out of the tax levy from the Reserve Fund and the departmental appropriations.

The Finance Commission recommends that the loan order for $400,000 be rejected.

Respectfully submitted,

by CHARLES L. CARR,
Chairman.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

President KEENE, under unfinished business, called up the following:

Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 24, 1926, viz.:

1. John O'Neil, B. F. C. Whitehouse, E. T. Deady and Parker F. Pond, to be Weighers of Coal and Measurers of Wood and Bark.

2. Herbert W. Pike, to be a Weigher of Coal.

3. Lawrence E. Court, to be a Weigher of Beef.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Fitzgerald and Arnold. Whole number of ballots 19; yeas 16, nays 3, and the appointments were confirmed.

NEW FIRE STATION, DORCHESTER.

President KEENE, under unfinished business, called up No. 4, viz.:

4. Ordered, That the sum of one hundred thousand dollars be and hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commissioner, for New Fire Station, Engine 17 and Ladder 7, Dorchester, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On May 24, 1926, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 18, nays 0.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

LEASE OF QUARTERS TO POST 154, AMERICAN LEGION.

President KEENE, under unfinished business, called up No. 5 on the calendar:

5. Ordered, that his Honor the Mayor be and hereby is authorized in the name and behalf of the City of Boston and in a form satisfactory to the Law Department, to execute a lease to Old Dorchester Post 154, American Legion, Department of Massachusetts, of one room in Municipal Building, 500 Columbia road, in that part of Boston formerly called Dorchester, for a term not exceeding five years, beginning with the passage of this order, at a rental of not more than one dollar per annum.

The order was given its second and final reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. GILBODY, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of June, 1926.

Approved and ordered paid.

PRINTING OF PROBATE RECORDS.

Coun. FITZGERALD, for the Committee on County Accounts, submitted a report on communication from Register of Probate in re authority to print indexes to records of Probate Court, recommending passage of following order:

Ordered, that the Register of Probate for the County of Suffolk be authorized to prepare and have printed, and sell, in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of chapter 217 of the General Laws, copies of the indexes of the records and papers in his custody, and to expend for that purpose, for overtime work not exceeding twenty-five hundred dollars, and for the printing of said indexes not exceeding eleven thousand five hundred dollars.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, in connection with that order I want to say this. This matter has been pending in the Council for the past five months, and the Register has been doing everything he possibly can to have it acted upon. All kinds of influence have been brought to bear to bring the matter to a head. I want the Council to know what they are voting upon. As I understand it, it is proposed to take this work away from the city printing plant. I simply want to have the Council understand the situation, and then whatever their action may be is up to them. The city printing plant has always done this work and many of us feel that we should continue to do so. If the order should be passed and reaches the Mayor, probably he will veto it if passed in this form. This request is made without consulting the city printing plant. We have a city printing plant with men and women on the pay roll of the City of Boston, a plant which is intended to do just this sort of thing. I have simply reported the order here in order to satisfy some of the members of the committee. One member of the committee, a member of the bar, is very anxious that it should pass. Another member comes from the section that the Register comes from, and is very anxious that it should pass. I don't want to accept the responsibility should this be vetoed, or should this work be given to a plant outside the city printing plant. I simply want the members of the Council to know what they are voting upon.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, can the previous speaker give me any information as to what the effect will be in dollars and cents on the taxpayers of the City of Boston?

President KEENE—Will Coun. Fitzgerald answer Coun. Guild's question?

Coun. FITZGERALD—I can't say how much it will be, but the total amount here is $11,500. It simply means that that money goes into the city treasury. We understand that the city printing plant is now a self-supporting institution and that the city is making money on it. That money can be used for other purposes. If you are going to give it to an outside concern, you are simply going to open the doors to other departments to do the same thing. I simply wish the members to know what they are voting upon, here. If we vote this down he has simply got to give it to the city printing plant.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I move that we lay the matter on the table.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I don't know anything about this matter—

President KEENE—The Chair must rule debate on the motion to lay on the table out of order.

The Council voted to lay the order on the table. Coun. WILSON doubted the vote and asked for a rising vote. The Council stood divided and the Council voted to lay the order on the table, 11 to 4.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I would like a roll call.

President KEENE—The Clerk will call the roll. The Council voted to lay the order on the table, yeas 12, nays 6.

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Englert, Fitzgerald, Gilbody, Guild, Heffernan, Keene, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, Parkman, Ward—12.

Nays—Coun. Bush, Dowd, Dowling, Freeley, Wilson, Wragg—6.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I now make a motion to reconsider, owing to the fact that I believe Coun. Wilson is entitled to have his say-so on this matter. Therefore, I move reconsideration.

President KEENE—The Chair will state that that motion is out of order. The order is laid on the table, and the only motion in order is to take it from the table. That motion is not debatable.

Coun. FITZGERALD—As I have stated, Mr. President, my intention was simply to give the members an opportunity to understand the situation before the Council. If the Council, knowing what the situation is, persists in giving the work outside well and good. If it is the desire of the members that the work shall be done by the state printing plant, in preference to the city printing plant, very well.

LEASE OF LAND, SPRING STREET.

Coun. McGRATH, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted a report on the message of the Mayor and order (referred May 10, 1926) authorizing a lease to the United States of land and buildings on Spring street—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted, order given its first reading and passage, yeas 19, nays 0.

ADDITIONAL JURORS DRAWN.

President KEENE—The Chair is in receipt of venires for twenty-two grand jurors and forty traverse jurors, and the City Messenger will advise the Mayor.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I move a suspension of notice to the Mayor, and that the Council proceed on its own motion to draw the jurors.

President KEENE—That is out of order. (The City Messenger presently reported that the Mayor was not in his office.)

President KEENE—In the absence of the Mayor, the Chair will appoint Coun. Wragg to draw jurors.

Additional jurors were drawn as follows:

Twenty-two grand jurors, Superior Criminal Court, to appear July 6, 1926:

William B. Stevenson, Ward 5; James A. Mullin, Ward 6; Francis E. Campbell, Ward 7; Michael F. Condon, Ward 7; Max H. Hartel, Ward 7; Martin A. Craffey, Ward 8; Walter T. Boltz, Ward 9; Thomas M. Noel, Ward 9; Freeman O. McInnes, Ward 12; Albert B. Miller, Ward 12; Andrew W. Tate, Ward 12; James M. Carroll, Ward 13; Meyer Papp, Ward 14; Henry Widrich, Ward 14; Francis S. Devlin, Ward 15; John E. Driscoll, Ward 16; Thomas Cauley, Ward 17; Franklin L. C. Billings, Ward 18; G. Leonard Steinbrenner, Ward 18; William J. Whalen, Ward 18; Thomas A. Delaney, Ward 19; Patrick J. Gibbons, Ward 19; Stewart A. Colpitts, Ward 21; Joseph S. Nuss, Ward 21; John H. Booth, Ward 22; George J. Kenely, Ward 22; Axel R. Olson, Ward 22; John A. Spencer, Ward 22.

President KEENE—The Council will come to order. Motions, orders and resolutions.

REINSTATEMENT OF FORMER POLICEMEN.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Resolved, That the Police Commissioner be requested to take such action as may be necessary to assist in the reinstatement in the Police Department of such of the former policemen, who left their employment in the so-called police strike of 1919, who are willing to go back to the department.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

INCREASED COMPENSATION FOR WOMEN.

Coun. DOWD offered an order—That the Mayor of Boston be requested to transfer a sum of money from the Reserve Fund sufficient to grant an additional increase of two dollars a week in the salaries of all women employed by the City of Boston in the bath houses, convenience stations, playgrounds, laundries, and municipal buildings.

President KEENE—The order will be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, before that matter is referred to the Executive Committee, let me say that I am of the opinion that we were given to understand during the course of discussion on the make-up of the budget, that this matter was to be taken care of. I was one of the seven members of the Council who objected to the passage of the budget, due to the fact that the Mayor of Boston for the first time saw fit to exclude from increases in salaries those women employed in bath houses, convenience stations, playgrounds, laundries and municipal buildings of the City of Boston. This would require only the small amount of $50,000 or $60,000 a year, and while I realize that this resolution upon going to the Mayor of Boston will probably be discarded and thrown into the waste basket, at the same time I feel that it is something which affects every councilor in the City of Boston. I know that they all desire to see the working women in their districts get a proper increase in salary. It is up to us to try to have the Mayor carry out the intent of the resolution, and I, for one, intend to vote against every loan order the Mayor sends to the Council until he sees fit to grant an increase to these poor women who toil eight hours a day for a living.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

CONDITIONS OF LAUNDRY WOMEN, PARK DEPARTMENT.

Coun. DOWD offered an order—That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to investigate the conditions under which women employed in the laundry of the Park Department are compelled to work, and to report thereon to the City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BOULEVARD STOP SYSTEM, SHAWMUT AVENUE.

Coun. WARD offered an order—That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to put into effect immediately the "boulevard stop" system on all intersecting streets leading into Shawmut avenue, from Roxbury street to Pleasant street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SHAWMUT AVENUE CLEAN-UP.

Coun. WARD offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately clean off refuse and debris, Shawmut avenue, and the streets leading therefrom.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAIRS, MISSION HILL LOCKER BUILDING.

Coun. FREELEY offered an order—That the Board of Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repair the shower baths, the fence on the ball field, the locks in the lockers and the gutter pipes on the locker building, at the Mission Hill Playground.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SMOOTH PAVING ST. ALPHONSUS STREET.

Coun. FREELEY offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving St. Alphonsus street, from Ward street to Smith street, Ward 10.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PUBLICATION OF LIST OF STREETS.

Coun. FREELEY offered an order—That the Board of Street Commissioners be authorized to prepare and have printed 2,500 copies of a list of streets, according to the new wards and precincts, substantially in the same form as the list printed in 1925; the expense of preparation and printing to be charged to the Reserve Fund.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ACCEPTANCE OF STOCKWELL STREET.

Coun. FREELEY offered an order—That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through His Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Stockwell street, between Wait street and Frawley street, Ward 10, as a public highway.

Coun. FREELEY asked for a suspension of the rule that the order might be put upon its passage. Suspension was declared refused.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I would like to explain my vote. I think it is silly to send such orders to the Mayor, when he takes absolutely no action upon them, when they are sent to him by the Council.

Coun. FREELEY doubted the vote, and the Council voted to suspend the rule, and passed the order.

SIDEWALK ON SUNSET STREET, WARD 10.

Coun. FREELEY offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Sunset street, Hillside street to Parker Hill avenue, Ward 10, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SMOOTH PAVING FOR EATON STREET.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Eaton street, from Chambers street to North Russell street, Ward 3.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SMOOTH PAVING FOR MYRTLE STREET.

Coun. FITZGERALD offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth paving Myrtle street, between Joy street and Irving street, Ward 3.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PLAYGROUND SITE, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. FITZGERALD, for Coun. Donovan, offered an order—That the Board of Park Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to submit an estimate as to the cost of a site for playground purposes in the vicinity of Wordsworth and West streets, East Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ANNUITY TO MRS. PENNEY.

Coun. LYNCH offered an order—That an annuity of $600 be allowed and paid to the widow of Albert S. Penney, late member of the Fire Department, who died from injuries received in the performance of his duty, said annuity to continue so long as said widow remains unmarried and to be charged to the appropriation for Fire Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SUMMER CLOSING HOURS OF REGISTRY.

Coun. HEFFERNAN offered an order—That the office of the Registry of Deeds be closed on week days, except Saturdays, at four o'clock p. m., from July 1 to September 4, 1926, inclusive.

Passed, under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON FOSTER STREET.

Coun. HEFFERNAN offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Foster street at No. 137, Ward 22, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON LOCHSTEAD AVENUE.

Coun. GUILD offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Lochstead avenue at No. 35, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF SIDEWALK ON DANE STREET.

Coun. GUILD offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Dane street, north side, from Eliot street about 75 feet westerly, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF SIDEWALK ON SEDGWICK STREET.

Coun. GUILD offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Sedgwick street, Jamaica Plain, both sides, from South street to John A. Andrew street, Ward 19, in front of the estates bordering thereon, said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

COUNCILORS' RIGHTS UNDER CITY CHARTER.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, in 1910 there was spread upon the records of the City Council an opinion of Thomas M. Babson, at that time Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston, giving his interpretation of section 8 of the Boston city charter. I have under date of May 29, 1926, an opinion of Frank S. Deland, the present Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston giving his interpretation of the same section of the charter, an interpretation which is substantially opposed to that of Corporation Counsel Babson. The opinion is contained in nine typewritten pages, which I shall not at this time read to the Council, but I will move you, sir, that the entire opinion of Frank S. Deland, Corporation Counsel, under date of May 29, be spread upon the records of the Boston City Council and also be printed as a public document.

The opinion referred to is as follows:

City of Boston,
Law Department, May 29, 1926.
Hon. Horace Guild, City Council, City Hall, Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your letter of April 28, 1926, in which you, as chairman of a subcommittee of the Executive Committee of the City Council under instructions to obtain my opinion on certain matters arising under chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, ask the following questions:

(1) If a member of the City Council requests a head of a department to reinstate an employee of that department who has been suspended, is such conduct in your opinion (a) directly or indirectly, on behalf of the city taking part in the employment of labor, (b) directly or indirectly on behalf of the city taking part in the appointment or removal of any municipal employee or (c) in any manner violating the prohibitions of section 8?

(2) If a member of the City Council asks the heads of two departments to consent to the transfer of an employee in one department to the other department does that in your opinion constitute (a) directly or indirectly on behalf of the city taking part in the employment of labor (b) directly or indirectly on behalf of the city taking part in the appointment or removal of a municipal employee or (c) violating any of the prohibitions of section 8?

(3) If a member of the City Council writes a recommendation addressed "To whom it may concern" and gives this recommendation to an applicant for employment in a city department who is on the civil service list does this in your opinion constitute (a) directly or indirectly on behalf of the city taking part in the employment of labor (b) directly or indirectly on behalf of the city taking part in the appointment or removal of a municipal employee or (c) any violation of the prohibitions of section 8?

(4) If a member of the City Council requests the Head of a Department to transfer an employee from one division to another division of the same department does this in your opinion constitute (a) directly or indirectly on behalf of the city taking part in the appointment or removal of a municipal employee or (c) any violation of the prohibition of section 8?

(5) If a member of the City Council asks the Head of a Department to give employees of that department a half holiday on Saturday does that in your opinion constitute (a) directly or indirectly on behalf of the city taking part in the conduct of the Executive or Administrative business of the city or (b) any violation of the prohibitions of section 8?

(6) If the City Council passes an order requesting the Head of a Department to put all its employees on full time does that in your opinion constitute (a) directly or indirectly on behalf of the city taking part in the conduct of the Executive or Administrative business of the city or (b) a violation of any of the prohibitions of section 8?

(7) If in each of the above cases the request is made of the Mayor instead of the Head or Heads of the Departments does that in your opinion alter the situation?

These questions deal mainly with the construction to be given section 8 of said chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 (Amended City Charter), which section is as follows:

"Neither the city council, nor any member or committee, officer, or employee thereof shall, except as otherwise provided in this act, directly or indirectly on behalf of the city or of the county of Suffolk take part in the employment of labor, the making of contracts, the purchase of materials, supplies or real estate; nor in the construction, alteration, or repair of any public works, buildings, or other property; nor in the care, custody, and management of the same; nor in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city or county; nor in the appointment or removal of any municipal or county employee; nor in the expenditure of public money except such as may be necessary for the contingent and incidental expenses of the city council. The provisions of this section shall not affect the powers or duties of the city council as the successor of the present board of aldermen relative to state or military aid and soldiers' relief.

It shall be unlawful for the mayor or for a member of the city council or for any officer or employee of the city or of the county of Suffolk or for a member of the finance commission directly or indirectly to make a contract with the city or with the county of Suffolk, or to receive any commission, discount, bonus, gift, contribution or reward from or any share in the profits of any person or corporation making or performing such contract, unless such mayor, member of the city council, officer or employee or member of the finance commission immediately upon learning of the existence of such contract or that such contract is proposed, shall notify in writing the mayor, city council, and finance commission of such contract and of the nature of his interest in such contract and shall abstain from doing any official act on behalf of the city in reference thereto. In case of such interest on the part of an officer whose duty it is to make such contract on behalf of the city, the contract may be made by any other officer of the city duly authorized thereto by the mayor, or if the mayor has such interest by the city clerk; provided, however, that when a contractor with the city or county is a corporation or voluntary association, the ownership of less than five per cent of the stock or shares actually issued shall not be considered as being an interest in the contract within the meaning of this act, and such ownership shall not affect the validity of the contract, unless the owner of such stock or shares is also an officer or agent of the corporation or association, or solicits or takes part in the making of the contract.

A violation of any provision of this section shall render the contract in respect to which such violation occurs voidable at the option of the city or county. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Chapter five hundred and twenty-two of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and eight is hereby repealed.

On April 30, 1910, the late Thomas M. Babson, Corporation Counsel for the City of Boston, rendered an opinion to the City Council in which the identical questions were answered by him. This opinion appears in the records of the City Council under date of May 2, 1910, at pages 126 and 127. You will note from this opinion that Mr. Babson held that if a member of the City Council or the City Council itself did the things contained in the questions submitted that they would be in violation of section 8. I must advise you, with due deference to the judgment and wisdom of the former Corporation Counsel, that I do not agree with him.

Prior to the enactment of section 8 of the Amended Charter of 1909 the provisions of law contained in section 12 of chapter 266 of the acts of 1885 applied to the questions you have submitted to me for my judgment. This section is as follows:

Neither the city council nor either branch thereof, nor any member or committee thereof or of either branch thereof, nor the board of aldermen acting in any capacity in which said board may act separately under special powers conferred upon it, nor any member or committee of said board acting in any such capacity, shall directly or indirectly take part in the employment of labor, the making of contracts, the purchase of materials or supplies, the construction, alteration or repair of any public works, buildings or other property, or the care, custody and management of the same, or in the conduct of any of the executive or administrative business of the city, or in the expenditure of public money, except such as may be necessary for the contingent and incidental expenses of the city council or of either branch thereof, nor, except as is otherwise provided in sections one and two, in the appointment or removal of any officers or subordinates for whose appointment and removal provision is hereinbefore made; but nothing in this section contained shall affect the powers or duties of the board of aldermen in relation to state aid to disabled soldiers and sailors, and to the families of those killed in the civil war.

An examination and comparison of section 12 in the 1885 Act and that portion of section 8 in the 1909 Act applicable to the questions in controversy discloses that in substance they are the same, except that the words "on behalf of the city or of the county of Suffolk" are found for the first time in section 8 and were not contained in the 1885 Act. Mr. Babson in his opinion and in quoting this section disregarded the fact that the words "in behalf of the city or of the county of Suffolk" were inserted in the 1909 Act, and in my opinion these words are essential in arriving at the proper interpretation to be given section 8. If these words, "on behalf of the city, etc.," were not contained in section 8 of the 1909 Act, I would have no hesitation in arriving at the same conclusion as did Mr. Babson.

It has been held repeatedly that the words "on behalf of" when contained in a statute must be construed as meaning "in the name of" or "on account of" or for the benefit, advantage, interest and profit of the city.

See Georgia v. Brailsford, 2 Dall. (U. S.) 402;

Hill Co. v. Atchison, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 664.

In my opinion section 8, with the words "on behalf of, etc.," contained therein, must be construed as meaning that neither the City Council nor any member, committee, officer or employee thereof shall take part in, nor interest himself or themselves in any of the many things contained in said section 8 in the name of the city or county, on account of the city or county, or in any way as representative of the city or county. In other words, this section must be construed as prohibiting the City Council as a body or any member, officer or employee thereof, acting on behalf of the City Council, or delegated by it to represent it officially, from taking part in the employment of labor, the making of contracts and in the various other matters and things contained in said section 8. If any other construction is given section 8 than this, then it follows that the words "on behalf of the city, etc.," as contained in the section, have no force or effect.

I am further of the opinion that my construction of section 8 is sustained by the following sentence contained in said section 8, "The provisions of this section shall not affect the powers or duties of the city council, as the successor of the present board of aldermen, relative to state or military aid and soldiers' relief." This clearly indicates that the Legislature had reference to the City Council or its members, employees and officers when acting officially, and not in a private capacity.

It is interesting to observe that the words "on behalf of the city" as contained in the second paragraph of section 8, in connection with the interest of members of the City Council in city contracts, clearly has reference to the official acts of the members of the City Council and requires that they "abstain from doing any official act in behalf of the city in reference thereto," and further in said section states "in case of such interest on the part of an officer whose duty it is to make such contract on behalf of the city, the contract may be made by any other officer of the city duly authorized thereto by the mayor."

Section 12 of the 1885 Act has been construed by our Supreme Court in the cases of Boston v. Doyle, 184 Mass. 373, Hibbard v. County of Suffolk, 163 Mass. 34, Brackett v. Boston, 157 Mass. 77, but in these cases the action of the City Council as a body acting officially on behalf of the city was in question and not the actions of an officer, member or employee thereof acting in his private capacity.

Whatever may have been the legislative intent when section 8 of the 1909 statute was enacted, the language of said section 8, with the words "on behalf of the city, etc.," contained therein, permit of no construction other than that the City Council, its members, officers and employees were to be restrained and prohibited when acting in behalf of the city in an official capacity from taking part in the employment of labor, the making of contracts, etc.

I, therefore, advise you that if a member of the City Council does the things contained in questions one to five, inclusive, that he does not violate section 8 of the 1909 Act, if these things are done in his private capacity, and not as an official representative of the City Council, with authority from the City Council to do the things contained in said questions.

In answer to question 6, in my opinion if the City Council should pass an order requesting the head of a department to put all its employees on full time, this action on the part of the Council would be a violation of section 8 and would clearly result in the Council taking part in "the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city," for the action of the City Council in this instance would be on behalf of the City and is prohibited by this section.

In answer to question 7, I advise you that if the requests as contained in questions one to five, inclusive, are made of the Mayor instead of the head of a department, it would not violate the provisions of section 8, as the act of the individual member of the Council would not be official or on behalf of the city.

If the request of the City Council, as contained in question six, was made to the Mayor instead of the head of a department, it would still be in violation of section 8 and would be a taking part in the "conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city or county" by the City Council.

Very truly yours,

FRANK S. DELAND,
Corporation Counsel.

Placed on file, and ordered printed as a city document.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.14 p. m., on motion of Coun. GILBODY, to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber at 4.21 p. m., and were called to order by Coun. DOWLING, in the absence of President Keene.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I move, sir, that we revert back to No. 5 in our procedure, under Rule 25, reports of committees.

The motion was carried.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Chairman DOWLING, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on the order (referred today) requesting the Mayor to transfer a sufficient sum from the Reserve Fund to grant an additional increase of $2 a week in the salaries of all women employed by the city in the bath houses, convenience stations, playgrounds, laundries and municipal buildings,—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed

2. Report on order (referred today) requesting the Police Commissioner to take such action as may be necessary to assist in the reinstatement in the Police Department of such of the former policemen who left their employment in the so-called police strike of 1919 as are willing to go back to the department,—that the same ought to pass.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I feel, as I am the author of this resolution, that I ought to say a word setting forth my reasons for introducing it. The Council in passing the budget had incorporated in it a provision for an increase of 300 police officers for the City of Boston. It may be ancient history for us to go back to September 9, 1919, when 1,117 men in our city walked out on a so-called police strike, but it does seem to me at this particular time, after seven years of the present Police Department, that what is most needed is a new element in the way of men who will strengthen the present police force. The thought is suggested, the thought will perhaps occur to many here, that when 1,117 men walk out and there are provisions for only 300 new ones, the requirement could never be met. But I submit this to you for your consideration. Since the time of that strike, seven years ago, 130 of those men have passed away—some, I am sorry to say, through the act of their own hand. But over ten per cent of them have passed on. Many of them who then left the department because of natural ability have made good on the outside to such an extent that they would not go back into the police. Many are in neighboring towns and cities in Massachusetts who recognized the ability of the Boston police officers who went out and have employed them. So 50 per cent of the men who have gone out are now in police business, many of them chiefs in the smaller towns in Massachusetts. I suggested in the Executive Committee meeting that we send for the Corporation Counsel to find out who could take the examination for the new places. I asked Mr. Lyons, who was sent here from the Corporation Counsel's office, if only Boston men, residents and taxpayers of Boston, could take the examination, and he said no, that any man from any part of Massachusetts who could pass the required standard could become a police officer in the City of Boston. I say this, sir, that men who come from small towns throughout our state may have every physical and mental qualification for the position, but if they have not lived in a city like Boston and are not familiar with the ways of people in our various sections, they are not as well qualified to serve as police officers in this city, being paid for that work by the City of Boston as those who have lived in our city. All police authorities say that it takes five years at least to become a good police officer. After a very thorough canvas by the Boston Social Club, the organization of ex-police officers, they find that there are only 242 men who would go back into the police business, and in most cases they are the older men, the men who were the substantial, experienced members of the old department. The only argument brought against them, or against many of them, is that they were in advanced years at the time when they walked out, and so would not be qualified to serve now, seven years later, but in the station houses, of which we have twenty or more in Boston, there are men required for the clerical work. Many of those men are invalids, but many of them are strong, young men, and so 120 of these older men could be placed in the clerical positions and allow the younger men to go out on the streets and do real police work,—and surely not more than half of these 240 who are willing to come back and assume the responsibility of these positions once more would be too old to serve on the street. I say this in all seriousness. If a man commits murder in the state of Massachusetts he is very often pardoned, but these men who made one mistake, after years of faithful service, can never be pardoned, and their children and their children's children bear the stigma of the one big blot in Boston's history, when men perhaps without sufficient thought walked out on that night of September, 1919. So I now submit to you whether it might not be a good thing to reinstate these men, after seeing the way in which the police business has been handled recently. It may not be the fault of any one individual, but I say that I feel that the introduction of these men at this time would mean the addition of a valuable element to the force. If this matter were placed to a referendum to the people of Boston, their vote to return these old men to the service of the city today would be overwhelming; and you realize, Mr. President, as well as anybody else, that these experienced men, qualified men, would lend that stability to the department that is so sorely lacking. I sincerely hope, sir, that this order will be passed and submitted to the Police Commissioner of Boston. For too long we have played politics on this matter, and now, when there is a hue and cry from the citizens who really pay the bills to be given the protection that they pay for, and when we have here in the confines of our city, without going throughout the state, 240 qualified men, who have been severely punished and who stand ready to come back and render to the citizens of Boston the service that we have paid for and have waited seven years to get, and have not got up to this day, I say that the action proposed in this order will furnish a solution of the problem.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I feel, as Coun. McGrath does on this question, that these old men should be given an opportunity to go back, but I don't believe this Council should go on record as criticizing the present police force of Boston. I feel personally that it is a good force, regardless of what any candidate seeking office and looking for the votes of former members of the Police Department may say. When he says that the department is in poor condition, I doubt it. We all know that there is a controversy going on between the Police Commissioner of the City of Boston and the District Attorney. I believe in reinstating these men, however, placing them back in their old jobs, because they deserve them. They made a mistake, erred, but I believe they seek their positions back with true contrition in their hearts. I do not believe, however, that we should go on record as condemning the present police force of Boston.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. I would like to know whether in Coun. McGrath's order he asked us to condemn the present Police Department? My interpretation of the order is that he merely requested reinstatement of some of the old men when the opportunity occurred.

Chairman DOWLING—The Chair does not understand that the order criticizes the present department.

Coun. GUILD—Mr. President, I am inclined to agree with one of the premises of Coun. McGrath in regard to the proper way of handling this situation. He stated at the outset of his remarks that the most important thing about the Boston police force is its morale. Those were not the words he used but that is the substance of what he said. With that premise I agree. But on that premise he based an argument that for the purpose of strengthening the morale of the Boston Police Department the men who were retired in September of 1919 should be reinstated. I do not recognize Coun. McGrath as an authority on police matters. I do recognize as an authority on police matters men like Commissioner Wilson and other heads of the Boston Police Department. Unless and until Commissioner Wilson or some other person who is a representative of the Boston Police Department is willing to state to me that in his opinion the morale of the Boston Police Department as it exists today, and which we have to rely on today for our protection will not be undermined by the reinstatement of these police officers, I am not willing to vote for the order that has been introduced today. I think it is exceedingly debatable whether it would strengthen the morale of the Police Department—whether it might not rather undermine the morale of the Police Department, to return these men to the service. I recognize the force of Coun. McGrath's argument in regard to the efficiency of the Police Department as it existed prior to September, 1919. I do not question that the police officers at that time were efficient. But at the time when they were retired from the service in 1919 it was under an express understanding in regard to what their situation then was, and if the people of Boston are to vote on that it seems to me it cannot fail to have a very serious effect on the morale of the men who now constitute the Boston Police Department. They will say in their minds subconsciously, perhaps, that people don't always mean what they say. It is like any other situation where punishment is involved. You cannot in all instances measure out punishment which shall be just to all parties. That is not a human attribute, and if the punishment which was measured out in the case of this police strike weighed heavier on some men than it did on others, it is because human beings were measuring out the punishment. I think until the recognized authorities on the police situation are willing to tell the people that in their opinion the morale of the Boston police force as it now exists will not be undermined by going back on what was the understanding in September, 1919, no such order as this ought to be passed by the City Council.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, in my opinion, neither lapse of time, residence in Boston nor any need for new policemen can in any way change the status of the policemen who went out in 1919, condone their offence against public safety or entitle them to reinstatement, and I hope the Council will reject the resolve.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, I would merely like to call the attention of the Council to the fact that if these men were so well qualified and so well versed in their duties as police officers they must have known what the result would be when they left their posts that night of September, 1919,—and I was not in Boston at that time; that they were in the same position as if the entire United States Army were to go on strike during a crisis when war was impending, leaving the entire country to the mercy of its enemies. The crooked element is at war with society continually, and, walking out at a time like that, they should have known what they were doing and what the results would be. I believe that no amount of penance could make up for that dereliction of duty, and that once a man has demonstrated his lack of loyalty to his duty, to his community or to his country, no amount of penance thereafter can serve to alleviate or blot out that disgrace. Whether the punishment is severe or not is not the question for this Council to decide. I don't think the Council should go on record in a matter of this kind favoring the reinstatement of men who have demonstrated their lack of loyalty to the community at a time of stress.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, in answer to some of the statements that have been made to refute my arguments, first let me say this to you. I have no quarrel with the heads of the Police Department. In fact, the Superintendent of Police is one of my dearest friends, and is as efficient a police superintendent as there is in the United States of America. My order is a mere, mild request. There is nothing in that order that should in any way make a member of this Council believe that I was involving myself in anything now going on. In answer to the statements of the gentleman on my left (Coun. Bush), let me say that perhaps every man in his lifetime may make a mistake. It is a question of how far we will go to penalize men. Surely after seven years, during which these men have gone into different occupations, many of them leaving the police business, or perhaps going into it in other cities or towns, and in many cases have become connected with big corporations of one sort and another, I think the time has arrived when we should at least, show a little leniency towards them. Coun. Guild on my right, says this is a matter in which the Police Commissioner, Mr. Wilson, has authority. I believe that is so, and that is why I have offered this order and wish it submitted to him for his consideration.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, there have been at various times in the past four or five years attempts to reinstate the old policemen. Who are the gentlemen who are always attempting to block such attempts? We find the Beacon Hill representatives in the lead. If this should be put to referendum vote, as Coun. McGrath has said, we would find the old policemen going back on the job. But we find here today opposing the resolution Coun. Guild and Coun. Parkman, and I believe you will find that Chairman Carr of the Fin. Com. knew that the order was coming up today and requested the Republican councilors to protest against its passage.

Councilors WARD and PARKMAN addressed the Chair and Coun. WARD was recognized.

Coun. WARD—Mr. President, I wish to make my position clear in this matter. Coun. McGrath has expressed here the humane point of view in regard to this matter. I feel that the people do owe a duty to these old police officers, who carried on and performed faithful police duty, some of them for twenty or twenty-five years. They made a mistake, and they suffered for it, and we are now asking the Police Commissioner to take them back. Everyone makes a mistake at some time in his life, as Coun. McGrath has said—and we all know that in the last election people of Boston made a mistake! So why criticize the poor police officers for having made one mistake?

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President, I rise to correct a statement of the councilor who has just taken his seat. The people of this city made no mistake in the last election. If they had made a mistake he would not be here himself. In reply to the councilor on my immediate right (Coun. Parkman), I want to say that no one has asked me to oppose this order, and I do not believe that the chairman of the Finance Commission knew this order was coming up here; so that it could not be profitable, humanly, to make any request of anybody to oppose this order here this afternoon. But I believe the councilor is entirely within his province on this proposition this afternoon for that reason and that is one of the reasons why I am opposed to the order. This matter of the police strike has been fought out so many times that it reminds me of the old "Bloody Shirt" that used to be shaken for years, after the War of the Rebellion. The police strike is over, members of the City Council, and let us not fight it over again. Our duty is plain, I believe, in the matter. It is none of our business whether any of these police officers are reinstated by Commissioner Wilson or not. It is a matter for him to decide whether or not these men are available to membership on the police force, and I am content to let the matter rest there.

The question came on the acceptance of the report and the passage of the order; declared refused. Coun. McGRATH asked for a rising vote, and the order was passed, yeas 11, nays 7.

Coun. ARNOLD—Mr. President.

Chairman DOWLING—For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Coun. ARNOLD—I further doubt the vote and ask for the yeas and nays.

Coun. Gilbody also doubted the vote. The roll was called and the order was passed, yeas 11, nays 7: Yeas—Coun. Dowd, Englert, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, McGrath, McMahon, Ward—11. Nays—Arnold, Bush, Dowling, Guild, Parkman, Wilson, Wragg—7.

3. Report on message and order (referred May 24, 1926) authorizing the sale of old material by the Public Works Department—that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM MAYOR.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I understand that there is practically nothing left except the first order on the calendar, and I am informed by the Budget Commissioner that, in addition to the answers to the questions of Coun. Guild, there also are some items on transfer of appropriations, and I move you suspension of the rules, and that all other matters, except the answers to the questions of Coun. Guild, be taken up, and that be placed at the end of the calendar, and also that communications from his Honor the Mayor be deferred so that the answers to the questions of Coun. Guild be placed at the end of the calendar. The motion was carried.

ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION, BOARD OF ELECTION COMMISSIONERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of a request from the Board of Election Commissioners that an additional appropriation of $2,000 be made available to meet an emergency which has arisen in the work of their office. The fact that the state primary is to be held this year makes it essential that the voting list be available for public inspection and distribution during the early part of August. In order to accomplish this it will be necessary for the office force of the department to work overtime. The additional amount requested is to cover the cost of this emergency work. I accordingly recommend adoption of the accompanying order providing for the transfer of the necessary amount from the Reserve Fund.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

We respectfully request that the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000) be transferred to the item of A-3 Overtime, from the Reserve Fund to meet this emergency.

RECONSTRUCTION OF TREMONT STREET BRIDGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In connection with the reconstruction of the Tremont Street Bridge at Arlington square, it has been found necessary to cap the two 30-inch water mains which passed through the original structure. These mains formed one of the chief sources of supply for the downtown sections of the city. In the opinion of the officials of the Water Department, the abandonment of these water lines should be compensated for by the construction of a 48-inch main across Arlington street, Columbus avenue, Park square and Charles street to Boston Common, there connecting with the other main feed lines entering the city through Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street. The estimated cost of this construction work is $500,000 and I accordingly recommend adoption of the accompanying order providing for the appropriation of this sum.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, June 5, 1926.
To the Honorable the Mayor.

Your attention is respectfully called to the following improvement which should be started as soon as possible and for which money must be obtained by other means than out of water revenue.

The Tremont street widening, necessitating a bridge reconstruction at Arlington square, calls for the abandonment of the independent bridge carrying two 30-inch water pipes over the Boston & Albany and the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroads. To replace the two pipes abandoned it is proposed to lay one 48-inch pipe under the two railroads by means of a tunnel, thence through Arlington street, Columbus avenue, Park square and Charles street to Boston Common, there connecting to the 48-inch low service main recently completed in Commonwealth avenue and to the 40-inch main now in Beacon street. The entire length of this work will call for 4,000 linear feet of 48-inch pipe, and the estimated cost of stock and labor, at $60 per foot, is $240,000. The tunnel construction under the railroads is estimated at $260,000, making $500,000 in all.

This is a very important main extension, as it restores the circulation in Arlington square and

Boston, May 28, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The information requested by the City Council, under its vote of May 17, in connection with the purchase of fire apparatus from the American LaFrance Company, since January 4, 1926, as shown by payments in this office is as follows:

that vicinity which has been cut off by the capping of the two 30-inch water pipes made necessary by the extension of the bridge over the Boston & Albany Railroad to conform to the new width of Tremont street.

I respectfully recommend that a loan of $500,000 be made available under section 8 of chapter 44 of the General Laws, as amended by chapter 303 of the Acts of 1923.

Yours very truly,

J. H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That the sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) be and the same hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Public Works Commissioner, for the Extension of Water Mains, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount, the same to be issued outside the limit of indebtedness.

City of Boston,
Park Department, March 18, 1926.
Henry L. Hamilton, Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office,
City Hall, Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of March 13, relative to estimate for construction of an up-to-date bath house fronting on Charles river on the Metropolitan Reservation in the Brighton-Allston district.

In reply I desire to say that this department has no jurisdiction over the Metropolitan District Commission, and a suggestion for a bath house at this point should emanate from the Legislature.

I want to call your attention to the fact that the percentage of colin in the water at the Charles river caused this department to abandon the floating bath house at Charlesbank. The condition of the water in the vicinity of the Cottage Farm Bridge, I should not think would be much better, but this would be matter for the Health Department to consider.

Henry L. Hamilton, Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office,
City Hall, Boston.
Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of March 13, relative to furnishing estimate as to the cost of making improvements at the Frederick D. Emmons Playground, Charlestown, of grading, etc.

In reply I desire to say that this playground was built in 1914 as a children's playground. To comply with the requests of the residents of Charlestown, it should be extended to Austin street; this would involve the purchase of 22,451 square feet of land at an estimated cost of $56,000. This would enlarge the playground and give a street frontage on all sides and eliminate considerable complaints that we have at all seasons of the year from the back premises.

The resurfacing of the playground will cost $2,500. More lockers are needed and the approximate cost of same is $600; repairs to present showers and new showers, $2,000; ventilator in roof for same, $800; new iron gate, wooden seats in each of the open wings of the building, also additional swings and see-saws for children, $500. Total, $6,400.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of March 13, relative to estimate of cost of erecting concrete bleachers on the Fenway Playground, and on playground adjoining the Jefferson School, Heath street, Roxbury.

In reply I desire to say that the Fenway Playground at the present time has concrete bleachers that hold 3,000 persons and temporary wooden bleachers that hold 1,000. It is the intention of the department to make extensive improvements consisting of building a field house and concrete bleachers on the opposite side from the present ones, bridges across Muddy river, etc., at an estimated cost of $150,000. Part of these improvements will be put into effect during the year 1926.

Relative to the Jefferson Playground, concrete bleachers to hold 1,000 people will cost $10,000. Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

Boston, March 18, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston,

Dear Sir,—Replying to the accompanying order of the City Council requesting this Board "to notify the city councilors representing the district of any hearing involving petitions which affect citizens of his particular district," we beg leave to report that it would not be possible to comply with the order.

There is at present an agreement between the gentlemen of the City Council and this Board, by which they are informed of propositions to install matters involving fire hazard, because the city councilors have a statutory right to intervene in cases of this kind before the Board makes disposition thereof. But there are thousands of other permits granted day by day, such as signs, areaways, sidewalk privileges, etc., which may be said to affect the citizens of the particular district, and the Board believes that the mention of the fact that these amount to about ten thousand annually, will satisfy the gentlemen of the City Council of the impossibility of complying with their order.

BRIDGE, FRANKLIN STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Street Commission in reply to your order concerning an estimate of the cost of extending Franklin street, Brighton, by a bridge, over the Boston & Albany railroad between the Allston depot and Lincoln street; also an estimate of the cost of widening North Harvard street, Brighton, from Western avenue to Cambridge street, and the extension of said North Harvard street, from Cambridge street, to Brighton avenue, by a bridge or viaduct over the Boston & Albany Railroad including the widening of Malvern street.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

May 27, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In answer to the order of the City Council of January 25, last, requesting the Board of Street Commissioners to estimate the cost of extending Franklin street, Brighton, by a bridge over the Boston & Albany Railroad, between the Allston depot and Lincoln street; also an estimate of the cost of widening North Harvard street, Brighton, from Western avenue to Cambridge street, and the extension of said North Harvard street from Cambridge street to Brighton avenue, by a bridge or viaduct over the Boston & Albany Railroad, including the widening of Malvern street, the following report is submitted:

A bridge, for the extension of Franklin street, with abutments and retaining walls, would cost about $125,000. Necessary and costly grade changes would have to be made in Alcott, Adams and Lincoln streets, which would bring the total cost of this improvement to about $575,000.

To widen North Harvard street, as proposed, between Western avenue and Cambridge street, would cost about $130,000, which includes construction and land and building damages.

To extend North Harvard street over the tracks of the Boston & Albany Railroad would necessitate the placing of three piers in the railroad yard. This viaduct, with its piers, would cost about $875,000 to construct.

To widen Malvern street so as to join North Harvard street, if extended, as this plan proposes, would cost about $150,000, making the total cost of the North Harvard street plan about $1,155,000.

This plan would provide a direct and easy traffic way from Commonwealth avenue and Brighton avenue to the Harvard Stadium, and undoubtedly would aid greatly in the development of large tracts of land in the vicinity of the Stadium, and the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration, now in process of erection.

Respectfully,
For the Board of Street Commissioners,
THOMAS J. HURLEY,
Chairman.

UNDERGROUND GARAGE, BOSTON COMMON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Street Commission in reply to your order concerning an estimate of the cost of constructing an underground garage on Boston Common.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

May 27, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to the order of the City Council, in regard to an estimate of the cost of constructing an underground garage on Boston Common.

Legislative authority would be required in the first instance. The necessary study for the other questions in the order would be a matter of months. Under date of April 9, 1919, the Board of Street Commissioners made a partial report along these same lines, in which it was roughly stated that the cost of such an undertaking would be an initial sum of $1,500,000, with probably as much more for rearrangements of existing substructures.

A copy of this report is hereto annexed.
Respectfully,
For the Board of Street Commissioners,
THOMAS J. HURLEY, Chairman.

City of Boston,
Street Laying-Out Department, April 9, 1919.
Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of the City of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The Board of Street Commissioners has considered the enclosed order of the City Council requesting a report on the advisability and the probable cost of making an automobile parking station underneath the Common, and begs to report thereon, as follows:

To make a parking station large enough to accommodate 500 automobiles would require an expenditure of probably $1,500,000. This estimate is based upon what it has cost the city for subway construction in recent years. A parking station would need to be constructed in about the same manner as subways have been constructed; that is, of steel and concrete.

The City Council order suggests a station so built that it "would not take any of the present Common area or disturb the present surface appearance or interfere with the present use of the Common surface grounds."

This cannot be done. It would require runways of not less than 250 feet in length and 30 feet wide to reach the underground station, one in the vicinity of Charles and Boylston streets, and one in the vicinity of Charles and Beacon streets. These runways would have to be entirely in the Common, and they would have to be made in the form of open cuts.

The estimate herein given does not include the cost of relocating water pipes and sewerage works which cross underneath the Parade Field and Playground of the Common, where it is suggested the parking station might be located. This would be an item of considerable consequence as there is one 42-inch, one 40-inch, and one 20-inch water main which would need to be relocated. There is an 18-inch sewer directly in the way, also a sewer draining the Frog Pond, the direction of which would have to be changed.

A station for the care of 500 automobiles would not be of much help in relieving the congestion of highways, which is now great, and which will be greater as time goes on. Of course, such a station could be enlarged from time to time, but the cost would be considerable. For every automobile which might be parked in such a station not less the $2,500 should be estimated as the cost of the space occupied.

If the city should, at any time, be in a position, legally and financially, to expend such a sum of money for the parking of automobiles it seems to this Board that it would be better to purchase a tract of land for the purpose somewhere near the congested business territory. Then if it should be necessary to change the location of the parking place, or if the city did not care to continue in this line of endeavor, it would have something to dispose of, and it might get back every dollar of the original expenditure.

As this Board does not think it advisable to establish a parking station underneath the Common it did not undertake a detailed study of the engineering problems involved in the plan suggested, nor a detailed examination of the probable cost, and the figures given are necessarily approximate. A public hearing on the question is inadvisable under the circumstances.

Respectfully yours,
JOSEPH F. SULLIVAN,
Secretary.

REVOCATION OF TRACK LOCATIONS.

The following was received:

Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Street Commission in reply to your order concerning whether or not the track locations of the Boston Elevated Railway Company on Stamford, Causeway, Lowell, Chardon, Green, Chambers and Portland streets can be revoked and the tracks removed.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

May 27, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to the order of the City Council, relating to tracks on Stamford and other streets.

For good and sufficient reasons, such as the abandonment or nonuse of the location, the Board can pass an order revoking the original grant and ordering the tracks taken up. Such action however would be subject to the approval of the Public Utilities Commission.

The Board desires to take advantage of the presentation of this order to say that the same formalities should be gone through for the abandonment by the Public Service Corporation as for the original grant. That is to say, some form of petition should be filed with the local authorities and hearings held by them on the question of abandonment. This would probably call for a change in the law.

Respectfully,

For the Board of Street Commissioners.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to the order of the City Council for the widening of Norfolk street.

Norfolk street was widened a few years ago to the width of sixty feet, at a cost of over $300,000, and there could be no justification for an additional widening of one hundred and ninety feet no matter what the cost.

On investigation it is found that the object aimed at is to prevent the erection of stores at the place indicated. This would appear to be a matter for the Zoning Board.

Respectfully,

Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Street Commission in reply to your order concerning the costs of laying out as a public way Colorado street, from Mattapan street to Oakland street, and Itasca street, from Mattapan street to Oakland street, both in Ward 18.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

June 3, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to the accompanying order of the City Council.

Colorado street is about thirty-six hundred feet long, with only twelve houses on the entire length. It would cost about $92,000 to construct, exclusive of the sewers. Itasca street is about thirty-five hundred feet long. There are seventeen houses on the street. Exclusive of sewers, the cost of construction would be about $92,000.

Respectfully,

For the Board of Street Commissioners.
THOMAS J. HURLEY,
Chairman.

COST OF LAYING OUT ORMOND STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Street Commission in reply to your order concerning acceptance and laying out as a public street, Ormond street, from Wellington Hill street, at the junction of Blue Hill avenue, to Byers road, Ward 14.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

May 28, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to the order of the City Council for the laying out of Ormond street, Ward 14.

The length of this street and especial difficulties to be encountered in its construction call for so large a sum of money that the city would not be warranted in considering it even in the near future.

Respectfully,

For the Board of Street Commissioners.
THOMAS J. HURLEY,
Chairman.

Placed on file.

Coun. WARD at this point moved adjournment. (The Clerk continued reading.)

COST OF LAYING OUT ARCADIA AND OTHER STREETS.

The following was received:

Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Street Commission concerning the laying out and acceptance of Radcliffe, Lauriat, Duke and Fenton streets and Arcadia terrace.

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

May 28, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to orders of the City Council relative to the laying out and acceptance of Radcliffe street, Ward 14; Lauriat street, Ward 14; Duke street, Ward 14; Arcadia terrace, Ward 15, and Fenton street, Ward 15.

These streets should be accepted as soon as possible, and only the greater need of other streets prevents the Board from including them in this year's appropriation.

Respectfully,

For the Board of Street Commissioners.
THOMAS J. HURLEY,
Chairman.

ABANDONMENT OF ENGINE 32 PREMISES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Acting Fire Commissioner in reply to your order concerning the advisability of abandoning the premises now occupied by Engine 32 on Bunker Hill street and of providing for the erection of new quarters on Medford street, Charlestown.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, April 9, 1926.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith an order passed by the City Council on March 15, 1926, as follows:

Ordered: That the Fire Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to consider the advisability of abandoning the premises now occupied by Engine 32 on Bunker Hill street, and of providing for the erection of new quarters on Medford street, in the Charlestown district.

The present location of Engine 32 on Bunker Hill street is ideal for providing prompt access to fires being in the center of a fire district. The existing house was built in 1884 and is in very fair condition. It is our intention, during the current year, to make certain repairs at an estimated cost of $15,000 which will put the station in first-class condition for a long period of years.

The location of Medford street would not be as central, and on account of the steep grades the apparatus would have to ascend from the proposed location it would decrease rather than increase the efficiency of the present arrangement particularly in stormy weather. In addition to this it would cost approximately $100,000 to erect a new station and if this sum is available it is needed for several other locations where the houses are in a very unsatisfactory condition.

Yours very truly,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Acting Fire Commissioner.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, a motion has been made here that we adjourn, and I move that we now adjourn.

Coun. DOWD—I second the motion.

The question was put, and it was declared not a vote.

Coun. Dowd doubted the vote and asked for a roll call, and the motion was lost, yeas 8, nays 11, viz.:

Yeas—Coun. Dowd, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mohoney, Ward—8.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Dowling, Englert, Guild, Keene, McGrath, McMahon, Parkman, Wilson, Wragg—11.

Coun. WARD moved adjournment, and the Chairman ruled that no business having intervened the Chair could not entertain the motion.

COST OF MAKING OVER MADISON PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Park Department in reply to your order concerning an estimate of the cost of making over Madison Park, Ward 9, into a playground.

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, June 1, 1926.

Henry L. Hamilton, Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office,
City Hall, Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of May 27, with inclosure from the City Council, that the Park Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to furnish the City Council with an estimate of the cost of making over Madison Park, Ward 9, into a playground.

In reply I desire to say that this land was purchased from the Tremont Improvement Company by the city of Roxbury for a public park in 1860-61 and it was acquired by the City of Boston by annexation. Under the deeds it would require an act of Legislature to turn this area into a playground.

Very truly yours,
W. P. LONG,
Deputy Commissioner

PAYMENT BY CHECK. HEALTH DEPARTMENT

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Health Commissioner in reply to your order concerning the making of such arrangements as may be necessary with the City Treasurer in order that employees of the Health Department may be paid in cash instead of by check.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Health Department, June 2, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In regard to the attached order of the City Council, that I make arrangements through the City Treasurer for the payment of employees of this department by cash instead of by check, I beg leave to state that the present system was instituted in the interest of efficiency and economy. Saturday is a half working day, and if we are to return to the old system it would mean that approximately 260 employees would be obliged to go to City Hall Saturday morning for their pay. It would mean that nurses, inspectors, caretakers, etc., would leave their districts and consume practically if not all of Saturday morning for this purpose, and in addition the clerical force would leave their desks to wait in line while the work of the divisions would in some instances be stopped and in other cases seriously handicapped Saturday morning.

Yours respectfully,
F. X. MAHONEY, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Your memorandum has been received with an order of the City Council that the Superintendent of Public Buildings be requested to install and maintain in the Old Town Hall, Brighton, a convenience station for men and women.

I have made a personal examination of this building and cannot see that this arrangement would be feasible in view of the present existing arrangement of plumbing in the old building, without changing the entire system and arrangement of plumbing which would involve a considerable outlay of money.

Yours very truly,
F. X. MAHONEY,

RESURFACING HUNTINGTON AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

I return herewith order of the City Council, relating to the resurfacing of Huntington avenue, from the Brigham circle to South Huntington avenue.

We have awarded a contract, upon which work is now in progress, for laying a smooth pavement in this street from Hemenway street to the Brookline line, which includes the portion mentioned in the order. With the completion of this contract this season, Huntington avenue will have been provided with smooth pavement for its entire length.

COST OF REPAVING WASHINGTON STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 7, 1926.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a communication from the Commissioner of Public Works in reply to your order concerning an estimate of the cost of repaving Washington street, from Northampton street, to Williams street.

Respectfully,
MALCOLM E. NICHOLS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, June 4, 1926.
To the Honorable the Mayor.

I return herewith the order of the City Council, requesting an estimate of the cost of paving Washington street, from Northampton street to Williams street.

The estimated cost of this work is about $65,000. It is a much-needed improvement, as the roadway is in a very poor condition. Plans for the improvement are about ready, and it is expected that a contract will be advertised within a few weeks.

Yours respectfully,
J. H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Coun. HEFFERNAN moved the suspension of the reading of all further communications from the Mayor and that they be placed on file. Coun. DOWD seconded the motion.

President KEENE in the chair.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I wish to amend the motion to include not only communications from his Honor the Mayor but from any representative of his Honor the Mayor.

The amendment was seconded by Coun. DOWD.

President KEENE—The Chair will state that the motion is out of order as there is nothing before the house at this time, it having been moved that we suspend the reading of communications, and that they be placed on file. There are no further communications, and we have to hear a report from the Budget Commissioner.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I move that we adjourn.

The motion was declared lost.

Coun. Heffernan doubted the vote, and the motion was lost, yeas 8, nays 11:

Yeas—Coun. Dowd, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Heffernan, Lynch, Mahoney, Ward—8.

Nays—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Dowling, Englert, Guild, Keene, McGrath, McMahon, Parkman, Wilson, Wragg—11.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would like to inquire what further business there is before the body.

Coun. PARKMAN—Mr. President, I move that we proceed with the regular order of business.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I rose to a point of information, and I think as a courtesy I should have the answer to the question.

President KEENE—I will state to the councilor that I know of no further business before the Council at this time except to hear the Budget Commissioner.

Coun. GILBODY—About what matter, may I ask, Mr. President?

President KEENE—A communication from his Honor the Mayor.

Coun. GILBODY—May I inquire if the communication is in such form that it can be presented here as a document and placed on file in the records?

President KEENE—I will state for the information of the councilor that the Mayor has the right

Coun. GILBODY—I understand that.

President KEENE—To appear in person or by a head of department. He has seen fit to make the communication by the head of a department.

Coun. GILBODY—I would like to inquire — President KEENE—That is in reply to a request of the council.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, my question was, if the report of the representative of his Honor the Mayor is, as required by the charter, in such form that it can be presented in a printed manner?

President KEENE—Is the Budget Commissioner here?

The Clerk stated that the Budget Commissioner was present.

President KEENE—I will let the Budget Commissioner state as to whether or not the information furnished by the Mayor is in such a form that it can be printed.

Budget Commissioner FOX—Why, it was planned to present it orally, Mr. President.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would like an answer to my question. I asked a plain, simple question. Is it in such form that it can be presented in a printed way?

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

President KEENE—Will you state your point of order?

Coun. McGRATH—My point of order is that the order as introduced by Coun. Guild called for a report from his Honor the Mayor orally and the Mayor has sent the Budget Commissioner to give the oral report.

President KEENE—The Chair will state for the information of Coun. McGrath that that is not the exact wording of the order. It could be answered either by his Honor the Mayor or by his representative.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President.

President KEENE—Just one moment, Coun. Heffernan. In answer to Coun. Gilbody's question, Mr. Budget Commissioner, is the report in such form that it can be presented and made a part of the record? Coun. Gilbody, do you mean in the form of a printed document?

Coun. GILBODY—Yes, a communication. Budget Commissioner FOX—While it is not specifically in that form, it could be prepared in that form, Mr. President.

President KEENE—Has the Budget Commissioner answered the question?

Coun. GILBODY—Yes.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, now that I see, as I do, that the Mayor has got in his work and the votes are secured, I move that it be filed in the form of a report, instead of being read at this time.

Coun. DOWD—I second the motion.

Coun. BUSH—Mr. President, as a point of order, I wish to say that the request in the interrogatory which was presented to the Mayor was that he appear either personally or through a representative. The representative is here, and I think out of courtesy to the Mayor he should be heard. The question is out of order.

Coun. HEFFERNAN—Mr. President, I think my question is entirely in order; and, furthermore, I think reporting through the Budget Commissioner is a violation of the charter. I think that an answer by a department head within the meaning of the charter means an answer by the head of every department, and not allowing one man to answer for all departments of the city.

President KEENE—The Chair rules it is out of order. Will you please state your motion again, Coun. Heffernan?

Coun. HEFFERNAN—My motion is that the Budget Commissioner file a printed report, and that it be placed on file.

The question was put and the motion was declared lost. Coun. Heffernan doubted the vote and called for a rising vote, and the Council voted, yeas 7, nays 9, and it was declared not a vote.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I move that we proceed with the regular order. Let us fish or cut bait. Let us get somewhere. I move that the communication from his Honor the Mayor be submitted to the Council.

The motion was seconded.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, at the outset of this afternoon's meeting I personally stated that I resented his Honor the Mayor stating — President KEENE—The Chair will state to the councilor that he is out of order. A motion is presented and, unless the motion is lost, we must proceed.

Coun. DOWD—There is a motion made and seconded that the Budget Commissioner proceed with the reading. I believe that any councilor —

President KEENE—That is not the motion. It is moved and seconded that we proceed with the regular order of business. Those in favor of proceeding with the regular order of business will say aye, those contrary no, and it is a vote. The Budget Commissioner.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. In the regular order of business I may have the privilege of addressing the Council a moment. It is very evident that the Mayor has got in his work again and has twisted the members of the Council. We cannot do business without a quorum. I, as a member of the Council, refuse to listen to the Budget Commissioner, and I ask my other colleagues to leave the hall, and let them get their quorum and then proceed.

President KEENE—The Budget Commissioner will present his report.

At this point several of the councilors left the room.

Budget Commissioner FOX—Mr. President and gentlemen of the Council, in accordance with the provisions of section 7, chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, I have been delegated by his Honor the Mayor to appear before your honorable body and make answer to the interrogatories contained in your order of May 24.

This information is contained in nine departmental communications, which I have here with me. If the Council desires I am willing to read these communications, but I would like to suggest that it would require a considerable amount of time and effort not only on my part but also on the part of the Council if the reading of these communications be delayed at this particular time.

President KEENE—If there is no objection the reading will be waived.

The communications were as follows:

City of Boston,
Park Department, March 16, 1926.
Henry L. Hamilton, Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office,
City Hall, Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of March 13, requesting cost of putting the Smith's Pond Playground in proper condition with suitable drainage, etc.

In reply I desire to say that in 1916 this playground was provided with a drainage system consisting of tile underdrains and a main drain connecting with the brook under Gordon avenue near Child street; but, as most of the playground is now level surface, water is not carried off to the catch-basins as it should be. The playground should be filled with solid material to an average depth of 9 inches to provide the proper pitch to the catch-basins, then should be covered entirely with loam to a depth of 6 inches. The following is an estimate of the cost of developing the entire area of about fourteen acres:

15,000 cubic yards filling at $1.25.....	$18,750
10,000 cubic yards loam at $1.75.....	17,500
Total.....	$36,250

A children's corner including shelter for swings and fences would cost an additional $3,000. This would put the playground in an up-to-date condition.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG,
Deputy Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Park Department, March 18, 1926.
Henry L. Hamilton, Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office,
City Hall, Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of March 13, relative to estimates for the improvements on Charlestown Heights, installation of shower baths in summer house, new trees and shrubbery and general repairs.

In reply I desire to say that the present house is not large enough to contain showers. The present building should be torn down, an up-to-date building containing showers and pool, locker facilities, etc., should be built in its place; an estimated cost would be $400,000.

The grounds should be regraded and resurfaced; the steep embankments and some of the walls are in a shabby condition; the masonry sand boxes are out of date and no longer useful and should be removed, together with the great stone buttresses south of them.

Experience shows that it would probably be impossible, in this locality, to prevent children and others from walking through the shrubs and trespassing upon the steep embankments; consequently, the upkeep of grass and shrubbery in a high degree of preservation would be impossible.

The problem of preventing the destruction of parapet walls and boulder banks by men and boys, who use levers to pry out the rocks during the night for amusement, is a matter which cannot be solved readily.

About 1,000 lineal feet of new seats will be needed which will cost approximately.....	$2,000
The removing of sand boxes and buttresses and regrading and resurfacing of playground will cost approximately.....	1,800
New shrubbery, care of old shrubbery and loaming of steep embankments.....	1,000
Repainting of fence.....	1,000
Shelter house, swings and teeter boards for the use of children.....	2,500
Total.....	$8,300

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG,
Deputy Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Transit Department, March 16, 1926.
H. Hamilton, Chief Clerk, Office of the Mayor,
City Hall, Boston.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your reference of March 13, beg to advise that there has been an agitation for a subway along Huntington avenue and Stuart street for many years.

Last year the Metropolitan Planning Division and the Transit Department were created a joint board to report on the matter of a Huntington Avenue Subway to the Legislature of this year. This report was made recommending an appropriation of $20,000 to cover the detailed study. Last Friday, however, the Ways and Means Committee of the House reported against the proposition of having a joint board report and voted for a bill which turns this entire matter over to the Metropolitan Planning Division. I understand that the new bill is now in the Senate.

Yours very truly,
THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

City of Boston,

Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,

Dear Sir,—Replying to the order of the City Council as to the advisability of acquiring state land for parking purposes.

The city government can only acquire land for the purposes stated in this order by special authority from the Legislature.

Respectfully,
For the Board of Street Commissioners,
THOMAS J. HURLEY,
Chairman.

City of Boston,
City Planning Board, May 27, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The City Planning Board has before it order passed by the City Council under date of April 30, 1926, requesting a study of the available sites for playground purposes in the Faneuil district of Brighton, and will submit a report thereon at the earliest possible moment.

Considerable material has already been assembled in connection with this investigation, including preliminary studies of vacant areas, trend of population, school districts and existing recreation facilities, but before final conclusions can be arrived at it is the custom of the Board to analyze in detail all of these factors and others entering into the project under consideration. This involves weeks of time in the assembling of the material, its charting and presentation in graphic form and its consideration and final action by the members of the Board.

Every effort will be made to complete the survey at the earliest possible moment, however, and the same will be forwarded to your honor with the recommendation of the Board in the matter as soon as circumstances permit.

Yours very truly,
(Miss) E. M. HERLIHY,
Secretary.

City of Boston,
Health Department, February 23, 1926.
Hon. Malcolm E. Nichols,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Your memorandum has been received enclosing copy of an order of the Boston City Council requesting the estimated cost of constructing a public convenience station in Codman square, westerly side, similar to the station now owned and operated by the City of Boston in Mattapan square.

The station in Mattapan square was built almost fourteen years ago, and to duplicate that station at the present time, using the same kind of materials, and considering the increased cost of labor and materials, would cost approximately $17,000. This figure is but an estimate, and does not include plans and specifications, as well as architects' fees, which would cost approximately $1,000 additional.

Yours respectfully,
F. X. MAHONEY, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, January 15, 1926.
To the Honorable the Mayor.

In reply to the attached order in City Council on January 11, 1926, regarding the present status of the widening and construction of Morton street, Dorchester: In accordance with chapter 325 of the Acts of 1925, we were ordered by the Street Commissioners to construct the section of Morton street, from Morton road to Canterbury street, for which there is available a total of $247,500, made up of $225,000 loan outside the debt limit and $22,500 from the tax levy.

A contract has been awarded, and work is now progressing on this section of Morton street for surface drains, grading and fill for the roadway and final road and sidewalk surfaces, the cost of which will be approximately $207,000, which leaves a balance in the amount authorized of $40,500.

Chapter 325 authorized the widening and construction of Morton street in two sections, the first section from Morton road to Canterbury street, and the second section substantially from Codman street to River street, with an authorization for a loan outside the debt limit of $325,000 to which will be added 10 per cent from the tax levy, making $357,500 for the entire scheme. Provided all the money authorized by the act becomes available, we will have approximately $150,000 for the construction of the second section, which is not sufficient for the purpose. This amount could be made available for a portion of the work to be done by a loan order of $100,000 plus 10 per cent from the tax levy.

As the total amount authorized under the act is not sufficient for the construction outlined in the act, an additional allowance should be obtained from the Legislature.

Yours respectfully,
J. A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, May 25, 1926.
To the Honorable the Mayor.

I return herewith the order of the City Council relative to the appointment of a commission to study the necessity of semiweekly collections of ashes and garbage in the City of Boston during the respective busy seasons, and report as follows:

Having gathered data and information from our own supervisors and inspectors in regard to the accumulations of household wastes that have to be collected by the city and reports from other cities showing their respective activities, the advisability of the appointment of a commission might be considered at this time to provide for future conditions.

There are collected and disposed of in the City of Boston 72,000 tons of garbage and about 450,000 tons of ashes and refuse annually, at a cost of $2,130,000. The collections are constant in most of the city sections; in the West End and North End there are three collections per week, and from hotels and restaurants six times per week. Throughout the rest of the city the collections are weekly, except in the contract districts where the contract specifies two garbage collections during the summer months.

To provide for semiweekly collections additional help would be necessary, to the extent of about 150 laborers and thirty trucks, which would require:

For laborers.....	$297,000
For trucks.....	180,000
Additional for contract districts.....	200,000

An additional budget provision of..... $677,000

However, if the trucks recommended by the Emergency Committee report on snow equipment are procured, the item for trucks could be eliminated and the budget provision reduced the amount of the truck item, or a total expense of practically $500,000, in addition to present costs.

The result of correspondence with other cities as to the methods and frequency of collections, etc., is shown on page 173.

Conferences have been held wherein these matters have been discussed and methods recommended, but with the inevitable result of procrastination and dampening of ardor when the financial provisions are coupled up with the recommendations.

Many attempts have been made to instruct the residents, even going so far as to furnish metal receptacles, to assist in the collections in the down-town congested sections. No marked improvement resulted; therefore the three collections per week, while fairly satisfactory, could be improved with daily collections.

In the South End and outlying sections a semi-weekly collection would be a source of satisfaction to all concerned; to the housekeeper to have the receptacles emptied more frequently, and to the city officials to know that the people were satisfied.

The department knows what it has to contend with,—the materials, the receptacles in which they are placed and often misplaced, the back alleys and yards oftentimes almost inaccessible, from which it has to be wheeled and carted,—all matters of experience to the officials having to do with the collection and disposal.

More frequent collections would be welcomed, therefore, inasmuch as the accumulations would not be so large, consequently the activities of the collectors would be less arduous and disagreeable.

However, the suggestion of more frequent collections, while commendable, cannot be entertained at present, but could be provided for in the next annual budget.

Yours respectfully,
J. H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

I return herewith the order of the City Council requesting an estimate of the cost of installing a high pressure water system in the Elm Hill section of Roxbury.

It is not within the province of the city to install or provide for any increased pressure on the Boston water system. Furnishing an adequate pressure devolves on the Metropolitan District Commission, the successors of the Metropolitan Water Board, in accordance with section 3 of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895, which states that "said board shall furnish said water to the city, town or company by delivering same into a main water pipe, reservoir or tank of the city, town or company under sufficient pressure for use without local pumping," etc.

Due to the elevation of the higher areas of the Elm Hill district, as compared with Fisher Hill Reservoir, being at grade 251 feet above city base the normal day pressure at the street level on Elm Hill avenue, the highest street within the district is 20 pounds. To meet the growth of this district, the Metropolitan District Commission is now at work on plans and estimates providing for a 48-inch high service pipe line from Chestnut Hill pumping station through Brookline to the Boston line. When the Metropolitan District Commission completes this 48-inch pipe line to the Boston line, the Public Works Department will continue it through Jamaica Plain and Franklin Park to the Elm Hill district. The 48-inch high service pipe line within the city limits will be about five miles long and will cost about $1,000,000. The exact line is not yet established, as the District Commission has not definitely determined where it will approach the Boston line, but it is expected that operations will begin this year by the state forces. When this line is installed it will maintain a constant increased pressure, preventing the fluctuation of pressure during heavy drafts.

The second step which the Public Works Department is about to take is to request the Metropolitan District Commission to increase the high water level of Fisher Hill Reservoir from grade 251 to grade 264 above city base. The completion of both the above-mentioned steps should provide an adequate and constant water pressure in this district to care for all demands for those houses which are properly plumbed both as regards the material used for the plumbing and the pipe sizes. In this area there are a great many houses for which any increased water pressure will be of no benefit, those buildings which are piped with galvanized iron pipe (the life of this make of pipe being about seven years before completely filling up), and buildings where the builder deliberately reduces the size of pipe over the size granted by the city and laid by the city to the property line. It has been our practice in this area to grant and insist as far as we are able that the pipe installed by the city be of an adequate size to care for all contingencies, but notwithstanding our efforts the builders who have no interest outside the building and disposal of the property will not install the pipe sizes which are adequate for the demands.

The only complaints which the Water Division has received from this area are those which come from buildings piped with galvanized-iron pipes or where the pipe sizes are so small that they will not meet the demands.

Yours respectfully,

J. H. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Severally placed on file.

Budget Commissioner FOX—Having complied with the request contained in the order, the Mayor desires me to make a short statement of his position in this matter.

The Mayor recognizes the importance of courteous and cordial relations between the executive and legislative branches of the city government and is not conscious that anything has arisen to affect such relations. The routing and transmitting of council orders is almost entirely a matter of clerical routine and was in fact in process but not completed when your order relating to the accompanying communications was passed.

It should be noted that there is nothing in the phraseology of the original orders to indicate that an immediate reply or a reply within a specified time was desired; furthermore, the information requested in most of the orders was not of a character which would warrant or permit hasty compilation, nor was there any indication given prior to the passage of the order relating to these communications that the Council considered imperative transmission of information, most of which could be had from official sources without the procedure authorized by law.

His Honor trusts that if in the future any member of the Council feels there is need of immediate information upon any subject upon which the Mayor can make information lawfully available, that such member will forthwith communicate with the Mayor's office without the attendant delay incident to the present formality. The Mayor, in conclusion, assures the Council of his desire to promote and maintain the present spirit of cordial and friendly co-operation.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I wish to make a statement. In view of the fact that some of the members left the room and it may be construed that only those left here are friendly with the Mayor, I would like to say that Coun. Donovan and Greene are both absent from today's meeting because they are attending the circus with five or six thousand children, and, as they have not had an opportunity to be here to vote, I hope that fact will be noted through the records and through the papers.

President KEENE—The communication from his Honor the Mayor will be placed on file.

Coun. DOWLING moved a general reconsideration, hoping that the same would not prevail; lost.

Coun. DOWLING moved adjournment, and the Council adjourned at 5.13 p. m. to meet on Monday, June 14, at 2 p. m.

BOSTON EXPORTS AND IMPORTS, 1924.

For Mass. Customs District (Boston and eight minor ports) in calendar year, 1924, the total value of exports was $57,355,646 or $5,197,538 more than in 1923; of imports, $253,851,533 or $53,436,899 less than in 1923; total foreign trade, $311,207,179 or $48,240,061 less than in 1923. Boston's total foreign trade for year 1924 ranked sixth among American ports, New York, Galveston, New Orleans, Seattle and San Francisco exceeding the former in value. As to imports alone, Boston ranked third, Seattle taking second place, and as to exports alone, 18th (the unusual decline in exports due largely to discrimination against Boston in through railroad freight rates). Tonnage of vessels in foreign trade in year 1924, entered 3,927,437; cleared, 2,347,385; number of vessels entered, 1,553; number cleared, 1,046.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, the total imports at Boston reached $301,447,000 in value, restoring this port to its accustomed rank of second.

UNDERGROUND RAPID TRANSIT IN BOSTON.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence, July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway, from Broadway and Tremont St., South End, to North Station and from Boylston St., near Charles to Park St., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St. September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first transportation subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State St. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000, the first all-concrete underwater transportation tunnel in the world; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages; Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,485,639; East Boston Tunnel Extension from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,523,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station; on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal. Trains of four or six cars are run in the East Boston Tunnel, the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston, connecting with Cambridge Tunnel, to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways. Cost of Dorchester tunnel, $11,016,700 to Jan. 31, 1925; of new Arlington Station extending under Boylston St., between Arlington and Berkeley, $1,230,676; of East Boston Tunnel Alterations, Maverick sq., $3,768,857.

Total gross debt on Feb. 1, 1925 for all subways and tunnels, $42,096,700; against which a sinking fund of $7,825,262 has been accumulated from the revenue, making the net debt $34,271,438. The loans are payable mostly in 40 years from date of each (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent.

These underground ways, about nine miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track, were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of 4½ to 4¾ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at ¾ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company).

In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be 4½ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

By Chap. 480, Acts of 1923, the extension of the Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew Square about 1,300 feet south-erly was ordered, the proposed new railway location then coming to the surface 400 feet southeast of Dorchester Ave., thence continuing to Harrison Square; thence along the Shawmut Branch railroad to its termination at Blue Hill Ave. and River St., Mattapan.

Loans issued in 1924-25 for Dorchester Tunnel extension, $300,000 and for Dorchester Rapid Transit, $150,000.

NATIVES AND CITIZENS OF BOSTON AND VICINITY HONORED IN HALL OF FAME.

In the American Hall of Fame, New York City, dedicated in 1901, are inscribed, on bronze tablets the names of 56 eminent men and 7 distinguished women deemed worthy of the highest honor on account of their services and attainments. Of the 63 individuals thus selected (up to 1920 inclusive) by an electorate of 100 leading Americans, 27 were natives or for some time citizens of Boston or vicinity. The names of the latter are as follows:

Chosen in 1900—John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, William Ellery Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Daniel Webster, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Horace Mann, Nathaniel Hawthorne, George Peabody, Samuel Finley Breese Morse, Joseph Story, Asa Gray, Gilbert Stuart—total, 13.

If all New England is included, 4 more names will bring up the total to 38 or 60.3 per cent of whole number chosen, these being Roger Williams, Henry Ward Beecher, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Emma Willard.

BOSTON CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885, 1909 and 1924 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority vote of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2, providing for City Council of 9 members, was adopted by a majority of 3,894.

Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirements as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms. (5) Chap. 288, Acts of 1921, fixing date of the annual municipal election on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in December, also making slight changes as to nominations. (6) Chap. 133, Acts of 1922, changing publication of list of City officials and employees to every second year from 1923. (7) Chap. 479, Acts of 1924, providing for biennial City elections (dating from Nov. 3, 1925); for borough or ward representation in City Council; for a fiscal year dating from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, beginning in 1926, also a municipal year dating from the first Monday in January, to begin in 1926; for election of the five members of School Committee in 1925, the candidates receiving the two largest votes to hold office four years, the other three for two years and at the election in 1927 and thereafter the term for all to be four years.

The only amendment of 1924 subject to a referendum was the alternative of Plan 1 or Plan 2 as to the City Council. At the State election on Nov. 4 Plan 2 was adopted, providing for the election by each ward in 1925 and every second year thereafter of one councillor for 2-year term.

Those born within the present limits of Boston numbered 21; in towns near Boston, 8; in neighboring New England States, 5; in Ireland, 2. Next in length of service was Mayor Lincoln, serving 3 years ending 1860 and 4 years ending 1866. The first Mayor Quincy had the distinction of serving through six successive one-year terms ending 1828, and Mayor Fitzgerald also served six years but in two separated terms. Those who served 4 years were Mayors Prince, O'Brien, Matthews, (third) Quincy, Hart and Peters. Mayor Collins was in office nearly 4 years, his death occurring 3½ months before his second term expired. SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON, 1630.

Effected by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop in the latter part of August, 1630. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to Sept. 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

BOSTON NOW HAS IN PROSPECT WATER SUPPLY SUPERIOR TO ANY OTHER GREAT CITY.

The Mayor has received the following letter from X. H. Goodnough, chief engineer of the Metropolitan Water Supply System:

141 STATE HOUSE,
BOSTON, June 18, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Until now I have not had the opportunity since the adjournment of the Legislature and the passage of the water supply act to congratulate you on the outcome of that legislation.

The plan now adopted in the act just passed varies in no important particular, except the recommendation by the Joint Board for taking the flood waters only, from the plan proposed in the original study of the needs of the metropolitan district made by the State Board of Health in 1895 under the direction of Dr. Henry P. Walcott, one of the ablest and most far-seeing men who has ever served the Commonwealth, and designed by Frederic P. Stearns, the most eminent water supply engineer of his time. It was largely through the influence of one of your distinguished predecessors, Mayor Edwin U. Curtis, that the original scheme was adopted, concerning which it has been said that perhaps no other single act has contributed so much to the health, happiness and prosperity of the inhabitants of the metropolitan district as that establishing the metropolitan water supply system.

The comprehensive development provided for in the act just passed is a continuation of the former plan, but on a far greater scale to meet the needs of a population which has more than doubled since the original plan was devised.

I believe that your unfailing support of the plan that has now been adopted, carrying with it the great influence of the City of Boston, has been a controlling factor in securing for Boston and the metropolitan district a water of the highest quality superior to the water supply of any other great city.

Yours very truly,

X. H. GOODNOUGH,
Chief Engineer.

AUTHORITY TO DO WORK.

The Mayor has granted the request of the Public Works Department for authority to resurface with asphalt macadam West Cottage street, from Blue Hill avenue to Dudley street, with division forces, without advertisement, the estimated cost for labor and material being $4,000.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,

URGES KEEPING OF SIMPLE FAITH IN BUNKER HILL ADDRESS.

Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols delivered the following address at the Bunker Hill Celebration on the evening of June 16.

Only a short time ago in the pages of history two tides of political opinion swept the slopes of this steep hill in preparation for a great decision about to be written in the Declaration of Independence. The decision had long been made; it was the choice of men who acknowledged no right of government except by their own consent. This choice was challenged by the power of force and folly which had blindly set itself against the progress of the world.

The men who fortified Bunker Hill were sturdy farmers, used to hard work, accustomed to the use of firearms, honest, independent, God-fearing. They had in their hearts the lessons of fathers who had preceded them and had faced the dangers of a vast wilderness in their search for freedom. They were, to be sure, untrained in the art of war, and thought to be no match for the well-armed and well-drilled British soldiery. But they had that which the King's troops did not possess, the knowledge of a righteous cause, and it strengthened them in the stout resistance which they made here.

A glance throughout this community then would hardly have given an inkling of what has happened during the past 120 years. The little shops and crooked streets have given way to vast building construction and wide thoroughfares of trade and travel. The primitive learning of that day has expanded into magnificent institutions. The life of a colony has developed into the varied pursuits of a nation, and yet the tides of opinion in their quality are probably much the same now as then.

The War of the Revolution which had its beginning at Concord, Lexington and Bunker Hill, laid the foundation for free institutions such as the world has never seen, but while Bunker Hill gave men freedom, it could not make freedom forever secure, for the challenge given here will always from time to time be repeated. It is a great mistake to think that a fight for a great cause will never have to be made again. Had the men who stood behind their redoubts at the top of the hill remembered only that the best troops in Europe were approaching, they never could have made the valiant stand they did. All they remembered was what they fought for, and theirs was the spirit which carried their country to greatness. There was no weakness in these men.

There is no danger so great as that which seeks security in ease and forgetfulness.

Therefore, we may draw a lesson from the great events of that battle, the lesson of readiness to fight for that which is good. This is a thought we need to-day, for although we may have riches beyond the magic of Aladdin's lamp, and may have attained a splendor such as no nation on earth has attained, these riches and this splendor can avail us nothing if we do not preserve the sturdy qualities of Americans who made possible great wealth and great power.

I pray that we may never overlook the value of doing the practical things of keeping the simple faith which made us great, for in faith and works America must live and write her story upon the records of imperishable fame.

WANTS CITY TO ACCEPT WAR HERO'S MEDALS.

The Mayor has received the following communication from the Department of State, Washington.

May 24, 1926.

HON. MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,
Mayor of Boston.

SIR,—The department incloses for your information a copy of dispatch No. 180 of October 30, 1924, from the American Consul-General at Wellington, New Zealand, in regard to the award of certain war memorials and medals to Mr. Leslie Orr who is thought to have been born in Boston.

The Superintendent of Police of Boston has been unable to find any trace of the relatives of this man, no information upon the subject is procurable from the department's passport records, and the case has been published in the newspapers of the United States without success. The department is still holding the medals, plaque, scroll and certificates.

Inasmuch as no further clues seem to be available, the department would be glad to be informed whether the City of Boston would care to accept the testimonials to be held in trust in the Boston Public Library or some other institution as suggested by the War Accounts and Records Office of the Ministry of Defence of New Zealand. If it is decided to accept the testimonials, the department will, upon the receipt of information to that effect, forward them without delay and it will appreciate the receipt of a statement for transmission to the New Zealand authorities of the disposition made of them, together with copies of any newspapers in which comment upon the matter is made.

I am, sir,

Your obedient servant,

For the Secretary of State,
J. BUTLER WRIGHT.

AMERICAN CONSULATE GENERAL,
WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND,
October 30, 1924.

SUBJECT: Memorials and Medals for a Deceased American Soldier.

THE HONORABLE THE SECRETARY OF STATE, Washington.

SIR,—I have the honor to report that I am in receipt of a letter from the officer in charge of War Accounts and Records Office, General Headquarters, New Zealand Military Forces, invoking my aid in a matter in which I shall be glad of the department's active and sympathetic assistance as a means of carrying out the wishes of the Minister of Defence of this dominion and the military organization under his direction, in honor of the memory of a young American soldier who was killed in action in the late Great War while a member of the New Zealand Expeditionary Force.

The name of the deceased soldier is Leslie Orr, who, when he attested for service with the New Zealand Expeditionary Force in March, 1916, stated that he was born on the 12th of February, 1895, in Boston, Massachusetts. He saw service in France and was killed in action at Passchendaele on October 12, 1917.

Concerning this matter the officer in charge of the War Accounts and Records Office writes me as follows:

"When in March, 1916, the above-named soldier attested for service with the New Zealand Expeditionary Force he stated that he was born on the 12th of February, 1895, at Boston, Mass., U. S. A. During the Great War the soldier saw service in France and was killed in action at Passchendaele on the 12th of October, 1917. There has been issued as memorials of the supreme sacrifice made by the soldier a plaque and a scroll and there is also due to his estate a certificate recording his service with the New Zealand Expeditionary Force, a British War Medal and a Victory Medal. I regret that, although exhaustive inquiries have been made, I have been unable to obtain the name and address of the late Leslie Orr's relative to whom should be handed the above-named memorials and medals.

"By direction of the Honorable the Minister of Defence the following policy has been adopted in cases similar to the above:

"It has been deemed that the authorities governing the municipal matters of the town in which the deceased soldier was born would consider it a privilege to accept and hold in trust medals and memorials issued in honor of one of the citizens. In the United Kingdom, in Australia, in Africa, and in Canada many local authorities have gladly fallen in with the suggestion and in every case arrangements have been made whereby the memorials, after being placed in suitable frames or settings, have been deposited in a place of honor—sometimes the public library, sometimes the art gallery, sometimes the municipal buildings, and are held in trust pending an application being received by us from the person entitled to hold them.

"The Honorable the Minister has instructed that I inform you that he will esteem it a favor if you will approach the authorities governing the municipal matters of Boston and ask that they will accept, and hold in trust, the medals and memorials of the late Leslie Orr and although the minister does not desire in any way to anticipate or influence the decision of the municipal authorities it has been felt wise to forward the medals and memorials to you so that it can be clearly understood exactly what is required. If it is decided that the medals, etc., cannot be accepted in trust then I shall be glad, if in due course they are returned to me. If it is decided that they are to be accepted and any of the American newspapers comment on the action taken by the Boston authorities it will be esteemed a favor if you will arrange for copies of such papers to be forwarded to me so that the reports can be placed on record in New Zealand.

"Thanking you in anticipation.

C. H. CLEMENS,
Chief Clerk

(in absence of Officer-in-Charge),
War Accounts and Records Office."

In this connection I have to state that, so far as can be learned, the few people in and around Wellington who knew this young man prior to or after his enlistment have absolutely no knowledge of the whereabouts of any members of his family or of any other near relations, so that it seems next to impossible, at this long distance to ascertain anything of a definite nature concerning his next of kin, either living or dead.

It is respectfully suggested that before definitely approaching the appropriate municipal authorities of Boston regarding the acceptance of the medals and memorials issued in honor of the soldier, as suggested by the Minister of Defence, it might be well to endeavor to obtain information concerning the family or other relatives of the deceased, in which case it would perhaps be deemed proper to have the medals and memorials handed to them. Failing this, it would be much appreciated if the department should take the necessary steps through such channels as are thought most suitable, to carry out the wishes of the Minister of Defence by arranging for the acceptance of these insignias by the Boston municipal authorities in the manner suggested by him or as seems most appropriate to them.

The memorials and medals above referred to are being sent under separate cover.

It is requested that the department inform this Consulate General at its earliest convenience of the action taken in the matter.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

EDWIN N. GUNSAULUS,
Consul General.

Sent under separate cover (registered):
(1) British War Medal, with ribbon;
(2) Victory Medal with ribbon; (3) Plaque and scroll; (4) Certificates (two).
